INTRODUCTION

The National Committee for Mental Hygiene is pledged among other things "to work for the conservation of mental health and to help raise the standards of care and treatment for those suffering from mental disorder." As a contribution toward these purposes, it presents this volume, summarizing the laws relating to the commitment and care of the insane in the United States.

From their very nature mental disorders have always been made the subject of public supervision and therefore of legislation. In their inception, the laws relating to the insane merely intended to safeguard the public against a class of unfortunates who were considered dangerous to others. With the modern conception of the mentally disordered as sick persons who are amenable to treatment, and whose ailments are more or less preventable, has arisen a new body of legislation which seeks to realize higher ideals. These ideals must be reached primarily by aid of wise laws, for not only are most of the mentally sick charges thrown upon public support, but mental infirmity involves a peculiar separation from society of uncertain duration, and this separation brings questions of personal liberty, property rights, guardianship, supervision, etc., all of which are matters for legal regulation. To deal more adequately with the problem of insanity is, therefore, first of all a question of adjusting our laws to meet the many perplexing sides it presents.

It is a common observation that states with highly developed systems for the care and treatment of the insane also have the best and most complete laws on the subject. On the other hand, where standards of care are comparatively low and the provisions for the mentally ill inadequate, one is as certain to find the laws rudimentary and insufficient. In short, the insanity laws reflect with much fidelity the status of public care given the insane.

In view of the great importance of the legislation under consideration, it deserves far more public attention than is given it. Each one of the forty-eight states of the Union has its body of laws in regard to the care and commitment of the insane. Although there are not forty-eight different systems of laws, since some states have been content to copy general features from other states, there is a bewildering diversity of legislation, showing all stages of development or lack of development in the care of the insane. The insanity laws as they stand to-day impress one, beyond the fact that so many of them are wholly inadequate, as the product of hasty, unsystematic tinkering. Very few constitute a well-rounded whole or bear marks of far-sighted study. Indeed, most of the laws are built upon ancient structures to which additions have been made as exigencies arose. Perhaps the most characteristic thing about the insanity laws is that they are constantly being mended and amended.

For the greater part the laws present a chaotic mass, which it is exceedingly difficult to survey. To reduce it to comparable dimensions has been the task. The National Committee for Mental Hygiene believes that, in presenting these summaries, it is performing a service which conforms to its programme. By setting forth systematically what the laws of the different states prescribe in regard to the insane and the various provisions made for them, a comparative study of legislation is made possible, which should prove useful alike to the legislator, to those specifically charged with the supervision and care of the insane, and to all persons interested. If better systems and higher standards and, above all, general uniformity in legislation are to be attained, the first step is an exposition in convenient form of existing laws. This and little more the present publication would supply.

The summaries cover the existing laws in each state, including Alaska and the District of Columbia. The legal provisions made for the insane outside of Continental United States have not been considered. The summaries are based upon a first-hand examination of the present codes and statutes of the respective states, ending with first half of the year 1917.

In order to present the summaries in a convenient form for comparisons between states in regard to the most important provisions of the laws, it was necessary to adopt a uniform scheme. Therefore the extracts of the laws of the different states are given under specified headings regardless of the fact that the codes and statutes follow a different order of presentation.

The matter contained in the summaries has been gathered under the following general heads:

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION.
 - a. General.
 - b. Institutional.
2. CARE.
 - a. In state institutions.
 - b. In local institutions.
3. COMMITMENT.
 - a. Persons committed.
 - b. Legal procedure in commitment.
 - c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment.

e. Cost of commitment.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE.

In a useful summary of state systems of care of the insane belongs, self-evidently, a statement not only of institutional management, but of general administration and supervision. Therefore, the composition, general powers and duties of state boards of insanity, state boards of charities and corrections and other supervisory bodies are given in some detail. It also seemed desirable to outline briefly what the laws prescribe in regard to institutional management.

The portions of the law contained under divisions 3, 6 and 8 have been summarized with due regard to details as they are of special importance. The original text has been followed as closely as possible. Briefer statements could have been obtained by greater avoidance of the language of the statutes, but not without a definite loss and perhaps the bewilderment of persons familiar with the laws of their own state. A great mass of mere verbiage has been excluded. The prescriptions concerning forms of records, interrogatories, etc., were wholly omitted as lacking in general interest and making for inordinate length.

A few codes make much of prescriptions that in most instances are left to the discretion of boards of managers of hospitals, for instance, in regard to postal facilities for patients and the like. Matters of this kind were usually omitted, likewise the often very lengthy enactments concerning bookkeeping, financial statements, forms of reports, etc.

The unequal emphasis placed by the codes upon the obviously important and obviously unimportant is necessarily reflected in the summaries; and, from the point of view of some persons, things may have been omitted which they regard as significant. This was unavoidable as the views of individuals in this respect differ. It is believed, however, that the essentials of the laws have been faithfully stated.

Of course in many instances the laws of certain states contain enactments of which counterparts are not found in others. This accounts for the blanks under some headings. In other instances, apparent omissions mean that the matters in question have not been made the object of general legislation, but are left to the regulation of the boards of trustees of the hospitals or other officials.

Although the criminal insane are relatively few, the legal provisions in regard to them have been stated in some detail because the importance of the subject is more and more being recognized.

The numbers in the margin make it possible at once to refer to the original code or statute from which the section in question was taken. For the greater part the different paragraphs have not been furnished with sub-heads. The general headings make it clear what they deal with, so that the reader will have little difficulty in orienting himself.

PREFACE TO REVISION OF 1917

As many states have made changes in their statutes, a new edition of this work seems desirable in order that the latest information may be available. Only minor changes have been made in the plan of the work. A directory of state institutions for the insane has been included, so that the possessor of the book may have that information at hand without consulting some other document. A new section has been added relative to voluntary admission. This is a subject of increasing importance, many states now recognizing the desirability of allowing patients to seek help in this way.

Attention is invited to the growing tendency in legislation to lessen the rigors of commitment and to emphasize the medical rather than the legal aspects of insanity in providing relief for those afflicted with mental diseases.

Amendments of 1915

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. There is in Alabama no central administrative or supervisory board of charitable institutions. There is, however, a corporation under the name of "The Alabama Insane Hospitals" that manages and controls the two state hospitals for the insane and any other allied state institutions, such as those for the care and treatment of epileptics, feeble-minded, inebriates, and the like, that may at any time be confided to it by law.

Board of trustees.
Code.
839.
841.
842.

The corporation, or board of trustees, consists of seven members, each member holding office for seven years. The governor is ex-officio the presiding officer of the board. Four of the trustees must be licensed physicians; three must reside near the Bryce Hospital; two, convenient to the Mount Vernon Hospital. They receive no salary but are allowed their traveling expenses while on official business. Vacancies are filled by the board itself, subject to confirmation of the senate.

The board reviews and investigates the affairs of the hospitals, and must annually prepare and transmit to the governor a full report of the wants, interests, conditions, receipts, and expenditures of the hospitals for the preceding fiscal year. It prepares a book of rules for the government and instruction of the employees of the hospitals.

For the immediate government and control of the hospitals, the board of trustees elects a superintendent, who is the executive officer of the board, for a term of not less than eight years, and determines his salary. The superintendent may be removed from office by the board of trustees for just cause. The superintendent, subject to the approval of the trustees, appoints all the assistant physicians, stewards, managers, supervisors, nurses, and other employees of the hospitals. He has power to remove any of them from the employ of the hospitals at his discretion.

Superintendent.
847.

848.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. Each hospital is under the direct supervision of an assistant superintendent, who is responsible to the general superintendent. (See a. General.)

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

The Bryce Hospital, Tuscaloosa; established 1860; 1,800 beds. (For whites exclusively.)

The Mount Vernon Hospital, Mount Vernon; established 1902; 1,000 beds. (For negroes exclusively.)

The criminal insane are received at both hospitals.

b. In local institutions. The court of county commissioners has the duty of supporting the poor of their county, including the insane who can not be maintained at the state hospitals. The poorhouses in which the insane may be kept are under the management of the court of county commissioners.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. A person is defined as insane and therefore suitable for commitment to a state hospital if he has been found by a proper court deficient or defective mentally so that for his own or others' welfare his removal is required for restraint, care, and treatment.

855. The superintendent is authorized, when the hospitals are crowded to accept only those patients that are offensively troublesome or dangerous to their own welfare and to decline those that are harmless or helpless. He may arrange with the probate judges to exchange harmless patients in the hospital for those that are dangerous.

Application. 857. b. Legal procedure in commitment. Application for the admission of a person to the insane hospital must be made to the judge of probate in the county in which the alleged insane person resides. If the judge of probate after due investigation finds the case a suitable one, he must make application to the superintendent for the admission of the patient, accompanying it with full and explicit answers to prescribed interrogatories concerning the patient. When informed by the superintendent that the person can be received as a patient, the judge of probate must call witnesses, at least one of whom must be a physician, and fully investigate the facts of the case, either with or without a jury, and either with or without the presence in the court of the person in question. If the judge or the jury believe the person is sufficiently defective mentally to be sent to a hospital for insane persons, the judge must make two copies of the certificate of the mental disqualifications, without which no person may be admitted, one of which is to be filed in his office, and the other to be sent with the patient to the hospital.

Investigation. 859. c. Voluntary admission.

Insane person defined. 854.

Application. 857.

Investigation. 859.

d. Appeal from commitment. At any time after an inquisition for guardianship, the person ascertained to be of unsound mind, by himself, or by next friend, may apply in writing to the court of probate for a revocation of the proceedings, the application to be accompanied by the certificate of two physicians, or of two other competent persons, stating that after examination of such person, they believe him to be of sound mind. Not more than ten days thereafter, a hearing must be held. Revocation of proceedings. 4352.

If the allegations of the application are denied, the court must summon a jury to try the case; and the same proceedings must be had as upon the original inquisition. If there is no contest, and the court is satisfied of the truth of the application, he must revoke the proceedings on the inquisition and the guardianship, and declare the ward restored to the custody and management of his estate. Jury trial. 4354.

If the verdict of the jury negatives the facts cited in the application, a judgment of dismissal, at the cost of the applicant, or next friend, must be entered. 4355.

Any person who is restrained of liberty under any pretense whatsoever, may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus. Habeas corpus. 7007.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of commitment and of transportation to the hospital must be paid by the county treasury in the case of an indigent person.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The judge of probate must require a relative, friend or officer, as he sees fit, to convey the patient to the hospital. 860.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent may grant friends or relatives permission to remove from the hospital on trial at their expense any harmless patient whom he thinks it will benefit. Such a patient may be returned by friends or those in charge, but at the expiration of six months, if the patient has not been returned, he shall be regarded as discharged and readmission can not be obtained without the same legal process as if the patient never had been admitted. Parole. 868.

When a patient has been restored to a normal and comparatively safe and good mental condition sufficiently long to warrant the opinion by the superintendent that he ought to be returned to his home, or set at large again, the superintendent must inform the friends or relatives of the patient's recovery, and if they do not furnish the money to pay the traveling expenses, he must notify the judge of probate of the county, and the commissioners of the county Discharge. 867.

then pay out of the county treasury the necessary expenses for the return of the patient to his home.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Indigents.
861. The judge of probate must examine the financial standing of the person adjudged insane, and if he has not sufficient means to pay for his support at the hospital, it must be so stated in the certificate of admission and the expense is then borne by the state. When a Non-indigents.
862. patient or his parents or guardians possess means, or his relatives or friends care to provide for his support, the judge of probate must contract with responsible parties for the payment quarterly in advance of the amount chargeable for such patients, and cause a bond with sufficient surety to be made. The judge of probate from each county must from time to time at his own instance, if his attention is drawn to it by the superintendent or other person, investigate the financial standing of any indigent patient in the hospital from his county; and if he finds him able to pay for his support, he must, under penalty of having the patient returned at the county's expense to his home, contract with responsible parties for the payment in question. The judge of probate can transfer a paying patient who has become indigent to the indigent class.

865.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Commitment.
872. No criminal or person indicted for crime, who has been declared insane, may be sent to an insane hospital until the sheriff or other officer having legal custody of said patient has forwarded to the superintendent an application and a description of the case, according to the form prescribed for judges of probate, together with a certified copy of the order of the court.

Insane convicts.
871. When any person sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary or to hard labor becomes insane, the physician in attendance must report the fact to the governor, who must appoint three suitable persons, one of them a physician, to examine the convict, and if they declare him insane and fit to be sent to the hospital, application must be directed for his admission. When any insane convict is brought to the hospital, instructions must always be given to whom his recovery is to be reported. Upon recovery of such a patient the proper officer must be notified and immediately remove him.

873.

7179. A death sentence may be suspended during the determination of the sanity of a convict.

ALASKA

Authority:

Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1913

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. There is no general administrative board of charitable institutions. The legally adjudged insane of the territory are under the general supervision of the secretary of the department of the interior at Washington, D. C.

b. Institutional. The private sanitarium to which the insane and mentally defective of the territory are committed is visited and inspected at regular intervals and occasionally is subjected to special investigation by agents of the United States department of the interior. The detention hospitals at Fairbanks and Nome are under the control of the United States marshal of the district in which they are situated.

2. CARE

a. In territorial institutions. The territory has no hospital for the insane. The secretary of the interior receives bids for the care and custody of those adjudged insane and contracts at his discretion for their care with some hospital or sanitarium west of the Rocky Mountains. For several years Morningside Hospital, a private institution near Portland, Oregon, has cared for these patients.

By contract.
Compiled Laws.
830.

b. In local institutions. At Fairbanks and Nome are detention hospitals for the care of the insane until they are transported to the States.

Detention hospitals.
832.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Any legally adjudged insane person in the territory may be given care at the hospital with which the government has its contract.

831.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Complaint in writing may be made by any adult person that an insane person is at large. This complaint is made to a commissioner appointed by the judge of the district court to have probate jurisdiction. The commissioner has the alleged insane person brought before him and tries the issue before a jury of six male adults. Some person must be appointed to represent the alleged insane person and if a physician or surgeon is in the vicinity and can be procured he examines the patient and testifies. If the jury unanimously finds that the person charged is

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person imprisoned or restrained except by virtue of a judgment or execution is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus.

e. Cost of commitment. All costs approved by the district judge are paid by the clerk of the court.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The United States marshal of the district in which the proceedings are held conveys the patient to the hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Parole.

While the contract of the department of the interior with the hospital does not specifically provide for the release of persons on parole, it is the uniform practice of the department to parole Alaskan patients in the custody of their friends or relatives when their condition warrants, requiring the supplying of a satisfactory bond for the safe care and custody of the patient.

Discharge.

The patient is detained "until duly discharged by law," the government furnishing transportation and expenses back to Alaska for any patient discharged as cured.

ARIZONA

Authorities:

Revised Statutes of Arizona, 1913

Laws of Arizona, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The commission of state institutions is composed of three electors appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and holding office at his pleasure. Not more than two members may be of the same political party. Each commissioner receives an annual salary of $3,000 and necessary traveling expenses, and must devote his entire time to the duties of his office and may not engage in any other occupation. The commission renders an annual report to the governor.

Commission of state institutions.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 80.

The commission has oversight and general control of all charitable, reformatory, penal, and other institutions established and maintained by the state. It employs a secretary at an annual salary of $2,400 and such other persons as may be needed. It prescribes uniform systems of records and accounts, and must keep in its office a complete record of all transactions at each of the institutions under its jurisdiction. The entire commission must visit and inspect each institution at least once in six months and a member must visit and inspect each institution at least once in thirty days.

The commission appoints and discharges the chief officers of each of the state institutions. Except where appointed by the commission, the superintendent or chief executive officer of each state institution appoints and discharges all of his assistants, the number being determined by the commission. All salaries are fixed by the commission unless otherwise provided by law. The commission purchases all supplies for the state institutions, has charge of the erection of new buildings and of all repairs and improvements.

No member shall receive gift from an individual or firm with which the commission does business, nor shall a member or employee of the commission attempt to influence the political views of other members or employees or contribute anything for political purposes. The commission has the power to bring suit, to summon and examine witnesses and to compel the production and examination of books and papers; and any person failing to obey the orders of the commission in this connection shall be dealt with by the Superior Court as for contempt of court.

Superintendent.

b. Institutional. There is no local board of trustees. The superintendent of the state hospital is appointed by the commission. He may, under the control of the commission, appoint all assistants and employees.

2. CARE.

a. In state institutions.

Arizona State Hospital, Phoenix; established 1886; 500 beds.

b. In local institutions.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons are entitled to admission to the state hospital. Pay patients may be received under rates established by the commission of state institutions.

Application.
Revised
statutes.
1199.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The superior judge of any county, upon a sworn application that a person by reason of insanity is dangerous if at large, must cause the person to be brought before him for examination and summon two or more witnesses acquainted with the accused at the time of the alleged insanity. He must also call in one or more graduates of medicine and reputable practitioners to be present at the hearing, and after a personal examination of the accused to make a written statement under oath in regard to his mental condition, whether it is unsafe to let him go at large and whether his insanity is likely to prove permanent or only temporary. If the proofs satisfy the judge that the person is insane and can not safely be allowed at large, he must direct the confinement of such person in the hospital for the insane until sufficiently restored to reason.

Examination.

c. Voluntary admission.

Habeas corpus.
1227.

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person unlawfully committed or restrained of his liberty may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of the restraint, by petition, signed either by the party for whose relief it is intended or by some person in his behalf. Such writ may be granted by the supreme court or any district court.

1200.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of the commitment of an insane person must be borne by him if he has sufficient estate. If he is indigent, the cost is chargeable to the county from which he was sent.

1200.

The board of supervisors of each county must cause insane persons to be conveyed to the hospital for the insane and provide meanwhile for their safe-keeping and care. The board of supervisors of counties are authorized, when necessary, to contract with the lowest responsible bidder for the transportation of insane persons of their counties to the hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent has authority to release on parole patients not of a suicidal or homicidal tendency and who may be in a state of convalescence, upon application of their relatives or friends, who are required to give bond guaranteeing their proper care and maintenance and their return to the hospital if necessary, and to keep the superintendent informed each month of the mental and physical condition of the patients. Parole by the superintendent.

The commission of state institutions may by order discharge any patient who is not insane nor a proper case for treatment, under such regulations and rules as it may prescribe. Any poor and indigent patient discharged by the superintendent or upon the order of the commission because he is an idiot, an imbecile, not insane, or because he is not a proper case for treatment within the meaning of the law, must be returned to the care of the county from which he was committed. Every cured and discharged indigent patient must be furnished by the superintendent with $5 in cash, a suit of clothes and a half-fare ticket on any railroad or railway within the state. Discharge by the board.

Any person who has been declared insane, or the guardian, or any relative within the third degree, or any friend, may petition the probate judge of the county in which the person was declared insane, to have the fact of his restoration judicially determined. The judge must appoint a day for the hearing, and, if the petitioner request it, order the investigation before a jury, notice of the trial having been given to the guardian of the petitioner, to his or her husband or wife, and to his or her father or mother, if living in the country. The guardian or relative of the petitioner, and, in the discretion of the judge, any other person, may contest the right of the petitioner to the relief demanded. If the petitioner is found of sound mind and capable of taking care of himself and his property, his restoration to capacity must be declared, and the guardianship of such person, if he is not a minor, ceases. By the superintendent.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The probate judge may at any time inquire into the ability of any insane person committed by him to bear the expenses of his maintenance while in custody. If the insane person is able to pay the charges or any portion of them, the judge must appoint a guardian for him, authorized to control all his property, and to pay from the proceeds of it the cost of his maintenance. Indigent 1201.
Non-indigents.

Indigents. insane persons are maintained at the hospital at the expense of the state.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

County convicts. Penal Code. 1265. 1267. Whenever a person confined in any county jail in the state upon a conviction for a misdemeanor shows symptoms of insanity, the sheriff must immediately notify the county physician to examine the person, and, if in his judgment the person is insane, an examination into his insanity must be held as provided by law. If found insane the person must be committed to the hospital for the insane.

State convicts. 1446. When a prisoner confined in the state prison shows symptoms of insanity, the prison physician must examine him and finding him insane, must report to the superintendent. The superintendent must communicate at once with the nearest legal authority having jurisdiction concerning persons alleged to be insane, and thereafter all proceedings must conform to the law governing such cases. If the person is found insane, the superintendent of the prison must send him at once to the hospital for the insane, at the cost of the state. The superintendent of the hospital must render, quarterly, to the superintendent of the prison, a report of the condition of the person, and when he has so far recovered as to be able to continue service in the prison without further risk, he must be returned to serve any unexpired time. If his term of sentence has expired while in the hospital, the superintendent of the prison must forward him his legal discharge from the prison.

Under sentence of death. 1841. 1142. 1143. 1144. If, after judgment of death, there is good reason to suppose that the defendant has become insane, a jury of twelve persons may be summoned to inquire into the supposed insanity. The district attorney must attend the inquisition. If the defendant is found insane, the superintendent of the state prison must suspend the execution of the judgment until he receives a warrant from the judge of the court in which judgment was rendered, directing the execution of the judgment. If the defendant is found sane, the superintendent of the state hospital must immediately notify the governor, who must issue a warrant appointing a day for the execution of the judgment.

Criminal insane. 1269. If doubt arises as to the sanity of a defendant in a criminal case, the court must order the question as to his sanity to be submitted to a jury. If the jury find the defendant insane, the trial or judgment must be suspended until he becomes sane, and the court must order that he be committed to the state hospital and detained there until he becomes sane. When he becomes sane, the defendant must be taken from the hospital and placed in proper custody until he is brought to trial or judgment or legally discharged.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of control for state charitable institutions is composed of three members, appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. Each member serves for six years, the terms being so arranged that an appointment is made to the board biennially. The annual salary of members, who are required to give full time to their official duties, is $2,500. The board appoints a secretary, who is required simply to be a bookkeeper and to keep a correct record of the proceedings. It reports to the governor biennially.

Board of control.
Digest.
4667.

The board is placed in full charge of all state charitable institutions, which include the hospital for the insane, the school for the feeble-minded, the Confederate home, the school for the blind, and the deaf mute institute. It has no supervision over insane or feeble-minded persons in private institutions or in jails or other local institutions, nor does its power extend to the state or local penal or reformatory institutions.

4721.

The board appoints the superintendent and steward and purchases all supplies for the institutions over which it exercises control. The records of the board are open to the inspection of the governor and all persons whom he or the legislature may appoint to examine them. The board is required to visit the institutions under its control at least monthly.

4723.

The governor may at any time appoint a suitable person to examine the affairs of any institution.

4673.

b. Institutional. There is no local board of trustees. The superintendent, who is appointed by the board of control, must be a skilful physician. He appoints and removes all subordinate officers and employees allowed by the board. His duties in regard to records, accounts, and the general care of the institution and its inmates are prescribed in detail.

Superintendent.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

State Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Little Rock; established 1882; 2,050 beds.

The statutes require that negro patients shall be treated in separate wards or departments.

1140. b. In local institutions. Each county must provide in the county poorhouse, where such has been established, for its own indigent insane who can not be admitted to the state hospital, and the county court has the duty of looking after them. Insane persons may be confined in county or city jails. (See 3. b.)

3. COMMITMENT

4753. a. Persons committed. Any citizen or resident of the state who becomes insane may be admitted to the state hospital as a patient, proper proof having been made and proceedings had according to the law. All inmates of the Arkansas Confederate Home who become insane and have been declared so by the physician in charge are entitled to care and treatment in the state hospital.

Classification of insane persons.
4753.

All persons found to be insane, for whom application for admission to the state hospital is made, are classified as "acute," "chronic," "probably incurable," or "incurable." All cases of less than one year's duration from first recognized symptoms of insanity are classified as "acute"; all cases of over one year's duration as "chronic"; all cases complicated with epilepsy, original imbecility or feeble-mindedness, deformities of skull from injuries, old age or paralysis as "probably incurable"; and all other cases as "incurable"; provided, that no person, whether curable or not, and whether the imbecility or insanity be idiotic or congenital or not, may be refused admission as long as there is unoccupied room for patients in the hospital.

Hearing.

Examination.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Upon a written statement filed by any reputable citizen of the state with the county and probate judge alleging that any person is entitled to admission to the state hospital for the insane, the county or probate judge must appoint a time as soon as practicable to hear the testimony of witnesses, and must cause the insane person to be examined separately by two reputable, competent and disinterested physicians, who shall severally present to the county judge a sworn statement of the result of their examinations. If the judge finds the person insane, he must without delay transmit to the superintendent of the state hospital his decision in writing, with copies of the original statement filed with him by the citizen, and the statement of the physicians including interrogatories and answers. The superintendent of the state hospital must thereupon immediately notify the judge of his readiness to admit the insane person. If there is no room, he must notify the judge, and return to him the documents in the case. But in such instances, the name and county of the insane person must be recorded at the hospital in the order in which the decision of the judge was received, and he is entitled to precedence over all who may apply for admission later.

Insane persons found at large, and not in the care of some discreet person, must be arrested by any peace officer and taken before a magistrate of the county, city, or town in which the arrest is made, who shall make the necessary orders to keep him in restraint until he can be sent to the state hospital. If the insane person has no friends to whose custody the magistrate can commit him, he may order him to be confined in the county or city jail, giving immediate notice to the county judge or city attorney, whose duty it is to take the proper proceedings for having the insane person sent to the hospital.

Insane persons

4547.

Immediately after the appointment by the court of a guardian for an insane person, the guardian must take steps to have the person thus placed in his charge admitted into the state hospital.

Duty of guardians.
4510.

If any person is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger his own person, or the person or property of others, his guardian, or other person under whose care he may be, must confine him in some suitable place until the next term of the probate court for his county, which shall make such order for his restraint, support and safe-keeping as the circumstances shall require. The judge or justice may order such confinement. Any judge of a court of record, or any two justices of the peace of the county may cause such insane person to be arrested, and may employ any person to confine him in some suitable place until the court makes further order.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment.

e. Cost of commitment. Each county in the state is chargeable for all expenses of commitment, delivery to and removal from the state hospital of persons resident in the respective counties, and must reimburse the sheriff for money deposited with the superintendent for deficiencies of clothing of patients.

Charged to the county.
4758.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The sheriff of any county, or any person deputized by the judge and directed to arrest and deliver to the superintendent of the state hospital any insane person, must execute the warrant or order without delay, and may call to his assistance a physician, nurse or other person whom the judge may indicate as necessary, and shall deliver the person without unnecessary force, restraint or publicity by the most direct and practicable route and method of travel. All females who have been adjudged insane must be accompanied to the state hospital by at least one female attendant.

4744.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

Acts of 1917,
ch. 172.
2, 3.

The state board of control for charitable institutions may transfer to the school for the feeble-minded, with the consent of its superintendent, any feeble-minded inmates of the state hospital for nervous diseases as may be more appropriately taken care of in the school.

3.

The superintendent of the state school for the feeble-minded may select and requisition from other state institutions such of their feeble-minded inmates as he considers most suitable for transfer, with due regard both to the welfare of the inmate and the benefit of the state.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Parole.
Digest.
4766.

The superintendent of a state hospital may parole for six months any patient not convicted under a criminal charge nor transferred from a penitentiary or reform school if the patient is harmless to himself and the community; on written application he may extend this parole for another six months. At the end of the twelve months the patient may be discharged as recovered or held for further treatment. A responsible person may agree to give the patient proper care during the parole period and return him to the hospital without expense to the county.

Discharge.
4767.

When there is no available room in the hospital, the superintendent must, as soon as practicable, in order to make room for the admission of a patient suffering from an "acute" form of insanity, discharge some inmate belonging to the "incurable" class, if there is such, or one belonging to the "probably incurable" class if there is no one dischargeable from the "incurable" class, or one belonging to the "chronic" class if there is no one dischargeable from the "probably incurable" class. In making a selection for discharge the superintendent must choose one who has been longest in the hospital, if not violent or dangerous to the community, or whose discharge will effect the least possible inconvenience or cost. No appeal may be had from the decision of the superintendent in matters of admission and discharge of inmates, except to the board of control who may direct the superintendent to admit or discharge any person under any circumstances not involving a violation of law.

Superintendent may discharge, to make room for another.

When by reason of recovery or necessity for the benefit of an insane person of the "acute" class the superintendent of the state hospital thinks proper to discharge any inmate, he must notify the county and probate judge of the county from which the inmate was committed who shall then direct the removal of the inmate without delay to his guardian or home. If the patient has no guardian or home he must be delivered to such person and place in the county as may be provided for his further custody and maintenance, if he be not recovered and capable of taking care of himself. An inmate of the hospital having recovered his reason may unofficially be removed from the hospital by consent of the superintendent, or by his friends with consent of the superintendent, or by direction of the board of control. But notice of removal must be sent at once to the county or probate judge of the county from which the person was removed or committed.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Any indigent citizen or resident of the state, duly found to be insane, may be maintained at the state hospital at the public expense until removed. If he has been found to possess estate more than sufficient for the support of his natural dependents, his guardian must pay for his maintenance and care at the hospital, and remove him when so required and notified by the president of the board of control and superintendent of the hospital. Indigent persons who are not able to pay have preference over those who are able to pay.

By estate.
4747.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

The superintendent of the state hospital, upon the certificate of the judge before whom the case is pending upon presentment or indictment, must admit any person who has been acquitted upon a plea of insanity or any person who has been adjudged insane, when he has been held upon presentment or indictment and can not be tried because of insanity. Any person so admitted must be kept at the hospital until restored to reason. Upon his recovery, the superintendent must notify the sheriff of the county in which the indictment or presentment is pending, who shall convey him back to the jail of said county, or hold him in custody until discharged according to law.

Discharge.

When the penitentiary physician ascertains that any convict confined in the state penitentiary or reform school is insane, he must certify the fact to the superintendent of the penitentiary or school who, by and with the advice and consent of the board of control, must transfer him to the state hospital. If the convict recovers, the superintendent must certify the fact to the superintendent of the penitentiary or school. The time the convict may have spent in the hospital is credited as time served under his sentence.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of control consists of three members appointed by the governor and holding office at his pleasure. The governor designates the chairman and fills all vacancies; the board appoints its secretary and other paid employees. The members receive an annual salary of $4,000.

It is the duty of the board to examine the books of all state institutions, bureaus, commissions, and officers, to visit every public institution maintained in whole or in part by the state and all public buildings in course of construction. The board, with the consent of the governor, has the power to authorize the creation of deficiencies in cases of actual necessity; it also has the power to sell or exchange any property of the state, except real estate; and all claims against the state must be approved by it. The board has general supervision over all matters concerning the financial and business policies of the state, approves all state contracts for the purchase of supplies and materials, and, through its department of public accounting, maintains a uniform system of accounting and reporting for all public accounts and records. The board reports biennially to the legislature.

The state board of charities and corrections is composed of six members, not more than three of whom may be from the same political party, appointed by the governor for terms of twelve years without salary. Women may be appointed. The board must investigate and report upon all charitable and correctional institutions of the state, counties, cities and towns. All persons in charge of such institutions are required to furnish the board such information and statistics as it may request. The board may prescribe the forms of reports and records by the state commission in lunacy. All plans for buildings for public institutions must be submitted to the board. The board has power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the production of books and papers, relating to public institutions. The board makes a biennial report to the governor.

A commission in lunacy, consisting of the general superintendent of the state hospitals, the secretary of the state board of health, the three members of the state board of control, and the governor, secretary of state, and attorney general, ex-officio, exercises general supervision over the state hospitals for the insane. The general superintendent of state hospitals is appointed by the governor for a term of four years, and may not hold any other office. His salary is $5,000. He must be a reputable physician, a graduate of an incorporated medical college, and have had at least ten years' actual practice in his profession as well as six years' experience in the care and treatment of the insane, at least one year of which must have been spent in the state hospitals. He must fully inspect every state hospital at least twice each year.

General
superintendent.
2137.

2143.

The commission is authorized, among other things, to appoint an accountant for the hospitals and to inquire into their general condition and management; to fix the annual salaries of the resident officers and treasurers of the hospitals, which must be uniform for all, and to classify other officers and employees and determine their salaries; to determine the kind and character of all employees in state hospitals. The commission must examine the condition and management of all public and private institutions receiving and caring for the insane; adopt rules and regulations, books of record, blank forms, etc., for all hospitals; keep a record of each duly qualified medical examiner and of all inmates of hospitals; cause the books and accounts of the hospitals to be examined at least once in six months; report and recommend to the legislature the necessary prospective needs for the care and treatment of the poor and indigent insane; and, for the purpose of preventing over-crowding, make suitable recommendations to the legislature; furnish the legislature an estimate of the probable number of patients who will become inmates of the respective state hospitals during the two years beginning July first, next ensuing, and the cost of all additional buildings and equipments; and report to the legislature its acts and proceedings. The commission has power to investigate cases of alleged wrongful detention of insane or their improper treatment, and may for this purpose exercise the powers conferred upon the referee in a superior court. At an investigation into the general management of any hospital for the insane, the commission may notify the attorney general, who must participate personally or by a deputy. The commission may at any time visit and examine the inmates of any almshouse to ascertain if insane persons are kept there.

No private institution for the care and treatment of the insane may be established without first obtaining a license from the commission. Application for a license must be accompanied by plans and other information, in such form as the commission may require.

Private
hospitals.
2196.

Before granting a license, the commission must inspect the place and, after inquiry, amend or revoke any license. Private institutions for the care and treatment of the insane must keep records in the same manner and form as prescribed for the state hospitals. For violating the provisions of law in regard to private institutions for the insane, a penalty may be imposed of imprisonment for six months, or a fine of $1,000, or both.

Board of managers.
2147.

b. Institutional. Each of the hospitals for the insane is under a board of five managers, appointed by the governor for terms of four years. Failure on the part of a manager to attend the regular meetings of his board unless ill or absent from the state makes his office vacant. Subject to the powers of the state commission in lunacy, each board of managers has general control and direction of the property and concerns of its hospital. Subject to the approval of the commission, the board must make laws and regulations in regard to the duties of officers and employees; visit the hospital at least every month (the attendance of the majority is required); and make detailed reports of visits and inspections to the commission in lunacy. No money may be expended by the managers for additional buildings or unusual repairs except upon plans and specifications approved by the commission.

2151.

2152.

superintendent.

Each board of managers appoints for the hospital under its control a medical superintendent (subject to an examination under the direction of the general superintendent), and a treasurer. The former must be a graduate of an incorporated medical college and a well-educated physician, who has had not less than three years' experience in the care and treatment of the insane. The medical superintendent appoints, with power of removal, by and with the consent of the board of managers: a supervisor, matron and steward and all employees; the necessary assistant physicians and internes, as may be determined by the commission. At least one of the assistants in each of the state hospitals must be a woman. The assistant physicians must have had actual experience in the care and treatment of the insane, and before appointment are required to pass an examination conducted by the medical superintendent. Any officer or employee of a state hospital taking active part in politics, directly or indirectly, may be summarily removed by the commission upon written charges, under oath, made by three or more reputable citizens.

Mendocino State Hospital, Talmage; established 1893; 1,150 beds.

Southern California State Hospital, Patton; established 1893; 2,000 beds.

Norwalk State Hospital, Norwalk; established 1914; 233 beds.

b. In local institutions. Chronic harmless and other insane who are not suitable patients in the state hospital may be cared for in county hospitals or almshouses, which are under the boards of supervisors of the county. By counties.
2167.

The board of supervisors of each county, and city and county, must maintain a suitable room or rooms for the detention, care and treatment of alleged insane persons, for a period of not less than one nor more than twenty days. Detention.
Rooms.

All peace officers and other persons having duties relative to the insane poor must see to it that all poor and indigent insane persons within their municipalities are speedily granted relief, and when ordered by a superior judge must cause them to be transferred without unnecessary delay to the proper state hospitals.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for the insane; but no case of idiocy, imbecility, epilepsy, harmless chronic mental unsoundness, feeble-mindedness or acute mania from drinking may be committed to the state hospitals, except when the person has become insane. 2175a.

The commission in lunacy may inquire into the manner in which any insane person not confined in a state hospital is cared for, and may apply to a judge of the superior court for commitment to a state hospital. 2177.

If a poor or indigent person who has not been a legal resident of the state for a period of at least one year, is ordered to be committed to a state hospital, the commission may return him to the country or state to which he belongs. Deportation.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The superior judge of each county, or city and county, may grant certificates to medical examiners in accordance with the form prescribed by the commission, showing that the persons named are reputable physicians and graduates of incorporated medical colleges, and have been in a tual practice at least five years. There must at all times be at least two such medical examiners in each county. Medical

The judge of the superior court must inform him that he is charged with being insane and of his rights to make a defence, and order a time and place for a hearing of the case and examination in open court. The judge may also order that notice of the arrest and hearing be served upon relatives of said person residing in the county. At least two medical examiners must hear the testimony of all witnesses, make a personal examination of the alleged insane person, and testify before the judge as to the result of the examination, and to other pertinent facts. The judge must examine any other proper witness who has any knowledge of the mental or financial condition of the alleged insane person or financial condition of the persons liable for his maintenance. The alleged insane person must be present at the hearing, and if he has no attorney, the judge may appoint one to represent him. If the medical examiners believe the person to be dangerously insane, they must make a certificate to that effect in the form prescribed by law, whereupon the judge, if he believes the person so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person or property, must adjudge him insane and issue an order for his confinement in a hospital for the insane, accompanied by a statement as to the financial condition of the insane person or the persons liable for his maintenance. Copies of the order, the certificate of the examiners and accompanying statement must be filed with a county clerk and recorded by him. If a judge refuse to grant an order of commitment of an alleged insane person, any one aggrieved may demand a trial of the question in the manner provided for a jury trial.

2143. c. Voluntary admission. Under rules and regulations established by the state commission in lunacy, the medical superintendent of any state hospital may receive and detain in such state hospital, as a boarder and patient, any suitable person suffering from mental disease, who voluntarily makes a written application to the medical superintendent for admission and who is competent to make such application. A voluntary patient may not be detained for more than seven days after having given notice in writing to the medical superintendent of his desire to leave. Upon the admission of a voluntary patient to a state hospital, the medical superintendent must immediately send the commission in lunacy his record, showing name, residence, age, sex, nativity, occupation, civil condition, date of admission and other information that may be required.

d. Appeal from commitment. If a person ordered to be committed, or any friend in his behalf, is dissatisfied with the order committing him, he may within five days demand that the question of his sanity be tried by a jury before the superior court of the county in which he was committed. The cause against the alleged insane must be represented by the district attorney of the county. The trial is held as provided for the trial of civil causes before a jury, and the alleged insane person must be discharged unless a verdict that he is insane is found by at least three-fourths of the jury. 2174.
Jury trial.

Any one in custody as insane is entitled to the writ of habeas corpus, upon proper application made by the commission, by such person, relative or friend in his behalf, to the superior judge of the county in which the hospital is located. Habeas corpus.
2188.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of determining the insanity of an indigent person and securing his commitment is charged upon the county, or city and county, whence he is committed. If he is not indigent, the costs are charged upon his estate, or to the persons legally liable for his maintenance. If he is adjudged not to be insane, the judge may charge the costs of the proceedings to the person making the application for an order of commitment. The husband, wife, father, mother or children of an insane person, and the guardian of his estate, are liable for the cost and charges of his commitment and transportation to a hospital for the insane. 2175.
2176.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

It is the duty of the sheriff to deliver the insane person together with all documents in his case to the officer in charge of the hospital to which he is committed. No female insane person may be taken to any hospital without the attendance of some other female or of some relative. 2172.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

When the buildings of any hospital are overcrowded or the number is reduced, the commission may transfer the inmates to other institutions. Patients may be transferred at the request of relatives or friends upon agreement to pay the cost of the transfer, if the lunacy commission and the superintendents of the hospitals consent. Inmates of the home for the feeble-minded who become insane may be transferred to a hospital for the insane and persons committed to an insane hospital who are feeble-minded may be transferred to the home for the feeble-minded by the board. The transfer may not relieve any one from liability for the support of any inmate. By the lunacy commission.
Laws of 1917,
ch.184.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Parole.
Political code.
2189.

The superintendent of a hospital may grant parole to a patient for not more than thirty days under provisions prescribed by the commission.

Discharge
by the superintendent.

The superintendent of a state hospital on filing a certificate with the secretary or board of managers may discharge any patient, except one held upon a court order in a criminal action, who has recovered, or one not recovered whose discharge will not be detrimental to public welfare or injurious to himself. The medical superintendent may refuse to discharge any patient as improved unless satisfied that proper care will be provided for him after his discharge. When the superintendent is unwilling to certify to the discharge of an unrecovered patient upon request, any superior judge of the county in which the hospital is situated may, after giving the superintendent an opportunity to be heard, direct the discharge upon such security as he may require for the good behavior and maintenance of the patient.

By the court.

of non-insane.

The medical superintendent of any state hospital may on his own motion, and must on the order of the commission, discharge any patient who is not insane or because he is not a proper case for treatment, or because he is an idiot, imbecile or on account of chronic harmless mental unsoundness or acute mania from drinking. Such a person must be returned to the county from which he was committed at its expense, and if poor and indigent, must be cared for by the county. Any person thus discharged from a state hospital may not again be committed to any state hospital for the insane except upon permission obtained from the medical superintendent.

insane to legal capacity.

When any person committed to a state hospital, and for whom no guardian has been appointed, and who is absent on parole, or who has been discharged as improved, is desirous of being declared sane and restored to legal capacity, he or others on his behalf may make application in writing to the medical superintendent. If satisfied after examination that the person is sane, the medical superintendent must so declare him, and give him a certificate of his recovery, a copy of which is to be forwarded to the commission. If the medical superintendent is unwilling to issue such certificate, the insane person or others on his behalf may petition a judge of the superior court of the county wherein such person resides, asking that he be declared sane. If the court is satisfied, and the jury so decides, the court must adjudge him sane, and the order to that effect must be recorded by the county clerk and certified to the commissioners in lunacy and the proper hospital superintendent. If the court is satisfied, or the jury so decides, the court shall adjudge him to be insane. If the question is tried by a jury, the cause against the insane person must be represented by the district attorney of the county. An appeal may be taken from the decision of the court to the supreme court. If three-fourths of the jury fail to declare the person sane, or the court or jury find him insane, the court must dismiss the case and no new application shall be made for the insane person for six months thereafter. Proceedings of the same kind may be taken whenever a person who has been adjudged to be insane and who has not been committed to a hospital for the insane and who has no guardian, is desirous of being declared sane and restored to legal capacity. Before an order is made for any proceedings for a trial by jury, the persons demanding the same must make a deposit or give a bond for the payment of all costs of the trial, unless in the opinion of the court he is a poor or indigent person.

Patients discharged must be furnished with suitable clothing and money for necessary expenses, not exceeding $25. 2190.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Indigent insane persons are maintained at the state hospitals at the expense of the state. The district attorney in each county must inquire into the ability of a person committed from his county to pay for his support at the state hospital and notify the commission in lunacy of the results. In case any person committed to any state hospital for the insane becomes the owner of property, the secretary of the state commission in lunacy may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a guardian of his estate, which if sufficient is to be used for his support at the hospital. Payment may be enforced by the order of the judge of the superior court. But payment may not be exacted when, in case of the likelihood of such person recovering or being released from the hospital, it will reduce his estate to such an extent that, in the event of his discharge, he is likely to become a burden upon the community. 2178. 2179. 2181.

Pay patients may be received under special agreement with relatives, guardians or friends of patients. 2185.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If a defendant in a criminal case appears to be insane before judgment is pronounced, the question of sanity is submitted to the jury. If found insane he is committed to a state hospital to remain till the superintendent notifies the sheriff and district attorney that the patient has recovered. The patient, upon certificate of recovery approved by the superior judge of the county from which he was committed, is then delivered to the sheriff of the county and dealt with as provided in the penal code. The time spent at the hospital counts as time served on the sentence. 2187. 2189.

1368. When a defendant is acquitted on the ground of insanity the court may summon a jury to inquire whether the insanity continues. If it is so decided, he is committed to the state hospital.

Insane
convicts.

When the warden of one of the state prisons and such other officers as may be designated by the directors of the same to act with him in such cases, believe any convict to be insane, after proper examination, the warden must certify the fact to the superintendent of one of the state hospitals for the insane, and send the convict to the hospital. If at the expiration of the term of sentence the insane convict is still in the hospital, he must be allowed to remain there until discharged as cured. When, in the opinion of the superintendent, the insane convict is cured of insanity, he must notify the directors of the prison and the warden who must receive the convict back into the prison, the time passed at the hospital counting as a part of his sentence. Before discharging a convict who may be insane at the time of the expiration of his sentence, the warden must notify a judge of the superior court of the county in which the prison is located of the fact of such insanity. The court must order the sheriff of the county to take the insane convict before the court. If satisfied after having him examined by medical experts that the convict is insane, the court must order him to be confined in one of the state hospitals.

COLORADO

Authorities:

Mills' Annotated Statutes of Colorado, 1912

Session Laws of Colorado, 1915, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and corrections consists of six persons appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate for a term of six years, two members retiring every two years. The governor is ex-officio a member of the board, and may remove any member of the board. Members of the board receive no compensation, but employ a salaried secretary.

Board of charities and corrections. Statutes. 603.

The board has power to investigate the whole system of public charitable and correctional institutions which derive their support wholly or in part from state, county or municipal appropriation. Officers of such institutions must furnish the board such information, statistical or otherwise as may be demanded. The board must make a biennial report to the governor.

The state board of corrections, composed of three commissioners appointed by the governor for terms of six years, has full control, management, and supervision of the state hospital for the insane, the state penitentiary, and the state reformatory. Each commissioner receives $1,200 per annum and actual expenses.

Board of corrections. Laws of 1915. ch. 52.

The board of corrections has full control and supervision of all the property, grounds and buildings of the state hospital, and its entire government. It prescribes rules and by-laws for the management of the hospital and its inmates, and for the government of its officers and employees, and must make proper provision for the reception, treatment, discharge and transfer, either from or to other institutions or from the hospital to family care and the return therefrom, of all inmates who may be committed to the hospital.

Statutes. 4715.

The probate judges of the several counties appoint for terms of three years six persons, three of whom must be women, to constitute a county board of visitors.

Board of county visitors. 615.

Each board must visit at least once in three months all charitable or corrective institutions that are under county or municipal control and recommend necessary changes and improvements. Each board must file an annual report with the state board of charities and corrections.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. The commissioners appoint a superintendent to hold office during their pleasure, who must be a physician, a graduate of an incor-

The commissioners may provide for an assistant superintendent who must be a physician of at least five years' practice in his or her profession, two or more resident physicians, one of whom must be a woman, and for such other assistants and employees as may be necessary, and fix their respective salaries. All assistants and employees are selected and appointed by the superintendent, subject to the approval of the commissioners, and hold their positions subject to rules and regulations of the commissioners.

The hospital for the insane maintained by the city of Denver is under the control of the municipal authorities.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions. Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo; established 1879; 1,200 beds.

b. In local institutions. The city of Denver maintains a department for the insane connected with the city and county hospital. Insane persons who can not be provided for in the state hospital may be maintained in county infirmaries, under the control of the board of county commissioners, the chairman of which is ex-officio overseer of the poor.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. The term "insane person" includes idiots, and any person so insane or distracted in his mind as to endanger his own person or property, or the person and property of others, if allowed to go at large. All persons adjudged insane are wards of the state. It is the duty of the board of corrections to admit them to the state hospital or provide and care for them elsewhere.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Whenever a reputable person files with the county court a duly verified complaint alleging that any person in the county is so insane or distracted in his mind as to endanger his own person and property or the person and property of others, if allowed to go at large, the county court must have the patient taken into custody. If a sheriff or constable finds such an insane person at large in his county, he must apprehend him without an order of court.

To the insane person so arrested must be delivered a copy of the complaint and order. The judge issuing the order may designate a hospital or other convenient suitable place for detention until he shall determine whether an examination into the mental condition of the person is desirable. If apprehended without an order the insane person must be taken before the county court which determines forthwith whether an examination is desirable, but may order the person confined, observed, treated and cared for temporarily.

The judge appoints a lunacy commission of two physicians resident in the county (if only one physician is available a layman may be substituted). No member of a lunacy commission shall be a relative of the person alleged to be insane, or a manager, superintendent, proprietor, officer, stockholder, or have any pecuniary interest, directly or indirectly, or be an attending physician, in the institution to which it is proposed to commit such person.

The commission examines the person in the presence of a guardian ad litem to be appointed by the court. Subpoenas must be issued to procure the attendance of witnesses desired by a commission, guardian or county attorney. A lunacy commission has power to administer oaths and the right to examine witnesses whether they are subpoenaed or not. The commission must report within 48 hours of its first session and notice of the presentation of report must be given to the board of county commissioners or county attorney. The judge must approve the findings and if the person is dangerous to be allowed at large, must commit him to the state hospital or other suitable place.

Every inquest in lunacy must be brought in the name of the people of the state of Colorado, and be prosecuted by the county attorney of the respective county, or in case of his absence or inability, by a duly qualified attorney or other suitable person. No inquest may be had as to the lunacy of a person charged with a criminal offense until such criminal offense has been tried and dismissed unless the judge of the district court wherein the offense is pending shall order such inquest.

No insane person may be confined in any city or county jail unless he is violent and his absolute safety demands such confinement, and then only upon an order from the county court, under the penalty of a fine of $10 to $100 or imprisonment for 10 to 90 days, or both. Under no conditions may he be confined in any jail for a longer period than ten days.

A physician testifying to the insanity of any person for the purpose of securing his commitment to custody must be of reputable character, a graduate of some incorporated medical college, a permanent resident of the state, in the actual practice of his profession, and not connected with any institution for the insane. The possession of such qualifications must be certified by the judge of a court of record, and his certificate shall constitute such physician an examiner in lunacy. To act as medical examiner in lunacy cases without authority is punishable by a fine of $50 to $300 or imprisonment from

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of a hospital or other institution for the treatment of the insane may receive and detain as a patient any person who desires treatment and makes written application therefor, but whose mental condition is not such as to render it legal to grant a certificate of insanity in his case; but no patient may be detained more than three days after having given notice in writing of his intention or desire to leave. Voluntary patients must pay their cost of maintenance.

d. Appeal from commitment. Any person ordered to be committed or any friend or any person interested in the proceedings may within five days after the order of the judge, demand in writing that the questions considered by the commission be tried by a jury of six men. At such trial the cause against the person complained of must be represented by the county or district attorney or by some one appointed by the county judge and the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem unless the patient appears by his own counsel.

Habeas corpus.
Statutes.
3344.

A person, not committed or detained for any crime or supposed criminal matter, who is restrained of his liberty, may apply for a writ of habeas corpus to the circuit or district court. The application, signed by the party or some person on his behalf, must state the facts concerning his confinement and in whose custody he is detained.

3365. Any county court or county judge in the state is authorized to issue the writ of habeas corpus in the absence of the circuit court or district court.

4696. e. Cost of commitment. Expenses attending any inquest in insanity are paid out of the estate of the insane by the conservator upon the order of the county court, but if there is no estate, or if any original inquest results in discharge, the county commissioners of the proper county must allow them.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Trained attendant.
Laws of 1915,
ch. 118.
7.

The judge of the county court must designate some trained attendant to accompany the insane patient to the state hospital, and every female patient must be accompanied by a female attendant unless accompanied by her husband, father, brother or son. This attendant shall have entire control of the patient until delivered to the place of commitment. The judge may make any other order relative to the persons to accompany the patient as to him seems proper.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent of the state hospital has the power to issue a probationary discharge if he believes it to be for the best interest of any patient under his control. When any person confined in the state hospital has been restored to reason, the superintendent must discharge him and notify the judge of the county court by which the patient was adjudged insane that the insane person has been restored to reason and discharged. Paupers when discharged must be furnished with a sum of money, clothing, and transportation to their homes.

If it is found that the patient has been restored to reason, he must immediately be set at liberty.

4696.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

If the commission reports that the person complained of has real or personal estate or if this fact comes to light at any time afterward, the court appoints a conservator, who applies the estate to the patient's maintenance. Relatives and next of kin are liable for a patient's support. If the patient has no estate, he is supported at the expense of the state.

Norwich State Hospital for the Insane, Norwich; established 1903; 1,230 beds.

Public patients are occasionally sent to the Hartford Retreat, a private institution, Hartford; established 1824; 165 beds. Such patients are maintained in part by the state, the major part of the cost of maintenance being paid by the towns in which they have a legal settlement.

The state prison has an insane ward for males, with a normal capacity of 40 beds.

b. In local institutions. There are no local public institutions for the insane.

The authorities in charge of almshouses must have all inmates examined by a physician at least once in six months and institute proceedings for the commitment of any insane persons found there. In case any town fails to institute such examination the state board of charities shall do so at the expense of the town.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons who are residents of the state are entitled to admission to the state hospitals. Non-resident insane paupers may also be committed.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The jurisdiction of the commitment of an insane person to a hospital is vested in the court of probate for the district in which the person resides, or in which he may be at the time of filing the complaint, except in cases where it is otherwise expressly provided by law. Courts of probate may exercise such jurisdiction only upon written complaint, which may be made by any person. If an insane person is at large and dangerous to the community, the selectmen of the town in which he resides or is at large, must make complaint. Except when otherwise specially provided by law, no person may be committed to a hospital for the insane without an order of a court of probate; except in cases of sudden and violent insanity, when he may be detained in a hospital for not more than 48 hours without special order of a court of probate, but proceedings must forthwith be commenced in that court.

Within ten days after a complaint has been filed, the probate court must appoint a hearing, giving due notice to the person alleged to be insane and to others concerned. The court may also cause the person complained of to be brought before it to see and examine him, if in its judgment his condition or conduct renders it necessary and proper so to do, or state in its final order why it was not necessary or advisable so to do. While the proceedings are pending, the court may order the restraint of the alleged insane person. The court must require, in addition to any oral testimony, the sworn certificates of at least two reputable physicians, who are graduates of legally organized medical institutions and have been practitioners of medicine at least three years within the state, and are not connected with any asylum nor related to the complainant, nor to the person alleged to be insane. One of the physicians is to be selected by the court. The certificate of the physicians must state that they have personally examined him within ten days of the hearing, and that in their opinion he is insane and a fit subject for confinement in a hospital. If the court finds that he is insane and a fit subject for treatment in a hospital, it must order his commitment to a hospital, to be confined while the insanity continues, or until discharged in due course of law.

If they find the pauper insane, the court may commit him to one of the state hospitals for the insane.

Paupers.
Acts of 1917,
ch. 335.

When an indigent person not a pauper is insane, application may be made by any person or the selectmen in his behalf to the court of probate for the district in which he resides, and said court must appoint two reputable physicians, and a selectman of the town of the indigent person to investigate the facts and report to the court. The selectman must include in his report a statement of the facts relating to the residence of the person, and an estimate of the value of his estate so far as it can be ascertained. If the court of probate is satisfied that the person is indigent and insane and a resident of any town within its jurisdiction, it must order him to be taken to one of the state hospitals for the insane. The judge making the order of commitment must state the town of which the indigent insane person is a resident and the reported amount of his estate. No court of probate in this may commit to an insane hospital within the state a person who is found by it not to be a resident of a town within the jurisdiction of the court.

Any insane pauper, not a resident of any town in the state, may be committed by the governor to any suitable place of detention upon presentation of the sworn certificate of two physicians of recognized standing, that they have found upon examination that the person is insane; in case the commitment is to be made to a state institution, the certificate must be upon a form prescribed by the attorney-general. Any person who has suddenly become insane and is in need of treatment may, upon application and the certificate of a physician, be admitted to any hospital for the insane, public or private, for ten days. If further treatment is needed, the superintendent must apply for commitment.

c. Voluntary admission. Any hospital may receive for observation and treatment any person who in writing requests to be received; but no such person shall be confined in any hospital for more than ten days after he has given notice in writing of his desire to leave, without commitment from some court of competent jurisdiction.

Statutes.

d. Appeal from commitment. Any person, relative or friend has the right to appeal from the order of the court on behalf of any person found to be insane. The court of probate, on such appeal, must order notice given to the parties to the proceedings and to other persons as it may deem proper; and may require an appellant to give bond to pay all legal costs and expenses of the hearing if successful. On the trial of an appeal, the superior court may require the state's attorney to be present, for the protection of the interests of the state and public. Pending an appeal to the superior court, it may make provisions for the care of the person complained of.

Revocation of Statutes.

2760.

All insane persons confined in any institution in the state are entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and the question of insanity must be determined by the court or judge issuing it. If the court decides that the person is insane, this decision is no bar to issuing such writ a second time, if it is claimed that the person has been restored to reason.

Inquiry whether person is wrongfully confined.
2770.

On information that any person is unjustly confined in any insane hospital, or in any neighborhood hospital in this state, or in the custody of any individual under an order of a court of probate, any judge of the superior court may appoint a commission of not less than two persons to inquire into the case. If in their opinion the person is not legally detained, or is cured, or his confinement is no longer beneficial or advisable, the judge must order his discharge; but no commission may be appointed with reference to the same person oftener than once in six months. The judge before whom the proceedings are had may tax reasonable costs at his discretion.

e. Cost of commitment. All fees and expenses incurred by commitment proceedings must be paid out of the estate of the person found insane, if he has sufficient estate, and, if not, by his relatives liable to support him, if of sufficient ability, and if there are none such, then by the town to which he belongs. In case the person is found not to be insane, the fees and expenses must be paid by the complainant.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

State hospitals and other hospitals for the insane must, if possible, when requested by an officer of the court, send properly trained attendants or nurses to attend any hearing concerning the commitment of an insane person, and such attendant or nurse when present must be designated by the court as the authority to serve the commitment. If no other attendant is appointed by the court, the selectmen of the town must provide for the conveyance of the patient to the hospital.

By hospital attendant.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 335.
3.

In appointing a person to convey the insane patient to the hospital, the court must give preference to a near relative or friend of the insane. Unless a female patient is in charge of a member of her own family, the court must direct that at least one adult female shall accompany her.

and effective until the patient is officially discharged by the authorities of the institution. He may be returned by his guardian, relatives, or friends, or by himself, or may be recalled by the authorities of the institution at any time during the six months. The expense, if any, of such recall or return is, in the case of an indigent, to be paid by those responsible for his support, or, in the case of pauper, by the town of which he is a resident.

the trustees.
Acts of 1915,
ch. 9.

The officers, directors or trustees of a state hospital when notified by the superintendent that a patient is not insane or a proper subject for confinement may petition the superior court to order his discharge. A copy of the petition shall be served upon the selectmen of the town to which the person belongs. If of the opinion that the patient is not legally detained or cured or no longer benefited by confinement, the judge shall order his discharge or direct other disposition.

the court.
Statutes.
2756.

Any person held in confinement as an insane person under the order of a court of probate may, upon proper application and satisfactory proof that he has been restored to reason, be ordered discharged by such court.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Paupers.
Acts of 1917,
ch. 335.

In the case of an insane pauper, the town whose selectman applied for commitment must pay $2 per week for his support at the hospital, the balance being paid by the state. In the case of an indigent person not a pauper, the person making the application must pay a reasonable amount for his support, the balance being paid by the state. Provision is made for the recovery by a town from a person liable for the support of a patient or from any town to which a person is chargeable.

Any superior court, criminal court of common pleas, city court, or police court, before whom any person is tried on criminal charge, and acquitted on the ground of insanity, may order him to be confined in the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane for such time as the court shall direct, unless some person undertakes under bond to the state to confine him in such manner as the court may order.

Any person tried on any criminal charge who has been acquitted on the ground of insanity or dementia, and confined in the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane, may petition, or the officers of the institution may petition, the superior court of the county in which he is confined for his discharge. The petition must be served like civil process on the selectmen of the town to which he belongs, and upon the person, if any, upon whom the offense was charged to have been committed, and upon the state's attorney of the county in which the trial was had. The state's attorney must represent the state on the application.

Release of person committed under preceding section. 1474.

When a person, tried on any criminal charge and acquitted on the ground of insanity, has been confined in a hospital for the insane for a specified term, and is found still to be suffering from insanity at the expiration of the term, the superintendent of the hospital must certify the facts to the state's attorney for the county wherein the trial was had, who must procure from the court an order for the confinement of the person in the hospital until his recovery.

Recommitment of person acquitted. 1475.

When in the opinion of the jailer of any common jail, a prisoner appears to be insane, he must immediately report the fact to the governor, who shall appoint a commission of not more than three experts to examine the prisoner. If the commission find the prisoner insane, the governor, having approved its report, must order him committed to the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane until the expiration of the term for which he was committed, or until he has recovered from his insanity. If the prisoner has recovered his reason before the expiration of the term for which he was committed, the superintendent of the hospital must report the fact to the governor, who shall appoint a commission to examine into his sanity; and if he has ceased to be insane, the governor must order his return to the jail.

Prisoners in jails. 2782.

When a convict, transferred from a county jail to the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane, is confined as insane, at the time of the expiration of the term of imprisonment for which he was committed the superintendent must certify the facts to the governor, who may order the detention of the person until he has recovered from his insanity.

A male convict in the state prison becoming insane is cared for in the insane ward of the prison; a female, on certification by the physician and consulting physician of the prison, is reported to the governor, who orders her removed to a state hospital. When an insane male convict has finished his sentence, he is discharged from the prison into the custody of the Connecticut Prison Association, which arranges for the prisoner's commitment to the state hospital, if in its judgment further confinement is necessary.

Revised Code of Delaware, 1915/

Laws of 1915, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of supervisors of state institutions consists of the governor and two residents of the state who are appointed and removed by the governor. They serve for four years and receive $100 per annum for expenses. The supervisors must visit at least once in three months all the state and other institutions within the state to which the state appropriates money and may investigate all matters relating to the conduct of the institutions and make any suggestions or changes in the control of patients as they may deem proper and necessary. Any complaint of cruel, barbarous, or unfair treatment made by an inmate of an institution wherein persons are deprived of their liberty must be fully investigated and if it is well founded, the board must prepare and present the person's charges against the one at fault to the board of managers or the trustees of the institution. The supervisors must examine carefully into the financial arrangements of the institutions, the purchase of supplies, and disposition of funds, and make recommendations to boards of trustees or managers. They must submit a statement to the governor at any time on his request and a full report biennially to the legislature.

b. Institutional. The state hospital for the insane is under the management of a board of trustees of nine members, three from each county, who are appointed by the governor for terms of three years. One trustee from each county must be a physician in good standing. More than one political faith must be represented from each county.

The board of trustees has sole and complete control and management of the Delaware state hospital at Farnhurst, appoints physicians, stewards, matrons, nurses and all other necessary servants, and fixes their terms of service as well as their pay; provides suitable food, raiment, medicine and all other things necessary for the comfort and improvement of the hospital. Each member receives a fee and compensation for attending board meetings. The board is prohibited from doing or contracting for any construction or erection of buildings.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All indigent insane persons must be admitted to the hospital upon the written order of one of the board of trustees. The board of trustees may also receive insane patients from other states who are able to pay for their maintenance and support. Insane who are residents of the state may be received as pay-patients. The commitment of any person does not raise any presumption against his sanity. 2598.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Before a patient can be received at the hospital a certificate must be filed with the superintendent, made and sworn to by at least two physicians, residents of this state, who have been actively engaged in practice in the same state and county as that in which alleged insane person resides. The certificate must state that the physicians have separately examined the person, that they believe that his disease requires hospital care and treatment; and that they are in no way related by blood to or connected by marriage with him, nor in any way connected with the hospital. The commitment papers of any inmate of the New Castle county almshouse must be signed by at least one of the physicians required by law to examine patients committed from the city of Wilmington. The certificate must be made within one week after the examination of the person, and within two weeks of the time of the application for admission to the hospital. The certificate must be signed by the physicians and the signatures must be certified as genuine by an officer authorized to administer oaths, before whom the physicians must make an affidavit as to the truthfulness of the facts. In all cases, the certificate and other papers must be accompanied by an order of admission, signed by one or more of the trustees of said hospital. The chancellor must then issue a writ de lunatico inquerendo to the sheriff, commanding him within five days after the service to summon a jury to determine the case, and return the findings by the jury to the chancellor within two days. If the jury finds the person sane, the sheriff must send an order to the superintendent of the hospital for the release of the person.

2600.

Indigent insane are supported at the cost of the state. When an insane person is able to support himself, the state board of trustees has authority to collect the necessary money out of his property, after reasonable provision is made for the maintenance and education of his family. The expense of caring for a criminal insane person is paid by the trustees of the poor of the county of his residence or in which the criminal act was committed.

2601.

The board of trustees may make contracts in relation to the board and maintenance, care and custody of any insane resident of the state, and may recover from the person contracted with, or from the patient himself, the compensation agreed upon, or a reasonable compensation.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If, at the trial of a person on an indictment, the defense of insanity is established to the satisfaction of the jury, it must return a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity." The court may thereupon order the person committed to the state hospital. The expenses of the removal of such insane person, and of his support at the hospital or institution, must be paid by the trustees of the poor of the county where the act charged was committed, or of the county of the insane person's residence. The court of general sessions may order an insane person, acquitted as above, set at large if satisfied that the public safety will not be endangered, or may order his removal from any hospital to the almshouse of the county where he resided at the time of the commission of the act charged, or county where the act was committed.

If in a capital case the prisoner becomes insane after conviction and before sentence, the court has power to appoint a commission, two at least of whom shall be practicing physicians, to inquire into the mental condition of the prisoner and make a report to the court. If the commission find the prisoner insane, he must be remanded to the custody of the sheriff until the further order of the court. Should he recover his reason after such remand, he must receive the sentence appointed for his crime. Whether the prisoner has recovered his reason may be established to the court by any evidence it may choose to consider for that purpose, and need not be by commission.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Authorities:

Revised Statutes of the United States
Code of Laws for the District of Columbia, 1911

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of charities of the district of Columbia has power, under the order of the district commissioners, to investigate and report upon the government hospital for the insane in common with other charitable institutions of the district.

b. Institutional. Nine citizens of the district, appointed by the President, constitute the board of visitors of the hospital. The board of visitors, whose members serve without compensation, may, subject to the approval of the secretary of the interior, make any needful by-laws concerning the superintendent, his employees, and the patients. The board is required to visit the hospital at stated periods, exercises a careful supervision over its expenditures, and makes an annual report to the secretary of the interior.

The superintendent of the hospital is appointed by the secretary of the interior.

2. CARE

a. In federal institutions. St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington (Anacostia); established 1855; 3,000 beds.

b. In local institutions. There are no institutions for the insane maintained by the district. The Washington asylum hospital has a psychopathic ward.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed.

1. Insane persons belonging to the army, navy, marine corps, and revenue-cutter service;

2. Civilians employed in the quartermaster's pay and subsistence department of the army;

3. Men who while in the service of the United States in the army, navy or marine corps, have been admitted to the hospital and subsequently discharged, but who within three years after such discharge become insane from causes existing at the time of such discharge, and have no adequate means of support;

4. Indigent persons who have been in either of the services mentioned and discharged therefrom on account of disability arising from insanity;

5. Indigent persons who become insane within three years after their discharge from such service from causes which arose during and were produced by the service;

8. Insane criminals and persons charged with crime in the courts of the district; 4851.
9. Indigent insane who are residents of the district (non-residents of the same class are admitted only for temporary care); 4844.
10. Beneficiaries of the United States public health service;
11. Private pay patients from the district who may be received at the hospital whenever there are vacancies. 4853.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Proceedings are instituted upon petition of the commissioners of the district to determine the mental condition of alleged indigent insane residents of the district and persons alleged to be insane with homicidal or otherwise dangerous tendencies. All writs de lunatico inquirendo issue from the equity court, and the justice holding such court presides at all inquisitions of lunacy, and when necessary may call a jury from either the circuit or the criminal court, or may summon a special jury for such inquisitions. Petition.
Code, 115a.

An insane person within the district may be apprehended and restrained without warrant by any member of the metropolitan police or any other official in the district authorized to make arrests. He must at once file an affidavit with the superintendent of the metropolitan police that he believes the person in question to be insane, incapable of taking care of himself and his property, and dangerous to the public. Some near relative or friend of the person in the district must immediately be notified. Detention by police.
33 Stat., 316.

The superintendent of the metropolitan police is authorized to order the apprehension and detention without warrant of any indigent person alleged to be insane or who has homicidal or dangerous tendencies and found elsewhere than in public places, upon the affidavits of two or more responsible residents, which must state that they believe the person to be insane, the length of time they have known him, and that they believe him to be incapable of managing his own affairs and dangerous to the public, if allowed to go at liberty. But before the apprehension is ordered, the superintendent of the metropolitan police must require the certificate of at least two physicians who shall certify that they have examined the person alleged to be insane and that he should not be allowed to remain at liberty, and that he is a fit subject for treatment. 2.

The commissioners of the district are authorized to place in the government hospital for the insane for a period not exceeding thirty days; indigent persons alleged to be insane residents of or found within the district, and alleged insane persons of homicidal or otherwise dangerous tendencies apprehended and restrained as provided above, pending their formal commitment to the hospital or their transportation to their homes when their places of residence are ascertained. The commissioners may, pending their temporary commitment or formal commitment to the government or to any other hospital for the insane, authorize the temporary commitment of the above named insane persons for a period not exceeding thirty days to any other hospital in the district, which in the judgment of the health officer of the district is properly equipped for the care of such persons. Such a person may be detained in any police station or house of detention pending arrangements for his temporary detention in the government hospital or other institution; or they may be detained there until formally committed, in case no other provisions are feasible.

No certificate as to the sanity or insanity of any person is valid if made by a physician who has not been regularly licensed to practice medicine in the district, unless he be a commissioned surgeon of the United States navy, army, or public health service; or by a physician who is not a permanent resident of the district; or by a physician who has not been actually engaged in the practice of his profession for at least three years; or by a physician who is related by blood or marriage to the person whose mental condition is in question; or if made by a physician who is financially interested in the hospital in which the alleged insane person is to be confined, or who is officially connected with it. The penalty of a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both, is provided for making an affidavit without proper cause for the purpose of securing the detention or restraint of any person in the district or for knowingly making a false certificate.

Appointment
of guardian.
Code.

1154.

In case any person adjudged to be of unsound mind has property, real or personal, the equity court has full power to appoint a committee or trustee of the person and of his estate, who must reimburse the district out of the funds of the person for all costs expended or incurred by it, both before and after the time of such appointment.

115b.

The equity court has full power to superintend and direct the affairs of persons non compos mentis, and to appoint a committee or trustees for such persons after hearing their nearest relatives, if residing within the jurisdiction of the court, and to make such orders for the care of their persons and the management and preservation of their estates, including the collection, sale, exchange, and reinvestment of their personal estate, as to the court may seem proper.

The commissioners of the district must, as soon as practicable, return to their places of residence or to their friends all indigent insane persons not residing in the district at the time they became insane who are detained in the government hospital for the insane, or who are committed to it temporarily. All necessary expenses incurred by the commissioners in ascertaining the residence of such persons or of their friends, and in returning them, are paid by the district.

Deportation.
30 Stat., 811.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Any person restrained of his lawful liberty within the district, under any pretence whatever, or any person in his behalf, may apply by petition to the circuit court of the district for a writ of habeas corpus, to have the cause of the restraint inquired into.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Authority to discharge patients is vested in the superintendent. When a patient committed to the government hospital for the insane, or any other institution, recovers his reason and is discharged as cured, the superintendent of the government hospital for the insane, or the official in charge of any such other institution where such person has been under treatment, must immediately file with the clerk of the supreme court of the district his sworn statement that the person, in his opinion, was at the time of his discharge of sound mind, and this statement shall be sufficient to authorize the court to pass an order declaring the person restored to his former legal status as a person of sound mind.

the superintendent.
Code, 115a.

If the superintendent of the government hospital for the insane, in the case of commitment to it, or if two or more physicians in regular attendance at any other hospital to which a person has been committed for temporary care, or if two or more persons in the police or fire departments when a person is detained at the police station, certify in writing to the physicians of the hospitals in the district, that the person is not insane or has recovered his reason, the officials in question must at once discharge the alleged insane person and report their action to the commissioners of the district.

physicians, policemen, or firemen.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Indigents.
20 Stat., 395.

One-half of the cost of support in the hospital of indigent insane from the district is paid out of the revenues of the district and the other half from the treasury of the United States. Patients from the army, navy, marine corps, etc., are supported wholly at federal expense.

Non-indigents.
Act of 1913.

The district pays to the federal hospital the entire cost of all district non-indigent civilian patients, and then seeks reimbursement in whole or in part from their personal estate or from the immediate family or friends of the patient.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons acquitted.
Code, 927.

When a person tried upon an indictment or information is acquitted on the sole ground that he was insane at the time of the offense, the jury must so state in their verdict. When a person is indicted or charged by an information for an offense, and before trial or after a verdict of guilty, prima facie evidence is submitted that the accused is insane, the court may summon a jury to make inquiry into the insanity of the accused in the presence and under the direction of the court. If the jury finds the accused insane, or if he is acquitted solely on the ground of insanity, the court may certify the fact to the secretary of the interior, who may order him confined in the hospital for the insane, the person and his estate being chargeable with his support in the hospital. The person whose sanity is in question is entitled to a bill of exceptions and an appeal as in other cases.

Persons convicted.

Any person becoming insane while undergoing sentence of any court of the district for crime may be committed to the hospital for the insane, by order of the secretary of the interior, to receive the same treatment as other patients during the continuance of his disorder.

Insane convicts.

Restoration.
929.

When a person confined in the hospital for the insane, who is charged with crime and subject to be tried or undergo sentence, is restored to sanity, the superintendent of the hospital must give notice to the justice holding the criminal court and deliver him to the court.

Compiled Laws of Florida, 1914

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of commissioners of state institutions, consisting of the governor and the six administrative officers of the executive department, all elected by the people every four years, has complete control and management of the state hospital for the insane, state penal institution, reform schools for boys and for girls, blind, deaf and dumb institute, and supervises the county chain gangs. b. In local institutions. Incurable, harmless, and indigent insane may be cared for in almshouses by the county commissioners, who are the overseers of the poor. The law provides that all indigent insane persons not requiring mechanical restraint shall be cared for as paupers by the counties, or the judge may commit them to any responsible person who offers to give them care and custody, without expense to the state or county; nevertheless, practically all classes are sent to the state hospital.

1196. The superintendent of the state hospital, when directed by the board of commissioners of state institutions, may receive any lunatic, idiot or insane person whose friends, parents or guardians are able and willing to pay for his care, custody and maintenance. In all such cases, the board of commissioners of state institutions prescribes the amount to be paid.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. When a resident of the state is supposed to be insane, either non compos mentis or sufficiently devoid of reason to be incapable of self-control, a petition signed by five reputable citizens, not more than one of whom may be a relative of the person, stating their belief that he is insane, and asking that a legal examination be made, may be presented to the county judge or judge of the circuit court having jurisdiction. The county judge or judge of the circuit court to whom the petition is submitted must without unnecessary delay appoint as an examining committee one intelligent citizen, who is not a petitioner in the case, and two practicing physicians of good professional standing who are graduates of a school of medicine recognized by the American Medical Association, when such physicians reside in the county. This committee must secure the presence of the supposed insane person, and make a thorough examination to ascertain his mental and physical condition, and if considered insane, whether the insanity is acute or chronic, its apparent cause, the hallucination, if any, and the age and propensities of the subject, also whether he is indigent or possessing available means for his support. If the person alleged to be insane any time prior to the rendering of the decree in the case, applies to the court for permission to contest the charge of insanity, the court must appoint a hearing. If the accused is indigent and unable to procure the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, the court must summon a reasonable number of witnesses for him at the expense of the county.

Report.

The examining committee must report its findings to the county judge or judge of the circuit court, and furnish the information called for in the preceding section, each of the three committeemen signing the report.

Commitment.

On receiving the report of the examining committee, the county judge or judge of the circuit court, if satisfied that the person is insane, must order the sheriff of the county from which the report is submitted to deliver at once the person adjudged insane to the superintendent of the hospital for indigent insane. The order of commitment must include a copy of the information and report by the committee and be transmitted by the sheriff to the superintendent of the hospital.

When the report of the examining committee shows that the alleged insanity is chronic, or produced by epilepsy or senility, and that the person does not require confinement or mechanical restraint to prevent self-injury or violence to others, but that he is indigent, the judge must find him incurably insane, harmless and indigent, and order the sheriff to deliver him to the county commissioners of the county where he resides for care and maintenance as by law provided for paupers. But if any responsible person will offer to assume the care and custody of any such harmless person without cost to the state or county, the judge or court may in his discretion so order.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Patients regarded as sufficiently harmless may be sent home on furlough by the superintendent of the state hospital, provided that relatives or other persons are willing to sign an agreement guaranteeing transportation, maintenance and medical care at home, and, if further hospital treatment should be necessary, the return of the patient to the hospital without expense to the state or county.

Parole.

Nonresident patients are formally discharged by the superintendent and returned to their state of residence, accompanied by an attendant, the board of commissioners authorizing the return at the expense of the state.

Discharge.

Patients deemed ready for discharge are examined by the superintendent and staff of the hospital. When discharged, an indigent patient is given transportation to the place from which he was committed, or to an equivalent distance elsewhere; pay patients are not given return transportation.

GEORGIA

Authority:

Park's Annotated Code of Georgia, 1914

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. There is no state board in Georgia having general supervision or control of charitable institutions.

b. Institutional. The state hospital for the insane (State Sanitarium) is under the management of ten trustees, appointed biennially by the governor. They receive salaries not to exceed $150 per annum. The trustees have authority to prescribe all rules and regulations for the management of the institution, to appoint a superintendent, who must be a skillful physician, and all the officers, to fix their salaries, and to remove any officer for proper cause.

The trustees prescribe rules and regulations also in regard to the admission and discharge of insane, epileptics, idiots, and demented inebriates.

A department for insane convicts is to be established on the so-called "State Farm" at Milledgeville, under the control and management of the prison commission, but no appropriation has been made.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Georgia State Sanitarium, Milledgeville; established 1842; 3,800 beds.

The statutes require white and negro patients to be cared for in separate departments; likewise, residents, nonresidents, and convicts.

b. In local institutions. Harmless incurable insane may be cared for in the county poorhouses or otherwise taken care of by the county authorities. The poor farms are under the management of the ordinary of each county, who may appoint a commissioner of the poor.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All resident citizens of the state who are insane, idiots, epileptics or demented inebriates may be admitted, but the superintendent may refuse all harmless idiots and other harmless subjects that do not actually require treatment so long as there are any recent and dangerous cases unprovided for. Nonresident pay patients may be received, but citizens of Georgia have the preference when all can not be accommodated and are treated free; no nonresident patients have been admitted for nearly fifty years.

Trial by jury.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The various laws concerning commitment have been so construed that in practice no patient, white or negro, is admitted to the state hospital without trial by jury.

Pay patients.
1601.

A pay patient, restrained in the state, may not be admitted unless accompanied by authentic evidence of insanity, or a certificate of three reputable practicing physicians, well acquainted with his condition, or from one such physician and two respectable citizens.

1603.

A pay patient, not a resident of the state, may not be admitted unless producing an authentic record of a conviction by a competent court of a malady which, according to the law of the state, is a ground of admission, or a certificate of physicians endorsed by the judge having jurisdiction. Before or after admission of a pay patient, resident or nonresident, by certificate, the person alleged to be insane, or his friend or relative, may demand a trial of the question of insanity by jury, which must be had in the county of Baldwin. In practice, no patients have been required to pay for their maintenance for nearly fifty years.

On the sworn petition of any person that another is liable to have a guardian appointed (or is subject to be committed to the state sanitarium), the ordinary after notice has been given to the three nearest adult relatives of such person must issue a commission directed to any eighteen discreet and proper persons, one of whom shall be a physician, requiring any twelve of them, including the physician, to examine the person for whom guardianship (or commitment to the sanitarium) is sought. But in all insanity cases the number of jurors is six, one of whom must be a physician, unless twelve are demanded by the person tried, or by his relatives or friends. The commission must find whether the person is to have a guardian appointed or to be committed to the state sanitarium, and make return to the ordinary, who must act accordingly.

3093.

Commitment
by guardian.
3100.

Guardians of insane persons may place them in the Georgia State Sanitarium, if such a course is necessary for their own protection or the safety of others, and a guardian wilfully failing to take this precaution is responsible for injuries inflicted on others by his ward.

Commitment
by court.
3101.

When there is no guardian for an insane person, or the guardian refuses or fails to confine his ward, and any person makes oath that the insane person should not longer be left at large, the ordinary or the judge of the superior court must issue a warrant as in criminal cases for the arrest of the insane person and after an investigation of the facts may commit him to the state sanitarium, and may have him committed to jail until he can be removed to the sanitarium.

A patient who is absent for as long as three months, either by discharge, elopement, or removal by friends, can not be received at the sanitarium without going through the process required by law. Recommitment.

c. Voluntary admission. When an application for admission is unattended by the requisite evidences, the superintendent of the sanitarium may receive and provide for the person for a reasonable time, provided a sufficient sum is advanced for his maintenance. The trustees of the hospital require, however, that no patient shall be admitted unless all legal requirements have been complied with. 1612.

d. Appeal from commitment. A trial by jury may be had by all patients who have been convicted of insanity, if a relative or friend will make an affidavit that he believes the alleged cause of commitment did not and does not exist, and that the conviction was obtained by fraud, collusion or mistake. The same right exists, when there is an affidavit that the cause of commitment has ceased to exist, and there is a refusal by the superintendent to discharge after demand made. Trial by jury.

e. Cost of commitment. The expense of a commission in insanity must be paid out of the estate of the insane person; and if he has none, out of the county funds. The cost of conveying a person to the state sanitarium is paid in the same manner. 3094.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Upon recovery, patients must be discharged by the superintendent under rules prescribed by the trustees. 1574.

Upon the certificate of the medical officer of the institution, the trustees may discharge or remand to the authorities of the county from which he was sent a patient whose condition is such that no probability exists of his full recovery, and who at the time is regarded as harmless. 1578.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The state sanitarium is free to all resident citizens of the state who are insane, idiots, or epileptics. If the family or friends desire to furnish extra or additional food or other comforts, they may do so under regulations prescribed by the trustees. 1576.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person has been guilty of a capital crime and acquitted on the ground of insanity and is committed to the sanitarium, he must not be discharged except by special act of the legislature. If the Persons ac-crime is not capital, he may be discharged by warrant or order from the governor. If sentence is suspended on the ground of insanity, the superintendent upon his restoration to sanity must certify the fact to the presiding judge of the court where he was convicted.

Insane convicts. A convict sentenced to the penitentiary who becomes insane must be removed to and kept at the prison farm during the term for which he may have been sentenced, or until he is cured. (This provision is not yet operative.)

Revised Codes of Idaho, 1908

Laws of 1915

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. There is no state administrative or supervisory board of charitable institutions.

b. Institutional. The state hospitals are under the management and control of boards of directors, consisting of three persons, appointed by the governor for terms of two years in the case of one institution, and three years in the case of the other. Each board elects a medical superintendent of the hospital, to hold office during its pleasure. It appoints all officers and employees, prescribes their duties and may remove them when in its judgment the good of the public service so requires; it makes regulations and fixes the terms for the admission of insane persons who are not indigent or who are not residents of the state. The board must visit the hospitals once in three months. The board is required to make an annual report to the governor and a biennial report to the legislature concerning all matters that pertain to the hospital.

The medical superintendent must be a graduate in medicine and must have practiced his profession five years. With the consent of the board of directors, he fixes the number and compensation of and removes the attendants and assistants.

2. CARE.

a. In state institutions.

The Idaho Insane Asylum, Blackfoot; established, 1884; 350 beds.
Northern Idaho Sanitarium, Orofino; established, 1905; 250 beds.

b. In local institutions. The county poorhouse where such exists may care for insane persons placed therein by the board of county commissioners.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons except idiots, feeble-minded and those suffering from delirium tremens or a contagious or infectious disease, may be admitted to the hospitals.

No insane nonresident may be received into the hospitals unless he became insane within the state, and the indigent insane of the state must have the preference.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Whenever it appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of a magistrate of the county that any person within the county is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, persons or property, he must cause such person to be arrested and taken before any judge of a court of record within the county for examination. The two or more witnesses best acquainted with such insane person and at least one graduate of medicine must testify at the examination.

775-

If the physician after hearing the testimony and making the examination believes such person to be dangerously insane, he must make a certificate in the form prescribed by the medical superintendent of the hospital, showing that such person is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person or property; the premonitory symptoms, apparent cause or class of insanity, the duration and condition of the disease, etc.

Order of commitment.
777.

The judge after such examination and certificate, if he believes the person so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person or property, must make an order that he be confined in a state hospital.

c. Voluntary admission.

Habeas corpus.

d. Appeal from commitment. Upon petition on behalf of any person restrained of his liberty, the writ of habeas corpus may be granted by the circuit court or by the district court.

781.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses of the agent, his necessary assistant, and of the insane person when transferred to the hospital, are paid by the hospital.

782.

The physician attending the examination of an insane person is paid by the treasurer of the county where the examination was had.

Inquiry by the judge.
783.

The judge must inquire into the ability of an insane person committed by him to the hospital to pay for his transportation to the hospital, and the expense of the examination, and bear the actual charges and expenses for the time that such person may remain in the hospital. In case an insane person committed to the hospital is possessed of real or personal property sufficient to pay such charges and expenses, the judge must appoint a guardian for him, who must pay to the board of directors the sum fixed upon by them each month quarterly in advance, for the maintenance and clothing of such ward.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Agent of the superintendent.
778.

An insane person, ordered to be committed, must be delivered to the sheriff of the county and by him to the agent appointed by the medical superintendent to convey the insane person to the hospital. Upon receipt of notice from the sheriff, the medical superintendent must at once designate some person among the employees of the hospital as an agent to transport such insane person to the hospital. Such agent (and assistant if any be appointed) must at once convey the insane person to the hospital and surrender him to the medical superintendent; and the latter shall at once notify the governor that the insane person has been received.

781.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The board of directors may on the recommendation of the superintendent parole patients who are not dangerously insane. Any person aggrieved by the granting of such parole may appeal to the district court within thirty days and the court may affirm or modify the order.

ILLINOIS

Authorities:

Hurd's Revised Statutes of Illinois, 1915-1916

Civil Administrative Code of Illinois, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The executive and administrative supervision of all state institutions for the care of the insane is exercised by the department of public welfare. The department has all the rights, powers, and duties formerly vested in the board of administration, state deportation agent, state agent for visitation of children, commissioners and wardens of the state penitentiaries and reformatories, board of pardons, board of prison industries, and board of classification.

The department is under the control of a director, who is appointed by the governor. He receives a salary of seven thousand dollars per year. In addition to the director, the governor appoints an assistant director, receiving a salary of $4,000, and the following executive officers, all receiving salaries of $5,000: alienist, criminologist, fiscal supervisor, superintendent of charities, superintendent of prisons, and superintendent of pardons and paroles. All officers devote the entire time to their duties during the four-year term, and are bonded in not less than $10,000. The director reports annually to the governor and biennially to the general assembly.

In addition to succeeding to all rights and duties of the former board of administration so far as property rights are concerned, the department of public welfare regulates the admission of patients to state hospitals; appoints and removes superintendents of these institutions, and, subject to the civil service law, appoints all employees and fixes their salaries; investigates all private institutions for the insane, makes stated visits to the hospitals for the purpose of inspection and oversight; and holds meetings with the superintendents of hospitals and the board of public welfare commissioners to consider in detail all questions relating to the treatment and care of the insane.

Each managing officer of a hospital for the insane must develop occupations that serve the mental, moral and physical improvement, or the happiness of the inmates; and it is the duty of the department of public welfare to co-ordinate these activities as will best serve an educational economical and efficient administration of all the institutions.

Within the department there is a board of public welfare commissioners, composed of five officers serving without salary. The board is purely advisory and nonexecutive: its general powers and duties are to consider and study the field, to advise the executive officers of the department upon request, to recommend policies and practices, to give advice and make recommendations to the governor and general assembly, to investigate the conduct of the work of the department and for this purpose to have access to all books, documents, papers, and records, and to require written or oral information from any officer or employee. 6. 8.

The more specific duties of the board are to investigate the condition and management of the whole system of state charitable, penal, and reformatory institutions, including state hospitals; when directed by the governor, to investigate and report to him concerning the equipment, management, or policy of any state charitable, penal, or reformatory institution; to inquire into the equipment, management, and policies of all institutions and organizations coming under the supervision and inspection of the department of public welfare; to collect and publish annually statistics relating to insanity and crime. 54.

All other than state institutions giving treatment and care to persons suffering from mental and nervous diseases must provide the department of public welfare with detailed information from time to time, regarding their physical equipment and medical and nursing service, and furnish it a certified statement every three months, giving the admissions, deaths and discharges during the previous three months. The department must license such institutions as it deems suitably equipped and conducted, and no person may be committed to or received in any such institution not having a valid license from the department under a penalty of a fine from $50 to $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

State care of insane.
18c

The department of public welfare is required to remove insane persons from county almshouses to state hospitals, the state having assumed complete care of its insane and feebleminded.

out insane
patients.
18i.

c. In families. Any insane patient in any state hospital may be placed at board in a suitable family home by the department of public welfare. The cost of boarding out a patient may not exceed the average per capita cost of his maintenance in the hospital. Patients boarded out must be visited at least once in three months. A patient boarded out may be permitted by the department temporarily to leave custody as an insane person in charge of his guardian, relatives, friends or by himself, for a period not exceeding one year, and may be received again when returned by guardian, relations or friends, or upon his own application, without any further order of commitment. During such temporary absence the department may assist in his maintenance to an amount not exceeding the rate paid for his board.

a. Persons committed. All insane persons residents of the state, not idiots and epileptics, are entitled to admission to the hospitals for the insane.

Insane
defined.
1.

By insane is meant any person who by reason of unsoundness of mind is incapable of managing his own estate, or is dangerous to himself or others, if permitted to go at large, or is in such condition of mind or body as to be a fit subject for care and treatment in a hospital or asylum for the insane. No person, idiot from birth, or whose mental development was arrested by disease or physical injury occurring prior to the age of puberty, and no person who is afflicted with simple epilepsy is regarded as insane, unless the manifestations of abnormal excitability, violence or homicidal or suicidal impulses are such as to render his confinement in a hospital or asylum for the insane a proper precaution.

Admission of non-residents.
32.

Insane persons not residents of the state may not be detained in any private institution for the insane unless committed in accordance with the laws of the state in which they are residents, or with the laws of Illinois.

Private
patients.
19.

No private patient may be admitted to a state hospital for the insane until a bond with sureties has been filed with the superintendent.

ent, and approved by the county judge conditioned to provide suitably for him and to remove him when required.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. No person not legally adjudged to be insane, may by reason of his insanity or supposed insanity be restrained of his liberty, except that the temporary detention of an alleged lunatic is permitted for a reasonable time, not exceeding ten days, pending a judicial investigation of his mental condition.

Any reputable citizen of the county in which a person supposed to be insane resides or is found may file with the clerk of the county court a sworn statement that the person named is insane and requires restraint or commitment to some hospital for the insane. The statement must be accompanied by the names of the witnesses (one of whom at least must be a physician having personal knowledge of the case). When the person alleged to be insane has not been examined by a physician, the judge may appoint a qualified physician of the county to make such examination. The hearing of the case may take place with or without the presence of the person affected as circumstances warrant, but not until he has been notified.

Inquests in lunacy must be by jury or a commission of two licensed physicians. When no jury is demanded, and there appears to the judge to be no occasion for it, he must appoint a commission of two qualified physicians in regular and active practice, who are residents of the county and of known competency and integrity, to make a personal examination of the patient and file with the clerk of the court a sworn report of the result of their inquiries, together with their conclusions and recommendations. The commissioners have power to administer oaths and take sworn testimony. In all cases of inquest by jury, the jury must consist of six persons, and one of the jurors at least must be a qualified physician. Inquests in lunacy may be in open court or in chambers, or at the home of the person alleged to be insane, at the discretion of the court. The judge may require all persons other than the patient, his friends, witnesses, licensed attorneys and officers of the court to withdraw from the room during the inquest.

The jury or commission must furnish the court in writing answers to the interrogatories that may be prescribed by the department of public welfare, and certify to their correctness. The interrogatories must be submitted to the medical member or members of the jury or commission by the court.

The court may, if not satisfied with the finding of the jury or commission, set the same aside and order another inquest.

Upon the return of the finding of the jury or commission, the court must enter the proper order for the disposition of the person alleged to be insane, and order his discharge with or without conditions, or remand him to the custody of his friends, or commit him to some hospital or asylum.

Judge to inquire into pecuniary condition of insane person. 16.

At the time of each inquest in lunacy, the county judge must inquire into the pecuniary condition of the person alleged to be insane, and that of the relatives who are bound by law to maintain him.

Order of commitment. 17.

When the order of commitment has been entered, the clerk of the county court must send copies of the papers in the case to the superintendent of the hospital who must admit the patient without delay. If there is no room or the hospital or the county has its full quota of patients, the superintendent must make room for a patient recently adjudged insane by returning a quiet, harmless chronic insane to the county from which he was admitted or to a hospital for chronic insane.

Application for appointment of a guardian. 12.

If a person alleged to be insane is possessed of any estate, the person filing the application for an inquest in lunacy may make at the same time application for the appointment of a conservator of the alleged lunatic. If he is adjudged insane without application for a conservator having been made, and if he has any estate, the court may, upon petition, make an appointment of a conservator. In a county with a probate court, upon filing of the proper petition, together with the duly certified copy of the record and the verdict of the jury, or the report of the commission of physicians, and the judgment of the county court finding a person insane, the probate court may without further inquest appoint a conservator.

Application. 37.

c. Voluntary admission. Any person in the early stages of insanity who may desire the benefit of treatment in a state or licensed private hospital for the insane as a voluntary patient, may be admitted to it on his written application, accompanied by a certificate from the county court of the county in which he resides. All voluntary patients have the right to leave the hospital at any time on giving three days' notice to the superintendent.

To the circuit court. 11.

d. Appeal from commitment. Appeals are allowed to the circuit court from any order or judgment made are rendered under the act governing commitments upon the appellant giving such bond and security as the court may direct.

Habeas corpus. P. 24.

Every person confined as insane is entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and the question of insanity must be decided at a hearing. If the judge decides that the person is insane, this does not bar the issuance of the writ a second time or whenever it is alleged that he has been restored to reason. If the person is adjudged sane, the court where the inquest was had must, on the presentation of a certified copy of the judgment, rescind the judgment of insanity.

e. Cost of commitment. The costs of proceedings in inquests of lunacy in case of county patients are paid from the county treasury of the county of which they are residents; but in case of private patients, if the person is found to be insane, they must be paid by his guardian or conservator out of his estate. When the person is found not to be insane, the court may require the costs to be paid by the person who filed the application for commitment.

Paid by the county.
29.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The clerk must issue a warrant, in duplicate, directed to the sheriff or any suitable person, giving preference to some relative of the insane person, when desired, to deliver the insane person to the superintendent. No female patient may be taken to the hospital by any person not her husband, father, brother, or son, without the attendance of some other female of reputable character and mature age.

Clerk issues warrant.
18.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

The department of public welfare has power to transfer patients from one state hospital for the insane to another, when in its judgment transfers are advisable.

18e.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Under regulations of the department of public welfare, patients may be released on parole for any term not exceeding three months, and, if not returned to the institution within that period, a new order of commitment from the county judge is necessary for readmission to the institution; but the court may make such order upon the old verdict, if satisfied that the patient in question is still insane.

By the depart-

Subject to the rules of the department of public welfare, the superintendent of a hospital may discharge a patient because he is not insane, or because he has recovered, or because he is so far improved as to be capable of caring for himself, or because the friends of the patient request his discharge, and in the judgment of the superintendent no evil consequence is likely to follow such discharge, or because there is no prospect of further improvement under treatment. No patient who has not recovered his reason or who is charged with crime may be declared discharged until at least ten days after notice to the judge of the county court having jurisdiction in the case, in order to enable the judge to make proper order as to the disposition of the patient upon discharge.

superintendent.
22.

Clothing and

A person discharged from a state hospital or asylum for the insane must be provided with suitable clothing and a sum of money, not exceeding $20, sufficient to defray his expenses home, which are charged to the patient, if a private patient, and if a county patient, to the county.

Procedure
upon restoration.

When notified that a patient has been discharged as cured, the judge of any county court must enter an order restoring the patient to all his rights as a citizen, and if a conservator of his estate has been appointed, the conservator must be removed. At any time subsequent to the discharge of any patient, the judge of the county court may hear evidence tending to show that the patient has been restored to reason, and if satisfied of his recovery may enter a similar order, whereupon the patient is not liable to commitment to a hospital without a new inquest in his case.

After-care of the insane
18j.

A staff physician, or some other suitable person must, when the superintendent deems it necessary, visit the home of any paroled patient or any convalescent patient before discharge and advise with the family as to the care and occupation most favorable for the patient's continued improvement. Visits must be made from time to time to the patient after parole or discharge as are considered necessary by the superintendent.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

All insane persons in the state hospitals are maintained at the expense of the state. When they are able to do so, relatives or estates of patients must furnish their clothing.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Transfer of convicts.
31.

Insane convicts in the state penitentiaries may be committed to the asylum for insane criminals without formal inquest on the certificate of the penitentiary physician, and held until adjudged by the superintendent and the department of public welfare fit to be discharged.

Acquittal of crime on plea of insanity.

Where any person is sent to a state hospital for the insane, being acquitted of crime on the plea of insanity, or being under indictment for crime, the state's attorney in charge of the case must officially notify the superintendent of the hospital to which the accused is sent, of any indictment pending against such person, or of the fact that the accused has been acquitted of his crime on the plea of insanity, and the superintendent, in case he at any time discharges the accused, must officially notify the state's attorney of the fact of the discharge and the reasons therefor.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of state charities is composed of the governor of the state as ex-officio member and chairman and six uncompensated members—three from each leading political party—appointed by him for terms of three years. This board must investigate and examine into the condition and management of hospitals, and the officers in charge of the hospitals must furnish to it all the information and statistics which it may require. At any time it may investigate the management of any correctional or charitable institution of the state, and must report the result of its investigation to the governor, who must submit it to the general assembly.

The judge of the circuit court of any county may and upon the petition of fifteen citizens must appoint a board of county charities. These boards are composed of six unsalaried members not more than four of whom shall be men and shall be appointed for terms of three years. At least once each quarter and as much oftener as they think necessary, the board in each county must inspect the county poor asylums and any other charitable and correctional institutions in the county which receive public aid. It must make a quarterly report to the board of commissioners of the county of the condition of each institution, and must present annually a report of its work to the judge of the circuit court and to the board of state charities. It must report to the board of county commissioners and the board of state charities any facts in connection with an institution which ought to be known to the commissioners, especially anything injurious to the county or to the inmates of the institution and must suggest remedies for the evils reported. At any time the county board of charities may call upon the board of state charities for advice and assistance.

An allegation that a person of unsound mind has become of sound mind may be tried and determined in the same manner as an allegation of unsoundness of mind. By the probate court. 3101. Guardian. 3102. 3111.

Proceedings for committing an alleged insane person to a general state hospital for the insane are by a sworn statement regarding his insanity by a citizen of the county filed with a justice of the peace and upon an examination and a hearing held by this justice and two reputable practicing physicians of the county selected by him, or by the circuit or superior court. At this hearing the justice may examine witnesses against and in behalf of the person alleged to be insane, may summon medical examiners, and must obtain a certificate of the medical attendant of the alleged insane person giving the medical history of the case. The medical examiners must make a sworn statement of the results of their examination, declaring whether in their opinion the person under examination is insane or not, and the justice must deposit a sworn statement of his findings, and all the documents in the case, with the clerk of the county circuit court. If the person has been found insane the clerk of the court must apply to the superintendent of the proper hospital for the admission of the insane person, accompanied by a certificate of a justice of the peace that such person has a legal settlement in the county in which settlement for him is claimed. Until he can be received into the hospital, the clerk must direct how he shall be taken care of, and, if necessary, may order his confinement in the By a justice of the peace or the circuit or superior courts. 3692. 3694. Deportation of non-residents. Laws of 1917, ch. 56.

If the applicant does not have a legal settlement in the state, or if the place of settlement is in doubt, the superintendent must notify the board of state charities. The board must make an investigation and may order the applicant committed or deported. The expense of deportation is paid by the state.

Order of admission. Statutes. 3731.

Applicants for admission into the hospitals when they are crowded must be received in the following order: (1) recent cases, when the disease is of less than one year's duration, (2) chronic cases, more than one year's duration, presenting the most favorable prospects of recovery, (3) those for whom application has been longest on file. Superintendents are required to see that each county has a just proportion of its applicants accepted according to its population, but the trustees may give preference to recent cases from one county, over chronic cases from another.

3704. Rejected applications may be renewed by the proper county clerk by reference to the original application, and may be accepted by the superintendent, provided the renewal is made within six months of the inquest.

Arrest of dangerous insane. 7879.

A justice of the peace must issue a warrant to a constable or sheriff for the arrest of any person of whom complaint under oath has been made that he is dangerously insane. The justice must summon witnesses and a jury of disinterested householders, and determine the sanity of the person complained of as dangerously insane. If the jury finds that the person is dangerously insane the justice appoints some one to take charge of and confine the insane person at the expense of the county. The justice must certify his findings in the case to the circuit court of the county wherein a new hearing of the case must be had if the finding was against the insane person, or an appeal may be had by the complainant if the finding was in favor of the person charged with being dangerously insane. Upon verdict in the circuit court that the person is dangerously insane the court must appoint a guardian for him and approve the appointment of the custodian of his person made by the justice of the peace or appoint some other custodian. A person thus declared to be dangerously insane may at any time be committed to a hospital for the insane according to the usual procedure.

Commitment. 7887.

Recommitment. 3723.

Proceedings for the recommitment of a person once declared insane and committed to a hospital but afterwards discharged may be instituted upon the affidavit of a physician that the person was adjudged insane, was an inmate of a hospital, was discharged, but is again insane, and a proper subject for treatment in a hospital. A copy of this affidavit certified to by the county clerk and a certificate from the clerk of the county circuit court of the record of the former adjudgment of insanity are transmitted to the superintendent of the proper hospital for the insane or to the friends of the patient and upon them as a basis an inquest into the mental state of the alleged insane person is made according to the procedure of an original inquest.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Appeal from commitment may be made on a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of any person committed as insane, and the question of insanity must be decided at the hearing. An adverse decision does not bar the issuance of another writ after three months have elapsed. Habeas corpus.
3729.

e. Cost of commitment. A guardian appointed for a person of unsound mind must pay the expenses of the legal procedure out of the estate of his ward. If the person alleged to be of unsound mind is found to be of sound mind, the person who made the charge of insanity against him must pay the costs. The estate of a person of unsound mind must pay the costs of a proceeding brought for his release on the ground of recovery, if the proceedings are successful; if he is held still to be of unsound mind costs are taxed to the person filing the application for him. All expenses incident to commitments into a hospital for the insane are paid by the counties. To a guardian.

3732.

If a person declared dangerously insane by a circuit court has no family, the costs of proceedings, commitment, and maintenance are paid out of his estate if he has any, and the costs of the proceedings in the court of the justice of the peace are refunded to the county out of it; but if he has a family these expenses are borne by the county of which he is a legal resident unless his estate exceeds in value $500. If on the trial in the circuit court he is released, all these expenses are borne by the persons bringing the complaint of insanity against him. superintendent.
Statutes.

A patient who has been restored to health must be discharged by the superintendent of the hospital for the insane to the sheriff of the county from which the patient was committed, to friends willing and able to care for him, or to himself if he is able to provide for himself. Discharge to a sheriff is to remove the patient to his home and is made upon order from the clerk of the county circuit court on notice to the clerk from the superintendent of the hospital.

An inmate of a county asylum for the incurably insane may be discharged by the board of county commissioners to friends willing and able to provide for him.

3102.

Insane paupers for whom a guardian has been appointed are provided for under the laws regulating the relief of the poor.

Estate liable.
3111.

The expenses for maintenance of a person dangerously insane must be paid out of his estate on direction of the court which has declared him insane, or if the estate is insufficient, or necessary for the support of his family, out of the county treasury.

Laws of 1917,
ch. 72.

When a person is supported at public expense in a hospital for the insane and is found to have an estate which is not needed for the support of other dependents, the amount of expenses incurred by the state is a charge against the estate.

Clothing.
Statutes.
3707.

If insane persons committed to a hospital for the insane are not supplied with an ample supply of suitable clothing, the clerk of the county must furnish the necessary supply at a cost not to exceed thirty dollars to be paid out of the county treasury. Inmates of a hospital not otherwise supplied must be furnished by the superintendent with the necessary clothing at an expense of not more than twenty dollars per annum for each patient to be charged to the county from which he was committed.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons acquitted of crime.
2070.
2071A.

When the defendant in a criminal cause desires to plead insanity, his defense must be set up in writing.

The jury or court trying the case is required to determine whether the defendant was insane at the time of commission of the act and whether not guilty because of insanity at that time.

If the defendant is found not guilty on account of insanity the court must find as to the defendant's sanity at the time of the trial. A male defendant found insane is committed to the hospital for insane criminals, a female to any state hospital where there are females. If the defendant is sane at the time of the trial but a recurrent attack of insanity highly probable, he is committed as above.

2071b.

Any time after six months the insane convict may file in the court in which he was committed an application to be discharged and if the judge is satisfied that sanity is restored and recurrence of insanity improbable he must order him discharged. A subsequent application for discharge may not be made within two years of a previous one.

Application for discharge.
2071c.

If a court before the trial, or during its progress but before the final submission of the cause to the court or jury, believes the defendant insane, two physicians must be appointed to examine him and testify at a hearing; other evidence may be introduced to prove the defendant's sanity or insanity. If the court finds that the defendant has comprehension sufficient to understand the nature of the criminal action against him and the proceedings thereon and to make his defense, the trial may not be delayed. In event of the opposite finding, the defendant must be committed to the hospital for insane criminals if a male, or to a state hospital if a female.

Delay of trial.
2071d.

When the superintendent of a hospital certifies that the defendant has become sane or the court is sufficiently advised of restoration, the defendant is placed on trial.

The sheriff is allowed fees, as for taking insane persons to a hospital.

2071e.

Upon certification by the physician of a state prison or reformatory to the superintendent or warden that a convict is insane, the superintendent, or warden, if satisfied of his insanity, must report the case to the governor. Upon the order of the governor, to whom he reports their findings, the superintendent or warden convenes a lunacy commission, made up of a resident justice of the peace and two physicians, to examine the alleged insane convict and report on his condition. Five days before the holding of the examination, the superintendent or warden must notify the next friend or relative of the convict, and the board of state charities. The governor, if convinced that the convict is insane, orders him committed to the state hospital for insane criminals and orders the general superintendent or warden to transfer him. An insane convict receives credit on his sentence for the time he is under treatment in the state hospital for insane criminals.

The governor, upon notice from the warden or physician of the hospital for the criminal insane that a convict confined as insane has recovered his sanity, orders him transferred to the penal institution from which he was removed if the recovery occurred before the expiration of the sentence for crime. If the insanity of a convict continues beyond the expiration of his sentence for crime, he is kept in the hospital for criminal insane until he regains his sanity, but upon certification of his recovery by the physician and warden of the hospital, the governor orders the warden to discharge him and to report his discharge to the institution from which he was transferred, and to the board of state charities.

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of control of state institutions is composed of three electors, not more than two of whom may belong to the same political party or reside in the same congressional district, appointed by the governor for terms of six years and subject to removal by him. Each member receives a salary of $3,000 per annum and necessary traveling expenses within the state. The board is vested with the management of all state charitable and correctional institutions, replacing the former boards of trustees, and exercises supervisory powers over all county and private institutions in which insane persons are cared for. The board is required to gather and present information in regard to the best and most successful methods of caring for the insane, to encourage scientific investigations by the medical staffs of the hospitals for the insane and to publish the results of the scientific and clinical work done in these institutions. The board must make a biennial report to the governor and legislature.

Board of control. Supplement, 1913. 2727-a 1.

2727-a 11.

Private institutions.

2727-a 12.

The board of control has the direction and management of the state hospitals for the insane. It appoints for each one a qualified medical superintendent for a term of four years and may remove him for cause. It fixes the number and salaries of employees, but the discharge of employees is a function of the superintendents. It is obligatory upon the board to make monthly visits to the state hospitals.

2727-a 24.

Superintendent.

The county homes (poor asylums) are under the control of the board of county supervisors, who appoint the stewards and prescribe the regulations for their management. The county poor-houses with departments for the insane are subject to monthly visits by the board of control of state institutions.

County supervisors.

Independence State Hospital, Independence; established, 1869; 1,224 beds.

Clarinda State Hospital, Clarinda; established, 1885; 1,160 beds.
Cherokee State Hospital, Cherokee; established, 1902; 1,000 beds.

b. In local institutions. Most of the counties (sixty-four in all) maintain county homes having special accommodations for the cure of chronic and incurable harmless insane who are residents of the county.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, not idiots, with a legal residence in the state are entitled to admission to the state hospitals if found fit subjects for treatment in these institutions. Persons found to be without a legal settlement in the state who become insane must be cared for in a state hospital, until their legal residence can be ascertained, or they can be transported to it.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Each county has a board of three commissioners of insanity, and in counties where district court is held in two places there is one such board of commissioners at each place, consisting of the clerk of the district court, or his deputy, one physician in actual practice and of good professional standing, and one lawyer in actual practice and of good standing, appointed by the judge of the district court. The appointments may be made by the court for terms of two years. The clerk of the board must sign and issue all notices, appointments, warrants, etc., and file and preserve in his office all papers connected with any inquest by the commissioners. The commissioners have cognizance of all applications for admission to the hospital, or for the safe-keeping otherwise of persons within their respective counties, except in cases otherwise specially provided for.

Applications, directed to the commissioners of insanity, for admission to the hospital must be made in the form of an information, verified by affidavit, alleging that the person in whose behalf the application is made is believed by the informant to be insane, a fit subject for custody and treatment in the hospital, and that he is in the county. The commissioners may examine the informant and other witnesses under oath, and may require that the person for whom admission is sought be brought before them, providing for his custody meanwhile. Any citizen of the county or relative of the person alleged to be insane may appear and resist the application, and employ counsel. The commissioners must appoint some regular practicing physician of the county to make a personal examination of the person alleged to be insane. The examining physician must endeavor to obtain from the relatives of the person, or from others who know the facts, answers to prescribed interrogatories, the answers to be attached to his certificate. If at any time it is necessary to discriminate in the general reception of patients in a hospital, a selection must be made in the following order: (1) cases of less duration than one year; (2) chronic cases, where the disease is of more than one year's duration, presenting the most favorable prospects for recovery; (3) those for whom application has been longest on file; (4) where cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent have the preference. asylums.
Supplement.
2727-a 65.

No person may be confined in any private institution for the care or treatment of the insane, except upon the certificate of a board of commissioners of insanity of some county in the state, or of two reputable physicians, at least one of whom must be a bona fide resident of the state. Authority of

2727-a 66.

The superintendents of the hospitals for the insane are required immediately to notify the board if there is any question of the propriety of the commitment or detention of any patient received. Questionable commitments.
2727-a 29.

An insane person who can not at once be admitted to a hospital or whose case is appealed must be suitably provided for by the commissioners if he can not safely be allowed to go at liberty. He may be cared for as a private patient by relations or friends who will provide for him without public charge. In such case, the commissioners must appoint some suitable person special custodian. In the case of public patients, the commissioners must require that they be cared for by the board of supervisors at the expense of the county. On application in behalf of persons alleged to be insane, whose admission to the hospital is not sought, asking for their care as insane within the county, the commissioners, on proof of their insanity and need of care, may provide for them, as in case of other applications. Custody

Code.

No person who is found to be insane may, pending admission to the hospital, be confined in any jail or place of solitary confinement, except in cases of extreme violence; and in such a case there must at all times be a suitable person in charge of him. At no time may any female be placed in such confinement without at least one female attendant remaining in charge of her. Detention in jails.

c. Voluntary admission.

Statement and affidavit.

d. Appeal from commitment. On a statement in writing, verified by affidavit, addressed to a judge of the district court of the county in which the hospital is situated, or of the county in which any person confined in a hospital has his legal settlement, alleging that he is not insane, the judge must appoint a commission of not more than three persons to inquire into the merits of the case one of whom must be a physician, and if two or more are appointed, another must be a lawyer. They must forthwith report to the judge the result of their examination and accompany it by a statement of the case, made and signed by the superintendent. If the judge finds the person not insane, he must order his discharge; if the contrary, he must authorize his continued detention. The applicant must pay the costs of the inquiry if the judge finds that the application was made without probable ground. A commission of inquiry may not be repeated oftener than once in six months in regard to the same person, nor may a commission be appointed in the case of any patient within six months of the time of his admission.

Paid by the county or the state. Supplement. 2308a.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses of the arrest, care, investigation and commitment of an insane person without a legal settlement including the costs of appeal, if one is taken and the person is found to be insane on appeal, are paid in the first instance by the county in which the person is found to be insane. If he has a legal settlement in another county of the state, the expenses are to be paid by that county. If the person has no legal settlement within the state, the expenses are paid by the state.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Code. 2266.

Unless the patient or some one in his behalf appeals the case to the district court, the commissioners of insanity must direct the sheriff to deliver him to the hospital together with all the documents in the case, or may appoint some other suitable person. No female may be taken to the hospital without the attendance of some other female or some relative. The superintendent, in his acknowledgment of delivery, must state whether there was any such person in attendance. Any relative or immediate friend of the patient, who is a suitable person, has the privilege of executing the warrant in preference to the sheriff or any other person.

Female attendant.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

From outside care to hospital. 2274.

Insane persons who have been under care outside of the hospital by authority of the commissioners of any county may, on application, be transferred to the hospital on their warrant. The admission may be had without another inquest at any time within six months after the inquest already had.

When the board of control finds that any patient cared for at public expense in any private hospital or county institution is violent and his case acute, it may remove him to a state hospital at the expense of the proper county. In like manner, when the board finds a chronic patient in a state hospital, it may order the county to which he is chargeable to remove him to a county or private institution for the insane, but not without the written consent of his immediate relatives or of the commissioners of insanity of the county to which he is chargeable.

Removal of patients from county asylum. 2727-a 64.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Any patient who is cured must immediately be discharged by the superintendent and furnished with a certificate to that effect, a copy of which is to be forwarded to the clerk of the district court of the county from which the patient was committed. The record is prima facie evidence of his recovery and restores him to all his civil rights. The relatives of any patient not susceptible of cure by remedial treatment in the hospital, and not dangerous to be at large, have the right to take charge of and remove him. No patient under criminal charge or conviction may be discharged without the order of the district court and notice to the county attorney.

Discharge. 2288.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Indigent patients are maintained at the expense of the county in which they have a legal residence. If they have no such residence they are charges upon the state.

Indigents. Laws of 1911, Chap. 97.

When the superintendent of the hospital has been notified that a patient sent to the hospital from one county has a legal settlement in another county, he must thereafter hold and treat such patient as from the latter county; and such holding applies to expenses already incurred in behalf of such patient and remaining unadjusted. Patients in a hospital having no legal settlement in the state, or whose legal settlement can not be ascertained, are supported at the expense of the state.

Code. 2281.

2283.

The estates of insane persons and of their relatives are liable for their support; and the auditors of the several counties are authorized and empowered to collect from the property of such patients, or from any person legally bound for their support, any sums paid by the county in their behalf.

Non-indigents. 2297

The estates of all patients in state hospitals for the insane who are nonresidents of this state, and all persons legally bound for their support are liable for the reasonable value of the care and treatment of such patients while in the hospitals.

Laws of 1911, Chap. 98, 1.

The relatives or friends of any patient in a hospital have the privilege of paying any portion or all of the expenses.

Code. 2285.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Commitment of insane
prisoners.

In the case of a defendant whose sanity is doubted at any stage of the trial of a criminal prosecution, the proceedings must be suspended and a trial had upon the question of insanity. If the accused is found insane and his discharge is dangerous to public peace, the court must order him committed to the department for criminal insane at the state penitentiary.

If the defendant is acquitted on the ground of insanity and his discharge is dangerous, the court must order him confined in a hospital for the insane or retained in custody until he becomes sane.

On a sworn application made by any citizen stating that a person confined in any prison within the county charged with a crime, but not convicted thereof nor on trial therefor, is insane, the commissioners of insanity must have the prisoner brought before them, and if they find that he is insane, they must direct his removal to one of the hospitals for the insane, and the superintendent of the hospital designated must receive and keep him as a patient. After an investigation such as contemplated in this section, the commissioners may not entertain a like application within six months on behalf of the same person. When any insane person is thus confined, the superintendent, as soon as such person is restored to reason, must return him to the jail of the county from which he was received.

2280.

Insane
convicts.
5709.

A convict confined in either of the state penitentiaries who becomes insane must be confined in the department for the insane at the state penitentiary until he has served out his sentence or is pronounced cured, in which latter event he must be held in the penitentiary to serve out his unexpired sentence.

Laws of Kansas, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of administration of state charitable institutions is composed of three members appointed by the governor for terms of four years, at a salary of $3,500 per annum. The board administers and enforces the laws relating to the insane and their treatment in or out of hospitals, and has power to make rules and regulations in regard to the licensing, visitation, and inspection of all private institutions for the insane; the forms to be observed in regard to the commitment, transfer, custody and discharge of insane persons; the reports and information to be furnished by superintendents and other executives of all institutions for the insane. The board must visit the state hospitals at least once a month and make an annual report to the governor and biennial report to the legislature. Board of administration.

The state hospital for the dangerous insane is under the board of administration, and the physician of the state penitentiary is its medical superintendent.

No person or physician may establish a private hospital for the care or treatment of the insane for compensation without first obtaining a license from the state board of administration. The application for it must be accompanied by a plan of the premises to be occupied. Before granting any such license, the board must have visited the premises to be licensed. The board may make such terms and regulations in regard to a license as it deems necessary, and may revoke the license of any private hospital or institution for due reasons. Conducting a private hospital or institution without a license is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of ten dollars for each day the institution is carried on in violation of law. The county attorney of the proper county must proceed against the offender. Private institutions.
General Statutes.

9631.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. The board of administration, with the consent of the governor, must appoint a superintendent or executive officer of each hospital for the insane. Such superintendent must have at least two years' experience as superintendent in a similar institution or be a specialist in nervous diseases. The board fixes the number of subordinate employees and their compensation. The superintendent, subject to the rules and regulations of the board of administration, has Superintendent.

personal charge and supervision over his institution and must make his reports to the state board of control.

2. CARE

Osawatomie State Hospital, Osawatomie; established 1866; 1,365 beds.

Topeka State Hospital, Topeka; established 1875; 1,606 beds.

Hospital for the Dangerous Insane (in connection with state penitentiary), Lansing; established 1911; 60 beds.

Larned State Hospital, Larned; established 1913; 120 beds.

b. In local institutions. Incurable or harmless indigent insane and those who can not be received by the state hospitals are cared for in the county asylums or by the county commissioners, who have control of these institutions, appoint the superintendents and physicians, and may annually select a board of visitors.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, except idiots and epileptics, who are residents of the state are entitled to treatment in the hospitals for the insane.

Any person whose mind, by reason of brain sickness, has become unsound, rendering him incapable of managing his own estate or dangerous to himself or others is defined as insane. No person idiotic from birth, or whose mental development was arrested by disease or physical injury prior to the age of puberty, and no person who is afflicted with simple epilepsy, is regarded as insane, unless the manifestations of abnormal excitability, violence or homicidal or suicidal impulses render his confinement in a hospital a proper precaution to prevent him from injuring others or himself.

Insane persons, idiots, imbeciles, and epileptics who are committed by the courts or transferred from the penal institutions are cared for in the state hospital for dangerous insane.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. When a person is supposed to be insane, any reputable citizen of the town or township in which he resides or is found may file a sworn statement with the probate judge of the county that the person named is insane and unsafe to be at large, and that the welfare of himself and others requires his restraint or commitment to some hospital for the insane. The statement must be accompanied by the names of two witnesses. If the person alleged to be insane has not been examined by a physician, the judge may appoint a qualified physician of the county to make an examination.

Upon the filing of the statement, unless the person alleged to be insane is brought before the court without a writ, or unless it is shown that the condition of the patient makes it improper to bring him before the court, the probate judge must direct that he be brought before the court for a hearing. The hearing may not take place until the person alleged to be insane is notified.

Inquests in lunacy must be by jury or commission, at the discretion of the court. Inquests must be by the jury when it is demanded by the person alleged to be insane, or by any person acting in his behalf. In such cases the court must appoint competent counsel for the person alleged to be insane.

Trial.

When no jury is demanded or a trial by jury is not expedient, the probate judge must appoint a commission of two qualified physicians in regular practice to make a personal examination of the patient and file with the probate court a sworn report of their findings. The commission has power to administer oaths and take sworn testimony. Inquests in lunacy may be in open court, or in chambers, or at the house of the person alleged to be insane; the presence of the accused is indispensable.

Examination
by physician.
9600.

A jury of four persons, one of whom must be a physician who has been in regular practice for three years and of good standing, must be impaneled when a case is tried by jury. The person alleged to be insane must be present, represented by counsel, and may challenge jurors as in civil cases. The verdict must be signed by all members of the jury, and contain a brief statement of the medical treatment in the case, signed by the physician or physicians upon the jury. If the person is adjudged to be insane and a fit person to be sent to a hospital, the court must order his commitment. If not satisfied with the findings of the jury or commission, the probate judge may set them aside, and dismiss the proceedings or order another inquest. The order entered by the judge in accordance with the findings of the jury or commission may discharge the patient with or without conditions or remand him to the custody of his friends, or commit him to some hospital, public or private, in the state, or to a county insane asylum or the insane department of a county almshouse in the county where the alleged insane person resides.

9602.

Jury trial.
9603.

Insane persons may be committed to private hospitals or institutions in the same manner as to a state hospital for the insane, or on examination and certification by a physician chosen by the state board of administration. Such physicians are appointed in different parts of the state to serve during the board's pleasure and receive five dollars for each certificate.

9632.

The probate judge, in selecting a private asylum in cases adjudged insane in his court, must be governed by the wishes of the friends and relatives of the insane person. No county can recover for the care of an insane person confined in a private hospital unless he first has been refused admission to one of the state hospitals for want of room, and then only at the rate of $2 a week.

Nonresidents
in private institutions.
9624.

Insane persons not residents of the state may not be detained in any private institution in this state unless committed in accordance with the laws of the state or territory of which they are residents or with the laws of this state.

Application for guardian.
9607.

Any person filing application for an inquest in the case of a person possessed of any estate may at the same time apply for the appointment of a guardian for him.

Order for admission.
9604.

Having ordered an insane person committed to a state hospital, the probate judge must without delay make application to the board of administration for his admission, transmitting with the application a copy of the report of the examining physician and the verdict of the jury or commission, under his signature, and the board must designate the hospital to which he shall be conveyed.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Appeals may be made to the district court from any order or judgment rendered, upon the appellant giving such bond and security as the court may direct. Appeal from commitment may be made on behalf of any person committed as insane, and the question must be decided by the probate court after inquiry, with or without a jury. Such inquiry may not be held oftener than once in six months in regard to the same person and not within six months of the time of the admission of any patient. (See 6. Parole and discharge of patients; habeas corpus.)

9621.

e. Cost of commitment. In case of county patients, the costs must be paid from the county treasury; but in case of private patients, the costs must be paid by the guardian or relatives of the insane out of his estate. When a person is found to be sane, the court may require that the costs be paid by the person who filed the statement. When any person residing in the state is adjudged insane by the probate court of any county of which he is not a resident, the probate judge of the county in which the person resides must be furnished with a transcript of the record and findings in the case, whereupon the county becomes liable for the costs of proceedings, transportation, clothing and other incidental expenses of commitment.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

If any competent relative or friend of a person committed to a hospital for the insane requests the warrant of commitment, it must be delivered to him for service. In committing female patients to the state hospital, unaccompanied by some relative, the probate judge must appoint a female attendant to accompany the sheriff or other person to whom the warrant of commitment is delivered. Female attendant.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The board of administration may release patients on parole.

Authority to discharge patients from any of the state institutions for the insane is vested in the state board of administration, but may be delegated to the respective superintendents. Discharges may be made because the person is not insane, or because he has recovered, or because he has so far improved as to be capable of caring for himself, or because the friends of the patient request his discharge and in the judgment of the superintendent no evil consequences are likely to follow, or because there is no prospect of further improvement and the room is needed for others. No patient who is violent, dangerous or unusually troublesome or filthy may be discharged from any state institution and sent back to any county farm, almshouse or insane department of any almshouse not provided with suitable conveniences and facilities for his care. No patient who has not recovered his reason or who is charged with crime may be discharged until at least ten days' after notice has been given to the probate judge to make some order in regard to the disposition of the patient.

By the board of administration. 9616.

By superintendents. Reasons for discharge.

Discharges not allowed.

Any relative or friend of a patient admitted to a private institution may apply for his discharge to its superintendent; and, in case the superintendent refuses to grant it, may apply to the probate court of the county where the institution is located, which court has authority to hear the application, and may discharge the patient or not.

From private institution. 9635.

Upon proper notice that a patient committed on his order has been discharged as cured, the probate judge must order the patient restored to all his rights as a citizen. At any time subsequent to the discharge of a patient not recovered, the probate judge of the county may hear the evidence tending to show that such patient has recovered, and if satisfied of his recovery, may make a similar order, and thereafter the patient is not liable to commitment to any hospital for the insane without a new inquest.

Restoration of citizenship. 9617.

An insane inmate of a county asylum for the poor may be discharged by the county commissioners to friends who are willing and able to care for him.

By county commissioners.

A writ of habeas corpus may be presented by any person who, under any pretense, is restrained of his liberty.

Habeas corpus. 6283.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Patients committed to any state hospital for the insane must be designated either as private or county patients. The probate judge must transmit to the superintendent of the hospital a statement showing the financial condition of a patient committed by him, and of the persons bound in law to maintain him. Each county is entitled to receive from the state a sum not to exceed $2 a week for each destitute insane person in the county whose admission to the state hospital has been refused for want of room or who has been discharged from the state hospital to make room for another patient. No private patient may be received into any state hospital for the insane unless there has been filed with the superintendent a bond with sufficient sureties, approved by the probate judge for the payment of all incidental expenses incurred by the institution on his account.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person confined in the state penitentiary, the state industrial reformatory, or any other penal institution in the state is alleged to be insane, the warden, superintendent or other person in charge, with the consent of the board in charge of the penal institution, must cause the person to be examined by the probate court of the county in which he is confined, as in the case of other insane persons. If he is found insane, he must be transferred by the order of the probate court to the state hospital for the dangerous insane. If his sanity is restored before the period of his commitment to the penal institution has expired, he must be removed to the institution from whence he came, there to complete the period of his sentence. The period for which he is removed is counted as a part of the term of the confinement. If the insanity continues after the expiration of his sentence, he must be detained in the hospital until his sanity is restored.

Any inmate of a state hospital or asylum for the insane or epileptic, or the home for feeble-minded found by the state board of administration to have homicidal tendencies, or to be under sentence or indictment or information, or whose presence is dangerous to the other inmates of said institution, must be transferred to the state hospital for the dangerous insane.

Any person under indictment or information found by the court or by commission or another jury impaneled for the purpose of trying such question, to be insane, an idiot or an imbecile, must be forthwith committed to the state hospital for the dangerous insane for safe-keeping and treatment until he has recovered, when he must

When during the trial of any person on an indictment, or information, evidence is introduced to prove that he was insane, an idiot or imbecile at the time of the commission of the offense and he is acquitted on that ground, the jury or the court must so state in the verdict and the court must thereupon commit him to the state hospital for the dangerous insane. No person thus acquitted may be liberated from the hospital, except upon the order of the court committing him, and until the superintendent certifies that in his opinion he has wholly recovered.

KENTUCKY

Authority:

Statutes of Kentucky, 1915

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

State board of control.
Statutes.
217A 1.

a. General. The state board of control consists of four members, two from each of the two leading political parties, appointed by the governor for a term of four years. Members of the board must be at least 25 years old, and have been citizens of the state for the last five years preceding their appointment. A bond of $25,000 is required of each commissioner. Each member receives a salary of $2,500 a year and his necessary traveling expenses.

217A 3.

The board has under its control the three state hospitals for the insane and the feebleminded institute. It must hold regular meetings at each of the institutions at least once in each month, and make a thorough examination of the affairs, management, property, clothing, food, supplies, condition of buildings and grounds, and the conduct of every official and employee, of which it must make a complete record, together with such rules and regulations as it may give. The board must ascertain whether the objects of the institutions are being properly accomplished and the laws in relation to them fully complied with, and make an annual report to the governor and a biennial report to the governor and general assembly.

Appointment
of officers.
217A 4.

The board of control must appoint at each hospital, for terms of four years, a medical superintendent, a first, second and third assistant physician, each of whom must be a skillful and competent physician, who has practiced his profession at least three years (provision is made for the appointment of a woman physician to each hospital) and a steward. The board may remove them for cause.

Superintendent.
243.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees for the state hospitals. The medical superintendent has the general management, supervision and control of the patients, subject to the regulations of the board of control. (His duties in regard to keeping records of patients, their condition, treatment, etc., are prescribed by law in detail.) He must make monthly reports to the board of control of the number of deaths among the patients, and their causes, and of all escapes, recoveries and removals of patients. The superintendent appoints all inferior officers and employees not otherwise provided for and may remove any of them at pleasure.

244.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Eastern State Hospital, Lexington; established 1824; 1,065 beds.
Western State Hospital, Hopkinsville; established 1854; 1,200 beds.
Central State Hospital, Lakeland; established 1873; 1,400 beds.

The statutes require that white and negro patients shall be cared for in separate departments.

b. In local institutions. Each county poorhouse must provide for the care of the harmless incurable insane and such other patients as may not be received at the state hospitals. The poorhouses are under the control of the county courts. Poorhouses.
3932.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, except idiots, epileptics and the harmless incurable, having a legal settlement in some county are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for treatment at the state's expense.

All pauper idiots, epileptics and harmless incurable insane persons, must be returned by the hospitals to the several counties from which they were sent and given into the custody of their friends if any; if not, then to the county judge, or, if they are residents of and sent from the city of Louisville, then to the mayor of that city who must make suitable provision for their support. The hospitals must also return each paying patient of the aforesaid classes to his county of residence, or whence he came. Classes not admissible.
247.

When upon application to the proper hospital a patient is rejected for want of room, immediate application must be made to another. The board of control must take care that each of the hospitals is kept full to its utmost capacity of such patients as are receivable by it as long as any of them in the state are unprovided for. Resident patients always have preference over pay patients from other states, and any patient found insane must be received. 250.
253.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Inquests to determine whether a person is of unsound mind (idiot, lunatic, non compos) must be held by the circuit court of the county. If no circuit court is in session in the county, the inquest may be held by a judge of a circuit court or by the presiding judge of the county court; but in no case may an inquest upon an idiot be held except in the circuit court. The judge may make all orders for the care of the person found to be of unsound mind or imbecile or incompetent to manage his estate, and must, if necessary, make all orders for the appointment of a committee and the security of the estate and care of the person in question. The judge holding the inquest may order a person found insane to the state hospital; but in no case may an order be made to send an idiot to a state hospital unless the jury, by their verdict, finds that he is so dangerous or uncontrollable that he can not properly or safely be kept by a committee at home. Inquest.
2156.

The personal presence of the person charged with being of unsound mind is required, unless it shall appear by the oath or affidavit of Examination.

two regular practicing physicians, that they have personally examined him and find him to be insane, and that his condition is such that he would be unsafe to bring into court. The case must be heard before a jury. If the judge is satisfied with the inquest, judgment must be entered accordingly, or he may order the inquest set aside if he finds it contrary to law or not sustained by the evidence, and order a new inquest.

2158.
2159.

Whenever it appears to the county or circuit court from an affidavit filed that a person found of unsound mind has been restored to his proper senses, or that the inquest was false or fraudulent, the court must direct the facts to be inquired into by a jury in open court, and make all necessary orders or decrees in the premises.

Retrial.
2160.

When a person has been found to be insane, the presiding judge must endeavor to ascertain and draw up a brief history of the patient's case, covering certain specified points, and transmit the same to the hospital to which the patient is sent.

History of case.

217A 33.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Cost of commitment. The expense of committing and transporting indigent patients is paid by the state unless they have sufficient estate.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The circuit court or county judge ordering any person to be sent to a hospital for the insane must notify the superintendent, advising him of the sex and condition of the person, and the superintendent must immediately send a competent attendant to convey such person to the institution.

Attendant.
217A 33

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendents of the several hospitals may permit the family or friends of patients, whose condition of mind and health is such that they may be taken care of and treated properly outside of the hospital, to be removed from it, either permanently or for such length of time as the superintendents may deem prudent. No patient may be discharged as cured except by the authority of the superintendent. Any cured patient who was admitted to the hospital while in custody or upon a criminal charge, must be delivered to the keeper of the penitentiary or to the jailer of the county whence he came. A cured pauper, before being discharged, must be furnished with clothes and enough money to pay his traveling expenses to his home.

Parole.
252.

Discharge.
253.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

A pauper idiot or insane person, who has been found so by the verdict of a jury, or committed by order of court and who has no estate sufficient for his support and no relatives liable for his support, must be cared for in a state hospital at the expense of the state.

Paid by the state.
217a 14.

When the patients supported in the state hospitals acquire estates which can be subject to debt, the board of control must sue for and recover the amount of such patient's board at the rate of $150 per year, or so much of it as the estate will suffice to pay. The board of control must sue for and recover from persons liable for the support of patients provided they have sufficient estates.

Board of control may sue for support of patients.
257.

Pay patients are charged a fixed sum per annum to be paid in advance for the first six months, and security must be furnished for payment for the remainder of the time they may be in the hospitals. But if the patient be discharged or die before the expiration of the six months paid for, a proper proportion of the amount paid must be refunded.

Pay patients.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When the sanity of a person appearing for trial is questioned, or a defendant alleges insanity as a cause against judgment, a jury of twelve must determine the question. If found insane, the defendant may be kept in prison or county jail or conveyed to the nearest state hospital at the discretion of the court. If sent to the state hospital, the accused must be returned to the sheriff upon demand.

253.

A defendant acquitted on the ground of insanity may be committed by the court to a state hospital.

LOUISIANA

Authority:

Marr's Revised Statutes of Louisiana, 1915

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and correction consists of six members who serve without compensation, appointed by the governor for terms of six years. The governor is ex-officio chairman of the board. The duties of the board are strictly visitorial, without administrative or executive powers. It has the duty of inspecting all state or local charitable and correctional institutions. The board makes report to the governor annually and to each legislature.

b. Institutional. Each of the hospitals for the insane is governed by a board of administrators, consisting of eight members appointed by the governor with the advice of the senate from the state at large for terms of four years. The governor is ex-officio president of the boards. Each board has an executive committee of four members, which must visit its institution at least monthly.

The boards, which must hold at least four meetings a year and make a full report to the legislature at each session, make all rules and regulations for their own government; elect the superintendents of the hospitals, in one case to serve for four years; in the other, during good behavior; remove superintendents for cause; and determine the salaries of the officers. Superintendents name their assistant physicians and other officers, who are subject to removal by the boards upon their recommendation.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

East Louisiana Hospital for the Insane, Jackson; established 1846; 1,460 beds (with a ward for criminal insane).

Louisiana Hospital for the Insane, Pineville; established 1906; 620 beds.

b. In local institutions. The police juries of the different parishes have the duty of caring for insane persons who can not be received at the hospitals and may provide for them on poor farms or in homes.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Indigent insane persons, residents of the state, are entitled to admission to the hospitals for the insane. The board of administrators has authority to receive patients not committed by a judge on such terms as it may fix.

court that any insane person within his jurisdiction ought to be sent to one of the state hospitals for the insane, the judge must order the person to be brought before him, and summon two licensed and reputable physicians, one of whom must be the coroner of the parish, and the other the physician of the suspected person, if he has any, neither of whom may be related by affinity or consanguinity to him or have any interest in his estate. The judge and the two physicians constitute a commission to inquire whether the person is insane and a suitable subject for a hospital for the care and treatment of insane persons; and for that purpose the judge must summon witnesses who know the person suspected of insanity. The physicians in the presence of the judge must by personal examination satisfy themselves and the judge as to the mental condition of the suspected person. If the two physicians do not agree, the judge determines the issue. (The recorders of the city court of New Orleans may, however, commit insane persons.) 8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Commitment of insane persons acquitted of crime.

When a person arrested for a crime or misdemeanor before any court of the state is acquitted by the jury, or not indicted by the grand jury by reason of insanity, and his liberation is deemed by the court to be dangerous to safety, the court is authorized to commit him to the hospital for the insane or to a similar parish institution until he is restored to his right mind.

Commitment of insane persons charged with or convicted of crime.

If any person charged by affidavit, information or indictment, with the commission of any crime is found to be insane before trial or after trial and conviction, the court must order him to be committed to the ward for the criminal insane until he has been completely restored to sanity. If any such person committed to the ward for the criminal insane, in the opinion of the superintendent, is not insane, or when he has been completely restored to sanity, he must be sent back to the jail or custody and held for trial, or that sentence may be executed upon him. The superintendent of the state hospital for the insane must as often as the court requires furnish information of the status of the criminal insane during his confinement.

Return to custody on recovery.

Removal to hospital of insane convicts.
3459.

When a convict serving a sentence in the penitentiary becomes insane, the general manager of the penitentiary must petition the court where the penitentiary is located for his removal to a hospital for the insane. The judge must hear and determine the question of the convict's insanity in the same manner and by such proofs as are required by the law for the interdiction of other insane persons. If satisfied that the convict has become insane during his imprisonment, the judge must order his removal to the hospital for the insane. Upon recovery, the convict must be returned to the penitentiary, to serve out the unexpired portion of his sentence.

Notice of recovery of criminal insane to be sent to clerk of court.

When any person confined in the ward for the criminal insane has recovered his sanity, who was not guilty of the crime with which he was charged because of insanity, the superintendent of the hospital for the insane must notify the clerk of the district court of the parish wherein the crime was committed, and the sheriff of that parish must return him to the parish for trial.

Insane convicts returned to custody on recovery.

No person committed to a state hospital for the insane who became insane after his conviction for a crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary or by death, may be restored to liberty upon regaining his sanity, but must be delivered to the custody of the sheriff of the parish wherein he was convicted in order that the sentence of the court may be executed. When any person charged with a felony necessarily punishable in the state penitentiary or by death, has been adjudged insane, before or after trial or conviction, and committed to a state hospital for the insane, he must not be discharged from the hospital for the insane or delivered into the custody of the proper sheriff until the superintendents of the two state hospitals for the insane and, in case of their disagreement, a physician appointed by the judge of the district court from whence the criminal insane person was committed, are satisfied after a thorough examination that he has been completely restored to sanity and may be discharged without danger to others.

1.

The state hospitals for the insane are under the management of a committee of seven trustees, one of whom must be a woman, appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, to hold office during the pleasure of the governor and council, but not for more than three years under one appointment.

2.

In addition to the general care and management of the hospitals, the trustees are authorized to establish by-laws for their internal government and economy, and to appoint a superintendent, steward and treasurer for each hospital, subject to the approval of and to hold office during the pleasure of the governor and council, and all other necessary officers.

4.

Each hospital must be examined monthly by two trustees, quarterly by three, and annually by a majority of the full board, and at any other time when they deem it necessary, or the superintendent requests it.

Committee of

When a person has been unlawfully committed, the superintendent must report the case to the trustees, and they may have the person removed to the town from which he was committed. The superintendent, at each monthly visit of the trustees, must report to them any inmate who was idiotic at the date of his commitment, and who has become so imbecile as to be beyond cure, and if he thinks that such inmate may safely be discharged, the trustees must order his discharge and removal to the town by which he was committed. 10.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane who are legal residents of a town are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for the insane.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Parents and guardians of insane minors, if of sufficient ability to support them there, must within thirty days after an attack of insanity, without legal examination, send them to one of the hospitals and give to the treasurer the bond required, or they may send them to some other hospital for the insane, within this period. Without examination. ch. 145. 16.

Insane persons, not thus sent to any hospital, are subject to examination. The municipal officers of towns constitute a board of examiners, and on complaint in writing of any blood-relative, husband or wife of an alleged insane person, or of any justice of the peace, they must immediately inquire into his condition, appoint a time and place for a hearing, and notify the person alleged to be insane. They must take the necessary testimony, and if they think such person insane, and that his comfort and safety or that of others interested will thereby be promoted, they must forthwith send him to either one of the insane hospitals with a certificate of insanity, and direct the superintendent to receive and detain him until he is restored or discharged. Revised Statutes.
25.

The judge of probate in the several counties likewise has power to examine insane persons, and upon complaint in writing of any blood-relation, husband or wife of the alleged insane person, or of any justice of the peace, accompanied by the certificates of some reputable physician stating that in his opinion the person is insane, may immediately appoint a time and place for hearing the case within the town or city in which the person resides or is found. The judge of probate has power to summon witnesses, and if the person is found insane, the judge must forthwith send him to one of the hospitals for the insane, directing the superintendent to receive and detain him until he is recovered or is discharged. The registrar of probate must keep a record of the doings in each case and furnish a copy to any interested person requesting and paying for it. The municipal officers or the judge of probate first taking jurisdiction of a complaint have exclusive jurisdiction in the matter until the complaint is finally disposed of. In case of refusal to commit by one of these tribunals after notice and hearing, no complaint may be made to the other tribunal with reference to the same person within thirty days after the decision is recorded; and only after application to each of said tribunals and neglect or refusal for three days on the part of each to act, may further proceedings be taken.

29. d. Appeal from commitment. Persons liable for the support of a patient who has been in either hospital for six months and who has not been committed by the supreme judicial court and is not afflicted with homicidal insanity, may apply to the municipal officers of the patient's town for his release, if they think him unreasonably detained. If the application is unsuccessful, it may not be renewed until the expiration of another six months. When the committee of visitors becomes satisfied that an inmate, other than one charged with or convicted of crime and committed by order of court, is unnecessarily detained, they must apply for a writ of habeas corpus; and if the judge issuing it is satisfied, after due hearing, that the inmate is not a proper subject for custody and treatment, he must discharge the inmate. e. Cost of commitment. The town in which an insane person resided or was found at the time of his arrest is liable for the expense of his examination and commitment. Any town thus made chargeable may recover the amount paid for examination and commitment from the insane person, if he is able to pay, or from persons liable for his support, or from the town of his settlement. If he has no legal settlement in the state, the expenses must be refunded by the state.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

The trustees may transfer any patients from one hospital to the other, whenever, in their judgment, the welfare of the patients or of either institution will be promoted thereby. The expense is to be paid out of the funds of the hospital transferring the patient and is a charge upon the person liable for the board of the patient. If the board of the patient is paid by the state, the expense of the transfer must be paid by the state.

The trustees are empowered to transfer feeble-minded persons from the insane hospitals to the school for feeble-minded, and insane inmates of that school to either insane hospital. A copy of the certificate of commitment to the hospital, together with a certificate of the superintendent declaring the patient to be feeble-minded and not insane, and a certificate signed by the secretary of the trustees of the hospital showing that they voted the transfer, authorizes the superintendent of the school for feeble-minded to receive the patient in the same manner as if he had been originally committed to this institution. The expense is paid as for other transfers.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent of any public institution used wholly or in part for the care of the insane, may permit any inmate temporary leave of absence in charge of his guardian, relatives, friends or by himself for a period not exceeding six months. He may be returned by them or upon his own application within six months without a new commitment, and the liability of the state, the town, or obligator by bond for his support remains in full force upon his return. The period may be renewed by the superintendent.

A person committed to a hospital for the insane may be discharged by any justice of the supreme judicial court on satisfactory proof that his discharge will not endanger the peace and safety of the community; or the justice may, on application, commit him to the custody of any friend who will give bond to the judges of probate of the counties in which the hospitals are located, conditioned for his safe-keeping, and the payment of all damages which any person may sustain by his acts. And when, on satisfactory proof, he is again found to be insane and dangerous, any justice of the supreme judicial court may, by a precept stating the fact, recommit him to the insane hospital from which he was discharged.

At the annual meeting of the trustees, they, with the superintendent, must make a particular examination into the condition of each patient, including patients committed while under sentence in the state prison or any of the county jails, and discharge any one so far restored that his comfort and safety and that of the public no longer requires his confinement. They may transfer to the care and custody of his relatives and friends applying therefor, on conditions, any patient not held under sentence whom they are satisfied will be properly cared for by the person making the application.

When the overseers of the poor of a town, liable for the expenses of examination of a patient and his commitment to either hospital, are notified by mail by the superintendent that he has recovered from his insanity, they must have him removed to their town, and if they neglect it for 15 days, the superintendent must have it done at the expense of the town.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Paid by the state.
20.

The officers ordering the commitment of a person unable to pay for his support, or becoming unable after commitment, must certify the fact to the trustees and that he has no relatives liable and of sufficient ability to pay for his support; in which case the town of his legal residence is liable for the cost of his examination and commitment, while the cost of his support at the hospital is chargeable upon the state.

Nonindigents.
28.

When the friends of an insane person or others file a bond with the treasurer of the hospital in which he is confined, the state is not liable for his support, unless new action is had by reason of the inability of the patient or his friends longer to support him; and such action may be had in the same manner and before the same tribunal, as if he had never been admitted to the hospital.

Recovered by towns.
29.

Any town made chargeable for the commitment and support of an insane person at a hospital, may recover the amount paid from the patient, if able, or from persons legally liable for his support, or from the town where his legal settlement is; but if he has no legal settlement in the state, the expenses must be refunded by the state.

If the trustees of the hospital find that any person or municipality is lawfully liable for the support of an insane patient, they must proceed to collect all sums which have been paid by the state to the hospital for board of the patient from the person or municipality lawfully liable for his support, and thereafter the state is not required to pay for such support, so long as the liability of any person or municipality continues.

Persons or municipalities liable. 21.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person indicted for an offense or committed to jail on a criminal charge makes a plea of insanity, the justice of the court before which the case is to be tried may order him sent to one of the hospitals for the insane for observation and report by the superintendent of the hospital. When the grand jury omits to find an indictment against a person by reason of his insanity, they must so certify to the court; and when a traverse jury for the same reason acquit any person indicted, the court may commit him to the insane department of the state prison, or to either of the hospitals for the insane. Any person thus committed must be discharged by the court having jurisdiction of the case only on satisfactory proof that he will not endanger the peace and safety of the community. Upon proof that such person has again become insane and dangerous, any justice of the supreme judicial court may recommit him as insane. If a person convicted of any crime, in the supreme judicial court or in either superior court, is found insane when motion for sentence is made, the court may commit him to the insane department of the state prison, if the crime is punishable by imprisonment in this institution; otherwise the commitment must be to one of the hospitals for the insane. If, at the expiration of the period of commitment to the insane department of the state prison, the person has not recovered, he must be transferred to one of the hospitals for the insane.

Persons convicted, though insane. 7.

Insane persons transferred from the insane department of the state prison to either of the insane hospitals, upon satisfactory proof that such detention in such hospital will have a bad influence on the other patients, may be returned by the order of the governor and council.

Transfers. 9.

Insane inmates of the reformatory for women may be transferred to the hospitals for the insane by the Western Somerset municipal court, upon the application of the superintendent. The court must hold a hearing, give due notice to all parties and have the inmate examined by two physicians.

The governor must appoint in each county a competent physician, a resident of the county, to act as an examiner of insane convicts in the county jail of the county. When a convict in the state prison or the county jail becomes insane or a convict whose sentence has expired is there detained as insane, the prison physician and the examiner in the county must be notified and must investigate the case. If the convict or person detained is found to be insane, the warden or keeper of the jail must apply to the proper court for a decree. If after hearing the sworn evidence of at least two reputable physicians not in the employ of the state prison or other state jails, the judge determines that the convict or person detained is insane, he must commit him if held in the state prison to the insane department of the state prison, and if held in one of the county jails, he must commit him to one of the state hospitals. The certificate of the judge stating the town in which the prisoner or person detained resided is sufficient evidence to charge the town for the expenses of his support, if he is detained after the sentence on which he was originally committed has expired, but when his friends or others file a bond with the treasurer of the hospital in which he is confined, such town is not liable for his support. If a person so committed is restored or discharged before the expiration of the term of the sentence on which he was originally committed, he must be returned to the prison and serve out the remainder of his original sentence.

Laws of Maryland, 1910, 1916

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. Four commissioners, appointed by the governor for terms of four years, together with the attorney-general, constitute the state lunacy commission. Two of the members must be physicians, graduates of some legally authorized medical college and must have been in actual practice at least five years consecutively just preceding their appointment. One of the physicians must have had at least two years' experience in the treatment of the insane. The commissioners serve without pay. They are required to hold monthly meetings.

Lunacy

Code.
art. 59.
13.
15.

18.

The lunacy commission has supervision of all matters relating to the custody, care and treatment of the insane; is required to do whatever may be possible to ameliorate and improve their condition and to secure them all their rights and privileges as involuntary wards of the state. The commission has full power to investigate all institutions, public and private, authorized to receive insane persons, and to call for such information as it may need. The secretary of the commission must visit all public and private institutions for the insane, including county almshouses or asylums at least once in six months, ascertain whether the laws governing the care of the insane are observed, and examine the condition of buildings and inmates, as well as records and methods of administration.

Laws of 1910,
ch. 715.
Code.
art. 59.
19.

It is mandatory upon all officers of institutions for the insane to furnish the information required by the commission. Refusal to do so is punishable as a misdemeanor.

21.

The commission has power to require written reports from all institutions for the insane and to require records of patients in the form it may prescribe. The commission must encourage scientific investigations by the medical staffs of the various institutions and may publish the results. The commission is required to make an annual report in detail to the governor.

24.
19.

The lunacy commission is required to divide the state into hospital districts for the proper care and custody of the insane.

Laws of 1910,
ch. 715.
389.

All institutions for the care or custody of the insane must be licensed by the commission, except state or incorporated institutions and county almshouses, unless the latter receive patients for pay. On applying for license full plans of proposed institutions and other details required must be submitted to the commission. Upon its

Board of managers.
1.

b. Institutional. The state hospitals are under the control of boards of managers of nine members each, appointed by the governor for terms of six years, who serve without pay. The boards appoint the superintendents and the other physicians and officers necessary for the management of the hospitals, and have power to remove them. The managers make all the rules and regulations for the government of the hospitals and are required to inspect them at stated intervals.

6.

Board of visitors.
38e.

A board of visitors of five members, two of whom must be women, may be appointed by the lunacy commission for each county asylum and almshouse where insane are confined. The power of such a board is limited to inspection and recommendations to the lunacy commission, to which it must make monthly reports of visits.

38.

No institution for the insane is authorized to hold more than five insane persons in confinement unless there is a physician in regular attendance.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Spring Grove State Hospital, Catonsville; established 1797; 600 beds.
Springfield State Hospital for the Insane, Sykesville; established 1896; 1,500 beds.

Crownsville State Hospital, Crownsville; established 1911; 500 beds (for negro patients exclusively).

Eastern Shore State Hospital, Cambridge; established 1912; 300 beds.

b. In local institutions. There are no local institutions for the insane, the state having made complete provision for their care.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for the insane.

Certificate.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The county commissioners, and the supervisors of charities in the city of Baltimore, must cause indigent insane persons who have no relatives or others liable for their support to be sent, upon the written certificate of two qualified physicians, to the almshouse of the county or city to which they belong, or to a hospital or some other place better suited to their condition. If demanded by an alleged insane person or his relatives or friends, or on the request of the county authorities or of the supervisors of charity in Baltimore, the circuit court of the county or the criminal court in Baltimore must convene a jury to inquire into the insanity of the person concerned. If the authorities before whom the person is brought are not satisfied that he is insane, the state's attorney of the county or of the city of Baltimore must be notified and immediately bring the question before the circuit court or the criminal court of Baltimore for determination. Relatives or friends of such insane persons may confine them and provide for them.

No person may be committed or confined in any institution for the insane except upon written certificate of two qualified physicians, made within one week after examination of the alleged insane person, stating his insanity and giving the reason for their opinion. It is unlawful for any physician to certify to the insanity of any person for the purpose of committing him to any hospital or institution for the insane, with which the physician may be in any manner connected or interested.

Certificate,
when valid.

c. Voluntary admission. The medical superintendent or chief officer of any institution for the insane, except almshouses, may receive voluntary patients who make application in writing, provided that the expense be borne by the person applying or by his relatives or friends, or provided that the county commissioners or supervisors of city charities of Baltimore consent to his maintenance as a public charge. No voluntary patient may be detained for more than three days after having given notice of desire to leave the institution unless he in the meantime has been legally committed. No person may be received or detained as a voluntary patient whose mental condition is such or becomes such that he can not comprehend the act of voluntary commitment or is unable to request a discharge, or to give continuous assent to detention. Every voluntary patient must be reported to the lunacy commission, with a statement of his mental condition at the end of each three months of his residence in the institution.

d. Appeal from commitment. The lunacy commission at any time when it believes a person confined in any institution as insane to be not insane, may bring the matter to the attention of the proper state's attorney who must apply to the proper tribunal for the writ of habeas corpus. After inquiry, the court must discharge the person if found sane, or order him returned to the institution if found insane.

Habeas corpus.
Code.
art. 59.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Parole.
Laws of 1910,
ch. 715.
38c.

Whenever in the opinion of the chief medical officer of any institution for the insane it may benefit a patient to be granted leave of absence or parole on trial, he may grant it for not exceeding six months, with the privilege of renewal for not over thirty days, upon application in writing endorsed by the relatives, friends or other persons at whose expense the person was first committed, and who must assume responsibility for his care. No subsequent extension of leave of absence may be made, and no patient may be again admitted to any institution who has been absent from it for more than sixty days, or for more than thirty days, in case the parole had not been extended as above provided, except under a new commitment. Any such patient may be returned by his friends or brought back by the duly designated officers of the institution at or before the expiration of the period of parole.

Discharge.
Code.
38c.

The superintendent or chief medical officer of every institution for the insane must discharge a patient, except one under criminal charge, if satisfied that he has recovered. He may also discharge any quiet and harmless patient who is not likely to show a further improvement, if he is satisfied that such patient will be properly cared for and supervised. He may not discharge any person whom he has reason to believe to be dangerous to himself and others, except upon the order of some competent court. The relatives or friends may remove a patient maintained at private expense at their discretion at any time; but in the case of a person believed by the superintendent of the institution to be dangerous to himself and others, he must give notice to those making the removal that the patient is dangerous, state his reason for this belief, and file a copy of such notice with the papers upon which the patient was committed.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Nonindigents.
Laws of 1916,
ch. 566.
3, 3a.

No person may be treated as an indigent in any home or hospital for the insane in the state, who possesses sufficient income for his support or who has relatives who are able to pay for it. When an insane person is not able to pay the whole cost of his maintenance but may be able to pay for part of it, the supervisors of the city charities of Baltimore, and elsewhere the county commissioners, may designate the rate per week which shall be reimbursed to the county or to Baltimore city.

If an insane person is possessed of sufficient property to support him in any hospital or asylum for the insane, the court must appoint a trustee for the estate of such person under bond that will cause the insane person to be confined and supported in some hospital.

Code
art. 59.
9.

The expense for the care and treatment of all patients in the state hospitals for the insane is a charge upon either Baltimore city or the county sending them to the extent of one hundred dollars; the state treasury pays the balance of the cost of board, care, and treatment. When a patient is held to be a charge upon another county than the one made responsible for his maintenance in the first instance, the state comptroller must determine the patient's legal residence and issue orders accordingly. When a patient is not a proper charge upon any county, he must be supported by the state.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person indicted for a criminal offense alleges insanity and the jury finds him insane, the court trying the case must cause him to be sent to a hospital or some other suitable place, until he has recovered his reason. Any judge of the circuit court of any county where such a person is detained, or of the supreme bench of Baltimore city may, upon habeas corpus proceedings, order absolutely or conditionally the permanent or temporary discharge of the person upon proof of temporary or permanent recovery. If a person arrested for any offense or charged with any crime appears to the court to be insane, the court may cause an inquiry by the lunacy commission and if they find the person insane the court must direct his confinement as above until his recovery.

a. General. The general supervision of all institutions, public and private, for the insane, feeble-minded, epileptic, inebriates and drug habituates (except one state hospital for inebriates) is vested in the commission on mental diseases, consisting of five persons appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the council for terms of five years. The director and two associate members must be physicians and experts in the care and treatment of the insane. The director receives a salary fixed by the governor and council, not to exceed $7,500; all members are reimbursed for expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. The director is the administrative and executive head of the commission. He appoints such agents and subordinate officers as the commission deems necessary and fixes their compensation subject to the approval of the governor and council.

The commission is required to make an annual report in regard to the work of each institution under its charge, including classified statements of receipts and expenditures and estimates of expenditures for the year ensuing. It is required to encourage scientific investigation by the medical staffs of the various institutions under its supervision and to publish from time to time bulletins and reports of the scientific and clinical work done. It has charge of the construction of all new buildings or new institutions and the selection of the site of any new institution and of any land to be taken or purchased for any new or existing institution. It must visit every institution under its supervision at least once a year and oftener if the governor so directs, and ascertain by actual examination and inquiry whether the laws relating to persons in custody or control therein are properly observed, give such directions as will insure correctness in the returns required, and use all necessary means to collect desired information. It must carefully inspect every part of each institution with reference to cleanliness, sanitary condition, number of patients in seclusion and restraint, dietary and other material matters, and offer every patient an opportunity for interview with its visiting members and agents. The commission is authorized to develop a state-wide system of psychopathic hospital service.

When so directed by the governor, the commission may assume and exercise the powers of the board of trustees of any state institution under its supervision in any matter relative to the conduct and management thereof. It has the same powers relative to state charges in institutions or other places, and of their property, as are vested in towns and overseers of the poor in the support and relief of paupers.

The commission has power to investigate the question of the insanity and condition of any person who is an inmate of any institution for the insane, public or private, or restrained of his liberty by reason of alleged insanity at any place within the commonwealth, and must discharge him, if he is not insane or can be cared for without danger to others, and with benefit to himself. All questions as to the sanity of inmates of the penal, reformatory and other institutions must be referred to and determined by the commission, except as is otherwise provided by law. Acts of 1909,
9.

The commission must prescribe the forms of application, medical certificate, and order of commitment required by law in the commitment of all insane; keep records of all commitments and admissions, etc. If the commission has reason to believe that an insane person is confined in an almshouse or other place at public charge or otherwise, it must cause application to be made to a judge for his commitment to an institution under its supervision. 11.
12.

The trustees or superintendent of any institution coming under the supervision of the state commission must furnish it all the information required and immediately notify it if there is any question as to the propriety of the commitment of any person received. 27.

The commission and the boards of trustees of the state institutions under its supervision must meet semi-annually for consultation. 13.

The commission on mental diseases may annually license any suitable person to keep a hospital or private house for the care and treatment of the insane, epileptic, feeble-minded, and of persons addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants. The applicant applying for a license must be a duly qualified physician with practical experience in the care and treatment of such patients. Licenses expire with the calendar year but may be renewed. The commission on mental diseases establishes by-laws for the appointment of other officers as well as the regulations necessary for the conduct of the institution. In each institution receiving female patients and having more than two assistant physicians, one of these must be a woman. The trustees must provide for a monthly inspection of the fire apparatus and for the drill of the officers and employees in its use. (The law requires that each institution shall have proper fire escapes and fire apparatus and receive a written certificate of approval in regard to these matters from the proper inspector of factories and public buildings.)

Acts of 1914,
8.

The boards of trustees of the various institutions must maintain an effective inspection of their respective institutions; must ascertain whether the affairs of the institution are conducted according to law and according to the rules and regulations established by the commission on mental diseases; must carefully inspect every part of the institution as a board or by committee with reference to cleanliness and sanitary condition, the number of persons in seclusion and restraint, dietary matters and any other matter that may be considered worthy of attention; upon request of the commission on mental diseases must investigate any sudden death, accident or injury, whether self-inflicted or otherwise, and send a report to the commission; must personally hear and investigate the complaints and requests of inmates, officers or employees. At least two of the trustees must visit the institution each month, a majority of them quarterly and the whole board semi-annually, and they must make a written report to the commission on mental diseases whenever there are matters observed that need the attention of the commission.

Trustees have access to all books, records and accounts pertaining to their respective institutions and must be admitted at all times to the buildings and grounds. They have power at any time to cause the superintendent or any officer or employee to appear before them to answer any questions or to produce any books or documents relative to the institution.

Plans and specifications for the construction or substantial alteration of buildings, the site of any new building, the proposed taking or purchasing of any new land, and plans for the grading of grounds or substantial improvements at the institutions must be submitted to the trustees and they must report thereon to the commission on mental diseases within a time fixed by the commission. New work cannot proceed until such report has been made or until the time fixed by the commission has expired.

The records of all restraint must be kept in a book open for inspection at all times by the trustees or other persons having control of the institution, the commission on mental diseases the governor and council, and members of the general court. Restraint also includes therapeutic and chemical restraint and confinement in a strong room, or seclusion in solitary confinement.

3. The superintendent or head physician must keep personally under lock and key all implements or apparatus of restraint not in actual use.

4. The above provisions do not apply to the prolonged bath, to the hot or cold pack, or to medication when used as a remedial measure and not as a form of restraint.

Any one who knowingly violates this act is deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not less than $50 nor more than $300 for each offense.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, except feebleminded, are entitled to admission to state institutions for the insane. Insane epileptics are committed to the Monson state hospital, an institution especially for that class. Provision is also made for the commitment of female inebriates to hospitals for the insane.

Who may commit the insane.
29.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Judges of probate for the counties of Suffolk and Nantucket or a justice of a police, district or municipal court (except the municipal court of the city of Boston) within his county, may commit to any hospital or institution for the insane, whether public or private, designated by the state commission on mental diseases, any person then residing in the county, who is a proper subject for treatment or custody. Except in the case of the absence or incapacity of the justice or in case of other emergency, no special justice of a police of the district court or municipal, may make a commitment.

Certificate of physicians required.
30.

Commitment may not be made unless there has been filed with the judge a certificate of the insanity of the alleged insane person by at least two physicians, nor without an order signed by the proper judge, stating that he finds the person committed to be insane, and either that he has been an inhabitant of the commonwealth for six months immediately preceding the finding, or that provision satisfactory to the state commission on mental diseases has been made for his maintenance, or that by reason of insanity he would be dangerous if at large. The order of commitment authorizes the custody of the insane person either at the hospital to which he is first committed, or at some other hospital to which he may be transferred. The judge must see and examine the alleged insane person if he deems it advisable to do so, and must certify to the residence of the person at the time of his commitment. The judge may call in a third physician when he deems it advisable. 31.

A physician making a certificate of insanity must be a graduate of a legally chartered medical school, have been in actual practice for three years since graduation and for the three years last preceding, and be registered in accordance with the laws of the commonwealth. His standing, character and professional knowledge of insanity must be satisfactory to the judge. The physician must have examined the alleged insane person within five days of the certificate. A copy of the certificate, attested by the judge, must be transmitted to the superintendent of the hospital to which the insane person is committed, who in turn transmits copies to the state commission on mental diseases. A certificate bearing date more than ten days prior to the commitment of a person alleged to be insane is void. No certificate is valid or may be received in evidence if signed by a physician holding an appointment, except in a consulting or advisory capacity, in the hospital for the insane to which the person is committed. A statement containing facts in the form prescribed by the state commission must be filed with the application and a copy sent to the superintendent of the institution. 32. 33.

An order of commitment is void if the patient is not received at the hospital within thirty days. Acts of 1911, ch. 73.

Within two days after the reception of an insane patient, the superintendent must send notice of his commitment by mail to all persons whose addresses appear on the statement, or to any other two persons whom the patient may designate. Notice to relatives. Acts of 1909, ch. 504. 33.

After hearing such evidence as he may regard as sufficient, the judge may cause the apprehension of the alleged insane person if it is necessary or proper to do so and place him in such custody or confinement as he sees fit. Apprehension of alleged insane. 34.

The judge may summon a jury of six men to hear and determine whether the alleged insane person is insane. In such cases the judge shall have the same authority as the supreme judicial court to enforce the attendance of jurors and witnesses and to impose fines for non-attendance. The verdict of the jury is final. Hearing before jury. 36. 39. 38.

The superintendent of any hospital for the insane may, without an order of a judge, receive and detain for not more than five days any Emergency cases. 42.

person whose case is certified to be one of violent and dangerous insanity, or of other emergency, by two physicians qualified as provided by law. Officers entitled to serve a criminal process or any member of the district police must upon the request of the applicant or of the certifying physicians cause the arrest and delivery of such a person to the superintendent. The person applying for such admission must within five days cause the alleged insane person to be committed or removed from the hospital under a penalty of $50 and liability to the hospital for the expense incurred.

If a person is found by two qualified physicians to be in such mental condition that his commitment to a hospital for the insane is necessary for his proper care or observation, he may be committed to a state hospital for the insane or to the McLean Hospital (a private institution), under such limitations as the judge may direct, pending the determination of his insanity.

Persons suffering from certain mental disorders who are arrested. Acts of 1910, ch. 307.

All persons suffering from delirium, mania, mental confusion, delusions or hallucinations who come under arrest or under the care or protection of the police of the city of Boston must be taken directly to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital in the same manner in which persons afflicted with other diseases are taken to a general hospital. If the admitting physician at the hospital finds after examination that the person is suffering from delirium tremens or drunkenness the hospital need not admit him, but otherwise the hospital must admit, observe and care for all such persons until they can be committed or admitted to hospitals appropriate in each particular case.

Temporary care pending commitment. Acts of 1909, ch. 44. Acts of 1911, ch. 394.

A person suffering from insanity or mental confusion, except delirium tremens and drunkenness, may not be placed in any jail or place of detention for criminals. If he has been so placed in a case of emergency he must be examined by a physician, given proper care and not be detained for more than 12 hours. Any person not so placed, except in the city of Boston (where all such persons are to be taken to the psychopathic hospital), must be cared for by the board of health of the city or town in which he is found, which must have him examined by a physician and committed to an institution, unless he recovers or is suitably provided for by relatives or friends.

Temporary care. Acts of 1915, ch. 174.

The superintendent of any public or private hospital for the insane may receive for temporary care, not exceeding ten days, any person suffering from mental disease, on the written application of any physician, member of the board of health or police officer in any city or town, an agent of the institutions registration department of the city of Boston, or member of the district police. The patient must be discharged, committed, or remain as a voluntary patient, at the end of ten days.

Penalties are prescribed for wilfully conspiring to commit a person unlawfully to an institution for the insane as well as for the ill-treatment or neglect of any patient on the part of the hospital authorities or employees.

Unlawful
commitment.
Acts of 1909,
ch. 504.
92.

The relatives or friends of an insane person or the mayor and aldermen of the city or the selectmen of the town in which he lives may apply to the probate judge for the appointment of a guardian for him after due notice has been given. An examination by physicians may be had. Upon application of any of the same parties a temporary guardian may be appointed for an insane person by the probate court, with or without notice of hearing.

Appointment
of guardian.

100.

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of any institution to which an insane person may be committed may receive any person as a voluntary patient who makes written application and is mentally competent to make it. A voluntary patient may not be detained for more than three days after having given notice in writing of his desire to leave the institution. Due notice must be given the commission on mental diseases of each case of admission of violent and of temporary and voluntary patients.

Superintendent may admit.
45.

46.

d. Appeal from commitment. There is no provision for appeal from an order of commitment. But any person may apply to a justice of the supreme judicial court at any time for the discharge of a person whom the applicant believes ought no longer to be confined as insane. The alleged insane person may be brought before the justice at the hearing on a writ of habeas corpus. The case may be heard with or without a jury, and if it is found that the person is not insane, or not dangerous, and ought no longer to be confined, he must be discharged.

Application
for discharge.

79.

Habeas corpus.
80.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses attending the committing and delivering of an insane person, epileptic, dipsomaniac or drug habitue to a state institution are chargeable to the county in which commitment was made. If commitment does not result, the expenses incurred in seeking commitment are likewise chargeable to the county. All such expenses must be refunded the county paying them by the county of which the person in question is an inhabitant. But if the person was an inmate of a state institution at the time of his commitment or denial of application for the same, the expenses must be repaid by the county of which he was an inhabitant at the time of admission or by the county from which he was sent if he is without legal residence in any county. The expense of returning a patient on temporary leave, must be paid by him or by his guardian, relatives or friends, if of sufficient ability, or may be paid by his county if a new commitment is necessary. The expenses of committing a pay patient are to be borne by the applicant or by a person in his behalf.

Paid by the county.
Acts of 1910,
ch. 420.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Woman attendant.
Acts of 1909,
ch. 504,
47.

If a woman is committed to an institution under the supervision of the state commission, the committing magistrate must, unless she is accompanied by her father, husband, brother or son, designate a woman to be an attendant to accompany her thereto.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

By the governor.
68.

The governor may at any time cause an inmate of a state institution under the supervision of the commission on mental diseases to be removed to another such institution as the circumstances of the case may require.

By the commission.
Acts of 1917,
ch. 131.

The commission on mental diseases may transfer any inmate to or from any institution under its supervision; but no person may be confined or transferred as insane unless duly committed by the court, or be confined in or transferred to the Bridgewater state hospital unless the inmate has been a criminal and vicious in his life. The commission may remove any pauper inmates to any county, state or place where they belong and may enter into agreements with commissioners of other states for the transfer of inmates from one state to the other. The commission may not transfer any person to or from a private institution except upon the application of the superintendent of such institution, nor transfer any voluntary inmate except with his written consent.

70.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Parole by commission.
Acts of 1909,
ch. 504,
74.

The state commission may permit a patient boarded in a family as an insane person to leave custody temporarily in charge of his guardian, relatives, friends, or himself for a period not exceeding one year, and may receive him again into custody when returned by the guardian, relatives, or friends, or upon his own application within this period without a new commitment.

By the superintendent.
Acts of 1917,
ch. 48.

The superintendent may permit any inmate to temporarily leave the institution in charge of his guardian, relatives or friends or by himself for a period not exceeding twelve months and may receive the inmate when returned. He may require as a condition of the leave of absence that the person in whose charge the inmate is left, must report the condition of the inmate. The superintendent or the person in whose charge the inmate is left may terminate the leave and request the return of the inmate to the institution.

Discharge of patients.
Acts of 1909,
ch. 504,
76.

The superintendent of any public or private institution, when authorized by his trustees, by the state commission on mental diseases, or on a written application; or a judge of probate for the county in which the institution is located or in which the inmate has his residence, or a justice of the supreme judicial court, after due notice to the superintendent, trustees, or state commission, may discharge any inmate if it appears that he will be properly cared for or that his detention is no longer necessary for his own welfare or the safety of the public. If the guardian or any relative of an inmate opposes the discharge, it may not be made without written notice to the person opposing it. The provisions of this section do not apply to persons committed by a court.

No unrecovered inmate who is known to have committed or attempted violence to others, or who is likely to become dangerous, may be discharged or given leave of absence without the approval of the commission on mental diseases. The commission may, if it can not agree with the opinion of the superintendent in the case, file a petition for instructions in the probate court of the county in which the institution is situated, and may have the patient examined by one or more experts in insanity.

Dangerous inmates.
77.

Pauper insane must upon discharge be provided with suitable clothing and money not exceeding $20, at the discretion of the trustees. Inquiry must be made in regard to the future situation of every patient about to be discharged. No person may be discharged or paroled temporarily unless one of the hospital physicians has examined his mental condition within forty-eight hours of his departure.

Clothing and money.
81.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

All indigent insane are maintained at the expense of the state. The trustees may make contracts for the support of inmates at a sum not less than six dollars a week. The price for the support of inmates not under orders of the court must be determined by the commission at a sum not exceeding six dollars a week and may be recovered from the person or relatives liable for the support, if of sufficient ability. The action for recovery must be brought by the attorney general. Any person making payment, may bring an action for recovery or contribution from persons liable for the support of an inmate.

Determined by the trustees and the commission.
Acts of 1917, ch. 133.
Recovery.

Any guardian or conservator who has property of an inmate exceeding two hundred dollars in value who fails to make payment for the support of his ward in an institution within three months after receipt of a bill, may be removed upon the application of the attorney general.

Removal of guardians.
Acts of 1917, ch. 133.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If a person charged with any crime is at the time appointed for trial or sentence, or prior thereto, found to be insane, or of such mental condition that his commitment to a hospital for the insane is necessary for the proper care and observation pending the determination of his insanity, the court may commit him to a state hospital for the insane and must employ one or more experts in insanity to examine him. When, in the opinion of the trustees and superintendent of the hospital, he is restored to sanity, he must be returned to the custody from which he was removed, and held in accordance with the terms of the process by which he was originally committed.

Commitment of insane felons.
Acts of 1909,
104.

If a person indicted for murder or manslaughter is acquitted on the ground of insanity, the court must order him committed to a state hospital for the insane during his natural life, and he may be discharged by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, when they are satisfied after an investigation of the state commission on mental diseases that it may be done without danger to others. Such a patient may be permitted by the superintendent, with the approval of the governor and council, to leave the hospital temporarily. The commission on mental diseases must designate two experts in insanity to examine, together with the prison physicians, the prisoners in the state prison or the Massachusetts reformatory or the reformatory prison for women, who are alleged to be insane, and report the result to the superior court of the county in which the prison is situated. The court may, if it considers the prisoner insane, order his removal, if a male prisoner, to the Bridge-water State Hospital; and, if a female, to one of the state hospitals for the insane, there to be kept until, in the opinion of the superintendent and the trustees of the hospital, he or she should be returned to prison. If a prisoner under sentence in a jail, house of correction or prison other than those mentioned in the preceding paragraph, appears to be insane, the physician in attendance must make a report to be transmitted to the proper judge, who may order the prisoner removed to a state hospital for the insane. If a person so removed is restored to sanity, he must be returned to the prison or house of correction from which he was removed, to remain pursuant to the original sentence.

Howell's Michigan Statutes, 1913

Laws of Michigan, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and corrections is composed of four residents of the state, appointed by the governor for terms of eight years. The governor is ex-officio a member of the board.

Board of charities and corrections.
Statutes.
15510.

The members of the board, or one of their number, or their secretary, must at least once a year visit and inspect state and local charitable and correctional institutions to ascertain their condition and management. They have authority to administer oaths and to examine any person connected with the institutions. They serve without pay and make a biennial report to the governor.

15512.

15515.

b. Institutional. Each of the state hospitals for the insane is under a board of trustees of six members appointed by the governor for terms of six years and subject to removal by him. The psychopathic hospital is under the direction of a board of trustees composed of four members selected from the boards of trustees of the state hospitals for the insane and an equal number of the members of the board of regents of the state university. The state hospital for the dangerous and criminal insane is controlled by a board of trustees consisting of three members.

Boards of trustees.
3645-

15391.

The government and exclusive control of the several hospitals is vested in the several boards of trustees, who serve without compensation. The boards have control of all the property, exercise general supervision, appoint medical superintendents, treasurers, and other employees, determine the salaries of employees, and establish rules. The boards of trustees meet jointly at least twice each year at the different hospitals to adjust all questions that may arise pertaining to their institutions; and the joint boards may transfer patients from one hospital to another if it becomes necessary or desirable.

The medical superintendent of each hospital, subject to the regulations established by the board of trustees, has general oversight of the institution, nominates co-resident officers and appoints other assistants.

Superintendent.

The Wayne county hospital for the insane is under the management of the board of county superintendents of the poor, consisting of seven members elected in the same manner as other county officials.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Kalamazoo State Hospital, Kalamazoo; established 1848; 2,250 beds.

Pontiac State Hospital, Pontiac; established 1873; 1,600 beds.

Traverse City State Hospital, Traverse City; established 1881; 1,700 beds.

Ionia State Hospital, Ionia; established 1883; 518 beds (for criminal and dangerous insane).

Newberry State Hospital, Newberry; established 1895; 1,000 beds.

State Psychopathic Hospital, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; established 1906; 60 beds.

b. In local institutions. Wayne county maintains an institution for the insane, known as Eloise hospital at Eloise. Patients are transferred from county to state charges as in the state hospitals, and Eloise hospital maintains some 600 state patients. A few insane persons are cared for in the county infirmaries.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane residents of the state, not feebleminded or epileptic, are entitled to admission to the state hospitals.

The following classes of patients may be admitted to the state hospitals for the insane: (1) public patients, maintained at the expense of the state; (2) private patients maintained without expense to the state; (3) voluntary patients who are not insane, and are maintained either at private or state expense.

A non-resident may be admitted to a hospital for temporary care, pending his return to his home; and boards of trustees must remove any person admitted to a hospital who has not acquired a legal settlement in the state to the country or state to which he belongs.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The father, mother, husband, wife, brother, sister or child of a person alleged to be insane, or the sheriff, or any superintendent of the poor, or supervisor of any township, or any peace officer within the county in which an alleged insane person is found, may petition the probate court of the county for his admission to a hospital for the care of the insane. The petition must contain a statement of the facts upon which the allegation of insanity is based. The court must fix a day for a hearing and appoint two reputable physicians to make the required examination of the alleged insane person, whose certificate must be filed with the court on or before hearing and served personally, at least twenty-four hours before the hearing, upon the person alleged to be insane, and if made by a sheriff or peace officer, also upon the father, mother, husband, wife or some one next of kin of the alleged insane person, residing within the county, and upon such of the relatives outside of the county and within the state as may be ordered by the court, and also upon the person with whom the alleged insane person may reside. The court may dispense with personal service or may direct substitute service to be made upon some person to be designated by it. In such cases, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the insane person at the hearing. The court must institute an inquest as to the alleged insanity of the person, and in all cases take proofs in writing of the financial circumstances of his relatives legally liable for his support, and as to the person's legal settlement. If no jury is demanded, the probate court determines the question of the sanity or insanity. If the court deems it necessary, or if the alleged insane person, or any relative, or other person concerned demand it, a jury must be summoned to determine the question of insanity. If it appears upon the certificate of two legally qualified physicians to be necessary, the court may order the alleged insane person to be placed in the custody of some suitable person or to be removed to the state hospital of the district in which he resides, or to any hospital, home or retreat pending the proceedings for commitment, but not for more than thirty days, except by special order of the court. The alleged insane person has the right to be present at the hearing. No person may be admitted to an institution under order of commitment after the expiration of thirty days from its date.

Laws of 1917,
ch. 310.

No resident of the state may be held as a public or private patient in any hospital, public or private, or in any institution for the care or treatment of the insane, except upon certificates of insanity and an order for admission; provided, that a person adjudged to be so addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating liquors or narcotics as to be in need of medical treatment and care, for whom a guardian has been appointed, may be restrained by the guardian in some suitable hospital or asylum; provided, further, that a judge of any court of record or police justice of any city or county may, upon a certificate of two legally qualified physicians, authorize any superintendent of the poor or peace officer of the city or county to remove to a hospital or other place of detention, a person believed to be insane against whom no proceedings have been instituted and detain him until proceedings are instituted in the probate court. temporary detention must not exceed five days, unless by order of the probate court.

Certificates of insanity must be made by two reputable physicians, under oath, appointed by the probate court of the county in which the alleged insane person resides. The physicians must be permanent residents of the state, duly registered, have the qualifications prescribed by the laws of the state for the practice of medicine and surgery, and may not be related by blood or marriage to the insane person nor to the person applying for the certificate. Their qualifications must be certified by the clerk of the county in which they reside. Neither of the physicians may have any interest directly or indirectly in the institution to which it is proposed to commit the person. The physicians must make a personal examination of the alleged insane person enabling them to form an opinion as to his sanity or insanity, and no certificate of insanity may be made except after personal examination. Certificates of insanity must contain the facts and circumstances upon which the opinion of the physicians is based, and show that the condition of the person examined requires his care and treatment in a hospital for the insane. A copy of the physician's certificate together with a copy of the application for commitment of the patient must accompany the order of commitment.

Qualifications of physicians.

Personal examination required.

Commitment to private hospitals.
3665.

When the state hospitals are unable to receive patients for lack of room, the court is authorized to order the admission of any person who has been adjudged to be insane as a public patient to any private hospital in the state with which a contract for the care and maintenance of public patients has been made. If relatives or friends request it, the court must order his commitment to a private institution for the insane.

Persons received.

c. Voluntary admission. All residents of the state who are afflicted mentally, or with serious nervous disability, but who are not insane, may be admitted to the hospitals as voluntary patients, at the discretion of the medical superintendent and under special agreement, when there is room. No order of probate court is necessary for such admission. In the case of any voluntary patient, a certificate, signed by two reputable physicians having the qualifications prescribed by law, stating that the person needs hospital treatment but is not insane, must be presented to the medical superintendent. The certificate must be accompanied by a certificate from the county clerk. Voluntary patients may be discharged at any time by the medical superintendent. Indigent patients may be admitted as voluntary patients. If any voluntary patient in any hospital of this state is believed to be insane, he may be admitted to a hospital as insane by order of the probate court in the county in which he lives after the prescribed legal proceedings.

d. Appeal from commitment. Anyone in custody as an insane person in any hospital, home or retreat, is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus upon a proper petition to the circuit court of the county of which the hospital, home or retreat is situated, made by him or some friend in his behalf. Writ of habeas corpus.
3675.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses of committing a person to a hospital, including the cost of transportation, necessary clothing, etc., are paid by the county of which the person is a resident, if he has no estate out of which it can be collected. Paid by the county.
3679.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The judge of probate may appoint a proper person to convey an insane patient to the hospital. A female patient must be accompanied by her father, brother, husband, son or a female attendant. Female attendant.
3680.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

The medical superintendent of any hospital for the insane must apply to his board of trustees for authority to transfer any insane person or person under treatment and supported by the state who exhibits dangerous or homicidal tendencies to the hospital for the dangerous insane. By the superintendent.
3676.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent of a hospital may grant a parole to a private patient for not more than thirty days under conditions prescribed by the board of trustees. Parole.
3672.

Medical superintendents may discharge patients who have recovered as well as those who are not detrimental to public welfare. When a superintendent is unwilling to discharge an unrecovered patient upon request, the probate court of the county from which the patient was admitted into the hospital may, after a hearing has been accorded the superintendent, direct the discharge of the patient, upon such security as the court may require. A patient who has been discharged by the medical superintendent may, with his approval, be readmitted to the hospital under the original order of admission at any time within six months after the date of the discharge, but thereafter only upon a new adjudication of insanity and order for admission. Discharge by superintendent.
3672.

No patient may be discharged without suitable clothing, and money not exceeding $25 for his necessary expenses until he can reach his relations or friends, or his employment to earn a subsistence. By probate court.
Clothing.
3673.

Petition for restoration to sanity.
3674.

When any person adjudged insane is discharged from custody and not again received into any hospital, home, or retreat, petition may be presented to the court for an order declaring him restored to soundness of mind. The court must fix a time for hearing the case. The testimony of at least two reputable physicians, establishing the sanity of such person, is required. (See 3. d. Appeal from commitment; habeas corpus.)

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Private
patients.
3657.

If a bond for the support of an insane person is executed by at least two persons approved by the probate court, together with the required advance payment toward his support, his admission must be ordered as a private patient; otherwise, as a public patient. The county in which the proceeding is had is liable to the state for the support of the patient until the bond and advance payment are delivered to the medical superintendent. At the request of the medical superintendent, the court must require the persons executing the bond to justify their responsibility anew or order that a new bond be given, and unless this be done, the insane person is to be regarded as a public patient. In case the admission of the insane person is ordered as a public patient, then the county of which he is a resident is liable to the state for the support of such patient for one year. If a public patient has an estate out of which the state may be reimbursed for his maintenance, the court must direct such payment out of his estate for the cost of his maintenance at the hospital as it deems just. The court on making an order of commitment may appoint a temporary guardian for an insane person until a guardian both of his person and estate can be regularly appointed.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons acquitted of
15408.

When a person accused of crime has escaped indictment, or has been acquitted upon trial, upon the grounds of insanity, the court must inquire whether his insanity in any degree continues, and, if it does, must order him to be sent to the state hospital for the dangerous insane. All persons who are adjudged insane, and previously have been convicted of crime, or at the time of such adjudication are in confinement on a criminal charge, must be admitted to this hospital. If any such person has been admitted to any of the other hospitals, the medical superintendent thereof may have him removed to the above hospital.

Persons convicted of crime.
15409.

All persons who are adjudged insane, and who before such adjudication have been convicted of crime or are patients in the state hospital for the criminal insane, or who at the time of such adjudication

cation are confined on a criminal charge, must be admitted to the state hospital. If any such person is admitted to any of the other hospitals the medical superintendent may cause him to be removed to the state hospital for the dangerous insane where he shall be received and admitted as a patient.

When a physician of the house of correction, reformatory, or state prison certifies to the officer in charge that an inmate is insane, the officer if satisfied that the inmate is insane must cause him to be transferred to the state hospital for the criminal insane. When recovered, he must be returned to the institution from which he came. If the patient continues insane after the expiration of his sentence, application must be made within five days to the judge of probate for the patient's commitment and retention in the hospital; but such a convict must be delivered to friends if they give surety approved by the governing board for the patient's maintenance and good behavior.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of control is composed of three members, appointed by the governor, for terms of six years. Each member of the board receives a salary of $4,500 per annum and must devote all his time to the duties of the board.

The board of control has exclusive management of the hospitals and asylums for the insane, including full authority in all financial matters. The board may appoint a purchasing agent for each institution, and must appoint a chief executive officer for each, subject to removal for misconduct or incompetency. The board determines the compensation of all officers and employees, except when it is fixed by law, and prescribes regulations in regard to the duties of the employees under its control and methods of accounting and keeping records. Each hospital and asylum for the insane must be visited by a member or the secretary of the board once in each month. The board may appoint a competent woman to visit and report upon such institutions. The board must prepare for the use of the legislature biennial estimates for appropriations necessary for the support of the hospitals and asylums and for extraordinary expenditures for buildings and other improvements. It must keep records showing the residence, sex, age and other facts in regard to each patient in each of the institutions under its control, together with full information about their condition upon discharge and other similar information. To secure uniformity in the examination and commitment of the insane, the board prescribes the forms of blanks that are used.

The board must gather and disseminate information about the best methods of caring for the insane, encourage scientific investigation in the hospitals and publish the results. The board is required to make a biennial report to the governor in detail.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. The superintendent of each hospital or asylum has authority to appoint and discharge all assistants and other employees required for the management, subject to the consent of the board of control. Each superintendent is required to make an annual report in prescribed form to the board of control.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

St. Peter State Hospital, St. Peter; established 1866; 1,300 beds.
 Rochester State Hospital, Rochester; established 1877; 1,200 beds.
 Fergus Falls State Hospital, Fergus Falls; established 1890; 1,600 beds.

Anoka State Asylum, Anoka; established 1900; 900 beds.
 Hastings State Asylum, Hastings; established 1900; 760 beds.
 Willmar State Asylum, Willmar; established 1917; 100 beds.

In connection with each of the first three hospitals there is a detention hospital in which patients are received for voluntary treatment or for examination before final commitment. Insane persons are received also at the Hospital Farm for Inebriates at Willmar. The criminal insane, insane criminals, and other dangerous insane persons are cared for at the asylum for the dangerous insane, a building maintained in connection with the state hospital at St. Peter. 4102.

b. In local institutions. Practically no insane are maintained at the county poorhouses.

c. In families. Whenever the superintendent of a hospital reports to the board of control that any insane person under his charge is incurable or not likely to be further benefited by treatment, that he may be safely cared for in a private family, and that his own family is not able to support him, the board may authorize the superintendent to place him in a suitable private family, at an expense not exceeding $3 per week. The superintendent, or some one delegated by him, must visit such patient once in three months, and may at any time direct his return to the institution. Boarding out insane patients.
4096.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons who have a settlement in a county, town, city or village, must be admitted to an institution for the insane, except that the board of control may authorize admission when the residence is not ascertained or when circumstances make admission advisable. When application is made to a judge of probate for the admission to any hospital or asylum, and he finds that the person by whom the application is made has no residence or that his residence can not be ascertained, he must report to the board and may recommend that the person be admitted notwithstanding. If the board finds that the person has a legal residence in another state, it may have him returned to it. Residence requirement.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. When any person who is a resident of the state is supposed to be insane, any relative, guardian, or reputable citizen of the county in which the person resides or is found may file a certified petition in the probate court. The court Petition.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 344.
4.

may issue a warrant directing the person to be brought before the court for examination.

Examination.5.

The county attorney, upon an order from the court, must appear in behalf of the person to be examined, and the court must appoint two licensed physicians, who with the probate judge constitute a board to examine the person and determine as to his insanity. If the person is obviously insane, the probate judge may dispense with the board of examiners, and may hear and determine the matter, if the county attorney consents.

Report.

When the examination is completed, the board must determine whether the person is insane, and report the proceedings to the court upon forms authorized by the board of control. If the person examined is found to be insane, the court must commit him to the custody of the superintendent of the proper state hospital or to the superintendent or keeper of any private licensed institution for the care of insane persons.

Commitment.

11.

The probate judge, with the approval of the county board, may provide a place of temporary detention for the insane, making the necessary contracts, but may not erect a hospital for the purpose. All necessary expenses of such temporary detention shall be paid by the county. When the probate judge is unable to act, all of his duties may be performed by the court commissioner.

Court commissioner may act.

Orders of the court.General Statutes.

7162.

When the health or condition of a child under 17 years of age requires it the court may cause the child to be placed in an institution for treatment and special care.

Commitments to detention hospitals.

Each person found to be insane, except the criminal insane, may be committed to the proper detention hospital, to be kept and treated until the superintendent determines and certifies either that he is not insane or that he is a fit subject for a state hospital for the insane. If he is found to be sane, he must be discharged, as provided by law in other cases. If after a reasonable time, the superintendent deems him a fit subject for a state hospital or asylum, and so certifies to the state board of control, it must transfer him to a hospital or asylum.

Persons committed.

Any husband, wife, parent, son, daughter or guardian, believing his wife, husband, father, son, daughter, mother, brother, sister or ward, to be afflicted with mental disease for which such person should be treated at a detention hospital, may apply to the judge of probate of the county in which the patient is a resident for the appointment of a board of three physicians, one of whom must be the family physician, if there be such. The judge of probate of the county must immediately appoint such board to determine whether the patient is in need of treatment at a detention hospital; and if a majority of the board so determines, the patient may be placed in the detention hospital by the relative who must sign the necessary application therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions and provisions as for detention in the hospitals for the insane. When information is filed with any judge of probate that a resident of his county is in need of treatment at a detention hospital, he must make proper investigation, and, if it substantiates the information filed, at once appoint a board to determine whether the proposed patient is in need of the treatment, and if he so determines, the patient must be placed in a detention hospital under the same restrictions that govern voluntary admissions. 4087.

At each city or village where a state hospital for the insane is located, a state hospital commission, composed of three reputable persons, at least one of whom is a duly qualified physician, must be appointed by the judge or judges of the district court of the county in which the detention hospital is situated, to hold office for two years. The commission has power to examine alleged insane persons and determine whether they are insane. The state hospital commission must meet at the detention hospital as often as may be requested by the superintendent thereof, but not oftener than twice each month, except in cases requiring immediate action. State Hospital Commission.

c. Voluntary admission. Any person believing himself to be afflicted with mental disease and desiring to receive treatment at a detention hospital may voluntarily place himself therein. Before being admitted, he must make and sign a written application as provided by the board of control. When an application has been signed in presence of two witnesses, not officers or employees of the detention hospital and delivered to the superintendent, the applicant may be received into the hospital for treatment. The superintendent is authorized to continue the detention of such a patient when in his judgment the condition of the patient requires it. Should the patient demand his release from the hospital and it is deemed unsafe, the superintendent must within three days call in the state board of control to take charge of the case and determine whether the patient is insane. If adjudged insane, he must be committed to the hospital. If found to be sane, he must be required to leave the hospital. Application.
4085.

Any person who is defective and desires to receive treatment at a state institution, may voluntarily make application to the state board of control for admission under the rules of the board. Persons may seek admission.
Laws of 1917,
2.

The superintendent of the institution may detain any voluntary patient in the same manner as other patients, unless the person is ordered discharged by the court. If the person demands his release and the superintendent deems it unsafe to discharge the person, a petition for commitment must be filed in the probate court by the superintendent within three days. Detention of voluntary patients.

General
Statutes.

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person restrained of his liberty may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus. Application for such writ must be by petition to the supreme court, or to the district court of the county within which the petitioner is detained.

Laws of 1917,
ch. 344.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses of the examination and commitment of an insane person are chargeable to the county of which he is a legal resident. In case of dispute, the board of control determines the question of residence.

10.

It is the duty of the sheriff of the county, together with such attendants as shall be designated by the judge of probate, to convey an insane patient to the hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

By the board.
General
Statutes.
4037.

The board of control may transfer patients from one hospital or asylum for the insane to another or to and from the school for feeble-minded.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

By the superintendent.

Whenever he deems it advisable, the superintendent may allow a patient to be absent on parole for a period not exceeding six months. The order of commitment remains in force until he is legally discharged, and he may be recalled at any time. The state board of control must so far as possible exercise supervision over paroled patients and may for that purpose appoint one or more state agents. It may also appoint suitable persons in any part of the state for the same purpose. No one may be appointed as such agent who has not had at least a year's experience in caring for patients at a hospital for the insane.

4022.

4098.

The superintendent may discharge any patient certified by him to be recovered, except those charged with or convicted of some criminal offense. In all other cases, patients must be discharged by the board of control. When discharged, a patient must be provided with sufficient money to defray his expenses to his destination.

4100.

From detention
4088.

When in the judgment of the superintendent of the detention hospital any patient, either voluntary or otherwise, has recovered, he must be required to leave the institution. If the superintendent is of the opinion that the patient is insane and that longer treatment in the detention hospital will be of no benefit, he must report the case to the state hospital commission. If adjudged insane by this commission, the patient must be committed as provided; if adjudged sane, he must be required to leave the institution.

Laws of 1917,
ch. 344.
12.

Any person alleged or found to be insane may be paroled in the care of relatives or friends, but the probate judge, or the superintendent if the person has been committed to a hospital, may require a bond from them for the care and safe keeping of the person; but no person charged with or convicted of a crime shall be so paroled.

Whenever any person committed to a hospital for the insane under this act is discharged or transferred to another institution, the superintendent must so notify the probate judge of the county from which the person was committed. 13.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Whenever a person committed by a probate court has been received by a state hospital, the judge or clerk of the court must notify the board of control, sending a copy of the commitment proceedings. The superintendent of the hospital must investigate into the estate of every patient received, also that of the relatives or guardian, and report to the board of control. Ch. 294. I.

It is the duty of the judge of probate and county attorney to inquire fully into the property and estate of persons committed and of persons liable for support, and to report, with recommendations as to the extent the estate or relatives should be held liable, to the board of control. 3.

For the maintenance of each inmate of a state institution for the insane the state has a valid claim of $10 a month against the estate of the patient, or against the spouse, children, and parents in the order named. If it deems it advisable, the board may relieve the estate and the relatives from a portion or all of the liability. The board may bring suit against the estate or relatives if payment is not made within thirty days after demand. 4. 6.

The board is fully empowered to investigate the estates of persons liable for the support of inmates of state hospitals. If the board is unable to collect, the prosecuting attorney of the proper county shall, when directed by the attorney general at the request of the board of control, collect or bring suit in the name of the state. 8.

Any patient or his friends or relatives may pay the full cost of maintenance or any portion of the cost of maintenance in excess of the minimum charge of $10 a month. 10.

If a deceased patient leaves no spouse, children, grandchildren, or parents, the state may support a claim for maintenance against his estate at the rate of $120 a year for the time he was a patient, credit being allowed for any sums that may have been paid as well as for time away from the hospital on parole. homicidal tendencies, the court in which the indictment or information is filed must commit him to the asylum for the dangerous insane there to be kept and treated until he recovers, when he must be returned to the court from which he was received.

Transfer of convicts.
4103.

Whenever any person confined in the state prison or any other penal institution is alleged to be insane, the warden must notify the state board of control, which must have the prisoner examined by the probate court of the county where he is confined. In case he is found insane, he must be transferred by the order of the court to the state asylum for the dangerous insane. If, in the judgment of the superintendent, his sanity is restored before the period of his commitment to the penal institution has expired, he must be removed by the state board of control to the institution whence he came, and there complete the period of his sentence.

MISSISSIPPI

Authority:

Code of Mississippi, 1906

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. Mississippi is without a state board having general supervision or control of charitable institutions.

The state hospitals for the insane are under the control and management of a board of trustees of five members, of whom at least three must be physicians, appointed by the governor for terms of two years. The governor is ex-officio president of the board. Board of trustees.

The board must visit each hospital twice a year, and the governor, or the chairman of the board, or a majority of the board, may order a visitation at any time, but without making their coming known to the authorities of the hospital in advance. At each visitation the trustees must examine the hospital register showing the diagnosis of the case of each patient made by the superintendent, if the patient was admitted to the hospital since the last visitation. They must examine the journal of the daily treatment of each patient kept by the head nurse of each ward, and examine each patient. They must inquire into the competency and efficiency of all appointees and employees and make full report in writing to the governor, with recommendations which they consider will improve the management and the condition of the patients. They may order the dismissal of an employee without further inquiry, but in the case of an appointee must give him a hearing before dismissal. Code. 3212.

b. Institutional. The superintendent of the hospital, who must be a skilled physician, is appointed by the governor for a term of four years. The governor may remove him for proper cause. Superintendent. 3196.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Mississippi State Insane Hospital, Asylum; established 1855; 1,550 beds.

East Mississippi Insane Hospital, Meridian; established 1889; 600 beds.

Both hospitals are required by the statutes to provide special wards for the negro insane.

b. In local institutions. The board of supervisors of each county is responsible for the maintenance of the indigent insane who can not be received into the state hospitals or who are harmless incurables, and may provide for them in the poorhouses which are under their control. The supervisors must also furnish temporary care of insane persons pending an inquest.

3. COMMITMENT

3216. a. Persons committed. All insane persons, who are bona fide residents of the state and have not been brought into the state as insane within five years, and the latter in special cases by the consent of the governor, must be admitted to the state hospitals free of charge. Mere idiots, fools, and non-curables, who are not dangerous, are excluded from the hospitals.

Persons excluded.

Writs of lunacy.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The chancery courts have jurisdiction of writs of lunacy, to be exercised by the clerks at any time, subject to the approval of the court. Any relative of a lunatic, or insane person, may have him so adjudged; but if his relations and friends neglect or refuse to place him in an insane hospital, and permit him to go at large, the clerk of the chancery court must, on the application in writing and under oath of any citizen, direct the sheriff by a writ of lunacy to summon the alleged insane person to contest the application, and six freeholders to sit at the hearing.

Petition.

Hearing.

Jury.

3220.

Arrest.

Confinement.

3228.

The result of the inquisition must be returned to the clerk. The jury must be charged by him to make due inquest (the particulars being prescribed by law). If the person is adjudged a lunatic or insane by the jury, or a majority of its members, and the jury finds that he should be confined, the clerk must direct the sheriff to arrest him and place him in one of the insane hospitals if there is a vacancy, and, if not, to confine him in the county jail pending such vacancy. The superintendent must obtain all the available facts relative to the insanity of each patient admitted on an adjudication of insanity; and the board of trustees must prescribe suitable regulations in regard thereto.

persons not adjudged
insane.
3227.

c. Voluntary admission. On application for admission to an insane hospital made on behalf of an insane person who is a resident of the state, the superintendent and trustees may admit him to the hospital, although he had never been adjudged insane, and, if the person be in fact insane, they have authority to detain him. Before his admission, the person making the application must present to the superintendent a sworn certificate from two licensed, practicing physicians, and one respectable citizen who is personally acquainted with the alleged insane person, all of whom must be residents of the same county in which he resides. Upon receipt of such application and certificate, the superintendent must forward to the physicians blank forms to be filled out giving the history of the patient, form of insanity, and such other information as may be required.

Habeas corpus.

d. Appeal from commitment. The writ of habeas corpus extends to all cases of illegal confinement or detention by which any person is deprived of his liberty, or by which the rightful custody of any person is withheld from the person entitled thereto, except in cases expressly excepted.

e. Cost of commitment. The costs of an inquest and the removal to and from the hospital are to be paid by the estate of the insane person, and if he have none, by the persons required by the pauper laws to support him. The county of the legal settlement of an insane person is liable for all the expenses incurred and paid by another county. 3222.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

It is the duty of the sheriff to place persons adjudged insane in one of the hospitals if there is a vacancy; if not, to confine him in the county jail until there is room. Duty of sheriff.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

A patient who is found to be incurable but harmless, and who can properly be cared for outside of the hospital, and a patient who has recovered, must be discharged. When a patient is restored to reason, the superintendent of the hospital may furnish him transportation to his home and make requisition on the board of supervisors of his county for the costs. The superintendent must discharge a person found to be sane, although judged insane and confined in the hospital, and give him a certificate of sanity, a duplicate of which must be sent to the sheriff of the county. (See 3 d. habeas corpus.) Discharge. 3230. 3226.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The expense of maintaining indigent insane in hospitals is borne by the state. But if an insane person has an estate more than sufficient for the support of his dependents, his guardian must pay the patient's board in advance for six months and deposit enough money to provide him with clothing. For pay patients the cost is $250 a year in advance. The person securing the admission of a pay patient must furnish a bond of $15,000 conditioned to make such payments annually for five years unless the person dies or is removed. Indigents. 3215. Non-indigents. Pay-patients. 3216.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person indicted for an offense is acquitted on the ground of insanity, the jury rendering the verdict must so state, and also whether the accused has since been restored to his reason, and whether he be dangerous to the community; and if the jury certify that he is still insane and dangerous, the judge must order him to be confined in one of the state hospitals for the insane. Persons acquitted of crime 1540.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and corrections consists of six persons, two of whom must be women and, of the remaining four, not more than two may belong to the same political party, appointed by the governor, who is ex-officio a member of the board, for terms of six years. The governor may remove members of the board for cause.

1314. The board has power to investigate the whole system of charities and correction and must examine the condition and management of all state, county and municipal charitable and penal institutions. Officers of the various institutions must furnish the board such information as it demands. The board must make a full report biennially to the governor.

b. Institutional. The state hospitals are under the management of boards of managers of five members each, appointed by the governor for terms of four years. The managers have the care and control of all the property of the institution and general responsibility of its management. They appoint the superintendent, assistant physicians, treasurer, steward, and may remove any officer except the superintendent at pleasure, and may remove the superintendent for incompetency or any misconduct. They prescribe the duties of the different officers and fix the terms thereof.

The superintendents of the several state hospitals must be physicians of acknowledged skill in their profession and have had experience in the management and treatment of the insane, and may not engage in outside practice. They employ and may discharge for cause nurses, attendants and other necessary persons.

The St. Louis city sanitarium for the insane is under municipal control and management.

Insane persons who can not be cared for in the state hospitals may be received in the county almshouses which are under management of the county courts.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Persons afflicted with any form of insanity must be admitted to the state hospitals for the insane. 1406.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. When a citizen residing in the proper county files with the clerk of the county court a statement, in writing and in prescribed form, alleging that a person is insane and in need of hospital treatment, the clerk must issue subpoenas for the persons named as witnesses, and such other persons as he may think proper, to appear before the county court at a specified time, which must be the first day of the first session of the court thereafter. The county clerk must convene the county court forthwith for the purpose of passing upon the sanity or insanity of the poor person apprehended. At the hearing the court must have the witnesses examined before themselves, or a jury, if one be ordered for the purpose. At least one of the witnesses examined must be a reputable physician. If the court, or the jury, is satisfied of the truth of the facts of the statement, it must enter an order to the effect that the person found insane is a fit subject to be sent to the state hospital, and require the medical witness to make out a detailed history of the case in the prescribed form. The clerk of the court must send a certified copy of the order of court to the superintendent of the hospital, accompanied by a request for the admission to the hospital of the person found to be insane. The superintendent must immediately advise the clerk whether the patient can be received, and at what time. 1418. 1419. 1420. Hearing. 1421. Commitment. 1422. Request for admission. 1424.

A pay patient, or one not sent to a hospital by order of the court, may be admitted on request to the superintendent in a prescribed form made by the person by whose direction he is sent, stating his age and place of nativity, if known, place of residence, occupation and degree of relationship to the person requesting his admission. Accompanying the request must be a sworn certificate of insanity in prescribed form, dated within two months, by two physicians. Before a private patient is admitted, thirty days' charges must be paid in advance and a bond with securities to insure payment of further charges must be given. Pay patients. 1413.

Indigent patients must always be given preference over pay patients.

If there are not sufficient accommodations, cases of less than one year's standing have preference over those of longer standing; but no county may have more than its just proportion according to its insane population.

Habeas corpus.
2447.

d. Appeal from commitment. Any person restrained of his liberty may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of his confinement or restraint; and any court empowered to grant the writ must do so without delay.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of examining patients and removing them to a hospital is a charge upon the treasury of the county of their residence.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The sheriff of the county, or any other suitable person, must be directed by the clerk of the county court to convey the insane person to the hospital. The relatives of the insane person have the right, if they choose, to convey him. Before sending patients to the hospital, the county court must see to it that they are free from contagious disease, properly cared for and clothed.

amended by
Laws of 1911.

The counties sending insane poor to the hospitals must pay semi-annually in cash and in advance for their support and maintenance, and, in addition, the actual cost of their clothing, and if they die, the cost of burial expenses. Moneys paid and unexpended are refunded the counties.

When pay
patients become county
patients.
1428.

If the county court so orders, the clerk must transmit to the superintendent a certificate stating that any patient in the hospital has not estate sufficient to support him there. Whereupon, the person becomes a county patient, to be supported by his county.

When county
patients become pay
patients.
1429.

If the county court so orders, the clerk must transmit to the superintendent a certificate stating that any patient in the hospital from his county has sufficient estate to support him at the hospital. Thereupon the patient becomes a pay patient, and the charges must be made out and paid, and a bond required and executed as in all other cases of pay-patients; and upon a failure thereof, after reasonable delay, the superintendent must discharge such patient.

If any insane person admitted to a state hospital as a patient has estate, the guardian must pay for his support and expenses out of the estate. If the insane person at any time comes under the class of "insane poor persons" he must be supported and maintained by his county.

Estate liable.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person indicted for any crime after his indictment and before his trial becomes insane, the court must order a jury to try and decide the question of his insanity. The alleged insane person must be notified of such proceedings, unless the court order such person to be brought before it. If the jury is satisfied that the person has become insane, they shall so declare in their verdict, and the court must order him to be conveyed to the state hospital and there kept until restored to reason.

When a person, tried upon indictment for any crime or misdemeanor, is acquitted on the sole ground that he was insane at the time of the commission of the offense, the fact must be found by the jury in their verdict, and the jury must further find whether or not he has entirely recovered from his insanity; if recovered, he shall be discharged from custody. In case the jury finds that the prisoner has not entirely recovered and is not a poor person, and the court is satisfied that it would be unsafe to permit him to go at large, the court must commit him to the hospital, the costs of commitment and all expenses for the support and maintenance of such prisoner to be paid out of the proceeds of his estate. If the prisoner is a poor person, the court must remand him to the custody of the sheriff or other officer of the court, at the expense of the proper county, until the county court causes him to be removed to the hospital, as in the cases of insane poor persons, but without examination into his insanity.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of commissioners for the insane, consisting of the governor, the secretary of state and the attorney general, is charged with the care, custody, maintenance and treatment of the insane in safe and suitable buildings at the state hospital.

The board makes its own rules and regulations, and prescribes the duties of the superintendent of the state hospital; it must inquire into the conditions at the hospital and see that the inmates are properly cared for. The record of the board's proceedings must be open at all times to the inspection of any citizen. The board also has authority to send insane persons to friends outside of the state at public expense or to the institution of another state, provided they are indigent, instead of to the state hospital. The board reports biennially to the legislature.

b. Institutional. There is no local board of trustees. The governor appoints with the approval of the senate a superintendent (salary $4,000) and assistant superintendent (salary $3,000) for the state hospital for the insane; they must be regularly licensed physicians of the state. Their tenure of office is four years and until their successors have been appointed; they may be removed by the state board of commissioners upon formal charges in writing. The superintendent has immediate control of the state hospital subject to the regulations of the board of commissioners and appoints additional medical assistants subject to the approval of that board.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Montana State Hospital for the Insane, Warm Springs; established 1877; 1,000 beds.

b. In local institutions. Harmless indigent insane and persons who can not be received at the state hospital may be provided for at the poor farms, which are under the boards of county commissioners, or they may be cared for elsewhere under contract.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All residents of the state, not idiots, are entitled to admission to the state hospital. - Non-residents who have become insane while within the state are also admitted.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the magistrate of the county that any person within the county is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person or property, he must have the person arrested and taken before any district judge in the county for examination, or, in his absence, before the chairman of the board of county commissioners. The judge or chairman of the board must issue subpoenas to two or more witnesses best acquainted with the insane person and at least two graduates of medicine, to attend and testify at the examination.

If the physicians believe the person to be dangerously insane, they must make a certificate to this effect, describe the symptoms, etc., and give other facts, in a form prescribed by the board of commissioners for the insane. If the judge, or the chairman of the board of county commissioners, after such examination and certificate are made, believes the person to be dangerously insane, he must order him to be confined in the state hospital, and a copy of such order must be filed with and recorded by the clerk of the district court of the county.

When an insane person is examined and committed by hearing before the chairman of the board of county commissioners, the latter must reduce all the evidence to writing, and the same, together with all orders, subpoenas, complaints, warrants and papers in the case, must be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the proper county. In all cases of hearings by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, the proceedings must be examined and certified, and approved or rejected by the judge of the district court.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person restrained of his liberty may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus and upon petition the circuit or district court must grant it.

e. Cost of commitment. The costs of the examination, committal and taking of an insane person to the hospital must be paid by the county in which he resides at the time he is adjudged insane. The sheriff is allowed the actual expense incurred in taking an insane person to the hospital.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The insane person, together with the order of the judge or chairman of the board of county commissioners, and the certificate of the physicians must be delivered to the sheriff of the county and by him to the officer in charge of the state hospital.

Discharge.
1124.

Upon the written report of any person appointed by the board of commissioners of the insane to examine into the condition of a patient, that he is in fit condition to be at large, the board must cause him to be discharged from the hospital. Every insane person on recovery, must be discharged from the hospital or place of confinement. Indigent patients when discharged must be provided with $20 in money and comfortable clothing. (See 3. d. Appeal from commitment; habeas corpus.)

Clothing and money.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Nonindigents.
1133.

The care and maintenance of non-indigent insane must be paid or guaranteed by their parents, children or guardians.

1147.

When a person is adjudged to be insane and ordered confined in the state hospital, the judge or person before whom the hearing is must take evidence as to the financial worth of the insane person. If he has any means out of which the expenses of his maintenance in the state hospital, or any part thereof, can be paid, the judge or person before whom the hearing is had must cite the persons in possession of his property, and his relatives, if there are any in the county of his residence, to appear and show cause why a guardian should not be appointed for him and ordered to pay the costs of his maintenance, or as much of it as his means will permit. If the insane person has property that can be applied towards his maintenance, the court must make an order to that effect, stating how much of it shall be applied.

Indigents.

Indigent insane are maintained at the hospital at the cost of the state.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Jury trial.
9521.

If a doubt arises as to the sanity of the defendant in a criminal action, the court must order the question as to his sanity submitted to a jury. If the jury finds the defendant insane, the trial or judgment must be suspended until he becomes sane, and the court must order that he in the meantime be committed by the sheriff to the state hospital for the insane, and that upon his becoming sane, he be re-delivered to the sheriff.

tive of the town, city or county bound to provide for and maintain him elsewhere.

Insane convicts must be received into the hospital on the order of the board of state prison commissioners, and returned to the state prison upon recovery if sentence has not expired.

Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1913

Laws of 1915, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and corrections is composed of the governor, the superintendent of public instruction and the commissioner of public lands and buildings. The board has the duty to inquire into the whole system of public charities in the state and counties and to ascertain the condition of all institutions. The governor may at any time in his discretion order a special investigation to be made by the state board or by a committee of its members, or advisory secretaries, into the management of a state hospital or county institution in the state. A report of such investigation must be submitted by the governor to the legislature. The board must make a full report of its proceedings biennially to the governor.

The board of commissioners of state institutions consists of three members appointed and removed by the governor with the consent of the senate. The members receive $3,000 per annum and necessary expenses, and hold office six years; no two may be appointed from the same congressional district and no more than two may belong to the same political party.

Each institution must be inspected thoroughly by the whole board every six months and by some member every thirty days.

The board has general control and management of all state charitable, penal, and correctional institutions, including the hospitals for the insane, with authority to make all necessary rules for their government, including regulations with regard to the classes of patients to be admitted to each, their transfer, etc.

The board appoints a superintendent, assistants and steward for each state hospital and a matron for the Nebraska State Hospital. All appointments remain effective until revoked by the board.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Nebraska Hospital for the Insane, Lincoln; established 1870; 700 beds.

Norfolk State Hospital, Norfolk; established 1887; 450 beds.

Nebraska State Hospital, Ingleside; established 1889; 1,300 beds.

b. In local institutions. In case a person found insane can not be at once admitted to the hospital for lack of room or other cause,

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Insane persons, except idiots, whether they have a legal residence in the state or not, are admitted to the hospitals. Dipsomaniacs, inebriates and persons addicted to drugs are admitted to and treated in the Nebraska Hospital for the Insane at Lincoln.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. In each organized county of the state there must be three commissioners in insanity, and the clerk of the district court is one of them, ex-officio. The other members are appointed for terms of two years by the judge of the district court, and one must be a respectable practicing physician and the other a respectable practicing lawyer. In the temporary absence or inability to act of two of the commissioners, the judge of the district court, if present, may act in the place of one of such commissioners, or the commissioner present may call to his aid a respectable practicing physician or lawyer. The clerk of the board must issue all notices of the appointments, warrants, subpoenas, etc. He must keep separate books of the proceedings of the board, to constitute, with the papers filed, a complete record of their findings, orders and transactions. The commissioners have cognizance of all applications for admission to the hospital or for the safe-keeping of insane persons within their respective counties, except in cases otherwise provided for. They have power to issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and do any act of court necessary in the premises.

Commission
of insanity.
7243.

7246.

Application for admission to a hospital must be made to the county commission of insanity in writing, verified by affidavit, alleging that the person applied for is believed to be insane and a fit subject for custody and treatment in a hospital, that he is found in the county and has a legal settlement therein, or, if not, where it is believed to be. The commissioners must at once take steps to investigate the grounds of the information. They may require the alleged insane person to be brought before them, and the examination had in his presence, providing for his custody until their investigation is concluded. They may dispense with his presence if it would probably be injurious to him or attended with no advantages. They must hear testimony for and against the application.

Application.
7247.

Investigation.
7248.

Examination.

Any citizen of the county or any relative of the person may resist the application, and employ counsel if they choose. The commissioners must in all cases appoint some regular practicing physician of the county to make a personal examination of the person alleged to be insane. The physician may or may not be of their own number, and the one appointed must certify whether he finds the person in question insane or not. He must endeavor to obtain from the relatives of the person in question, or from others who know the facts, correct answers so far as may be to the interrogatories prescribed by law, which with the answers to them must be attached to his certificate. The commissioners thereupon must find whether the person is insane, and whether if insane, a fit subject for treatment and custody in the hospital and where his legal settlement is. If they find him insane and a fit subject for custody and treatment in the hospital, they must issue their warrant authorizing the superintendent of the hospital to receive him as a patient.

Warrant.
7250.

Provisions for patients who can not be admitted.
7257.

If a patient can not at once be admitted for want of room or for any other cause, and can not with safety be allowed to go at liberty, the commissioners must provide suitably for him, until admission can be had or the occasion for it no longer exists. Such patients may be cared for either as public or as private patients, those being treated as private patients whose relations or friends will obligate themselves to provide for them without public charge, in which case the commissioners must appoint some suitable person as special custodian, with authority to restrain, protect and care for such patient. In the case of public patients, the commissioners must require that they be properly cared for by the commissioners of the county or overseers of the poor at the expense of the county. If there is no poorhouse, or no more suitable place, they may be confined in the jail of the county in charge of the sheriff.

Private
patients.

Public
patients.

Care of insane persons out of hospitals.
7258.

On application to the commissioners on behalf of persons alleged to be insane and whose admission to the hospital is not sought, the commissioners may provide for them as in the case of other applicants.

without proper care.
7259.

If the commissioners of any county are informed that any insane person is suffering for want of proper care, they must make all needful provisions for him as provided in other cases.

Transfer of insane under care of commissioners to hospitals.
7262.

Insane persons who have been under care, either as private or public patients, outside of a hospital, by authority of the commissioners of any county may on application be transferred to a hospital on the warrant of the commissioners. The admission may be had without another inquest, at any time within six months after the inquest already had.

admittance of patients.
7263.

If it becomes necessary for want of room or other cause to discriminate in the reception of patients, a selection must be made as follows: 1, recent cases (cases of less than one year's duration);

2, chronic cases (of more than one year's duration) presenting the most favorable prospects of recovery, 3, those for whom application has been longest on file, other things being equal; and 4, when cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent insane have preference.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. On a sworn statement to a judge of the district court of the county in which a hospital is situated, or of the county in which any certain person confined in a hospital has his legal settlement, alleging that such person is not insane, the judge must appoint a commission of inquiry of not more than three persons, one of whom must be a physician, and if two or more are appointed, one must be a lawyer. Their report must be accompanied with a statement of the case by the superintendent. If the judge finds the person not insane, he must order his discharge; if not, he must authorize his continued detention. The commissioners are entitled to their necessary expenses and a reasonable compensation, to be paid by the applicant if the application was made without probable grounds. A commission may not be repeated oftener than once in six months in regard to the same person, nor may such a commission be appointed in the case of any patient within six months of the time of his admission.

Investigation
of persons confined and alleged not insane.
7264.

7265.

All persons confined as insane are entitled to the writ of habeas corpus, and the question must be decided at a hearing; an adverse decision does not bar the issuing of the writ a second time or whenever it is alleged that the person has been restored to reason. If at such a hearing it appears that the patient was irregularly committed but is not restored to reason, he may be returned to the county from which he was committed to be proceeded with according to law.

Habeas corpus.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses connected with the commitment and transportation of a patient to the hospital are to be paid by the county in which he has a legal settlement. If he has no settlement they are borne by the state.

Paid by county or state.
7253.

7254.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The sheriff must convey the insane person to the hospital; or, in his absence, the commissioners of insanity may appoint some other suitable person. No female may be taken to the hospital without the attendance of some other female or some relative of such person. The superintendent in his acknowledgment of delivery must state whether there was any such person in attendance. If any relative or immediate friend of the patient who is suitable request it, he has the privilege of executing the warrant in preference to the sheriff or any other person.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

7205. This is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the board of commissioners of state institutions.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Discharge by the superintendent.
7268.

Any patient who is cured must immediately be discharged by the superintendent and furnished with suitable clothing and a necessary sum of money. The relatives of any patient not susceptible of cure and harmless have the right to remove him on the consent of the board of commissioners.

By board.

On the application of the relations or immediate friends of any patient, except one under charge or conviction of homicide, who is not cured, and who can not safely be allowed at liberty, the commissioners of insanity of the county where he belongs, on making provisions for his care within the county, may authorize his discharge. Incurable and harmless patients must be discharged or removed whenever it is necessary to make room for recent cases.

7270.

When it is shown to the satisfaction of the commissioners of insanity of any county that cause no longer exists for the care within the county of any particular person as an insane patient, they must order his immediate discharge.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Liability for support.
7272.

The cost of board, care and treatment of patients while in the hospitals of the state is borne by the state, unless some legally liable relative has sufficient means to do so. The commissioners of the several counties are authorized, however, to collect from the property of such patients, or from any person or persons legally bound for their support, any sum paid by the county in their behalf.

Pay patients.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 132.

The relatives or friends of any patient in a hospital for the insane have the privilege of paying any portion or all of his expenses. If the husband or parent is possessed of an estate or income sufficient to meet the expense, they are required to pay an amount equal to the cost of maintenance.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If a person charged with crime becomes insane after the offense, a jury must be impaneled to determine the question of insanity.

Medical board.
Revised
Statutes.
7289.

The physician of the state penitentiary, the superintendent of one of the hospitals for the insane and a secretary of the state board of health constitute the penitentiary medical board. When the physician of the penitentiary believes that a convict is insane, he must so certify to the governor, who shall immediately cause an examination to be made by the penitentiary medical board, and upon its certificate, the governor may direct the convict to be removed to one of the hospitals for the insane. When the superintendent is satisfied that a convict in his custody is restored to sanity, he must so certify to the governor of the state, who must order the convict to be returned to the penitentiary to serve the unexpired term of his sentence, less the time of his confinement in the hospital.

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of health, which is composed of the governor, the attorney general, three physicians and a civil engineer, constitute a commission of lunacy. The physicians and engineer are appointed by the governor for terms of four years.

Commission of lunacy.
P. S. ch. 10.
32.

The commission is charged with the duty of visiting and inspecting all hospitals and other institutions for insane persons at least once in four months, and to examine into all matters relating to the care and general welfare of the inmates. It may order the removal of any indigent insane person to the state hospital.

The commission must keep a correct record of the number of commitments, discharges and deaths at each hospital, institution or other place of detention, giving details as to age, sex and nationality, and report the same annually to the governor and the council. The superintendent of every hospital or other place where insane are confined must within three days after the commitment of any person notify the commission of lunacy of the fact.

Any person or corporation desiring to maintain a sanitarium or hospital for the reception of persons of unsound mind or for the treatment of specific diseases must first make application to the state board of health. After investigation the board may issue a license to the applicant with such restrictions as are deemed necessary. The hospital or sanitarium must be open to inspection by the board of health at all times. Any person violating the above provisions may be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

may commit him to the hospital. No person may be committed to the state hospital, except by an order of the court or the judge of probate, without the certificate of two reliable physicians, given after a personal examination made within one week of the committal.

When application is made to the judge of probate or of the supreme court for the committal of any person to the state hospital, the court may appoint two reputable physicians to examine said person, with or without notice to him from the court. The physicians must immediately report the result to the court, who may upon their report order the person to be committed to the state hospital when there is a sufficient reason for so doing. The certificate of the physicians must be accompanied by a certificate of the judge of the supreme court or court of probate, mayor or one of the selectmen.

Supp., p. 15.

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of the hospital may receive and detain any person who applies to submit himself for treatment. Notice of admission must be given to the board of lunacy. The patient may not be detained more than seven days after notice of intention to leave is given. The charges for support are governed by the law relating to insane persons.

d. Appeal from commitment. The supreme court, or any justice thereof, at any time, with or without notice, when proper application is made, must investigate the question whether there is sufficient reason for the detention of any person who has been committed to the hospital, and must order his discharge if it ought to be made.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

The state board of commissioners of lunacy is empowered to transfer any indigent insane person to the state hospital, to be supported by the state, provided satisfactory affidavits are executed by the county selectmen or the board of commissioners or both, and the board may declare that in its judgment the patient or any patient chargeable is able to bear the expense incident to his maintenance at the hospital.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superior court or any justice thereof may parole a person committed to the state hospital upon such terms and conditions as justice may require; and the court or justice may at any time revoke the parole and order the person returned under the original commitment.

their opinion, seems unnecessary; but a person so discharged, who was under sentence of imprisonment at the time he was committed, must be remanded to prison for the unexpired period of his sentence of imprisonment. Provision is made for inmates of the hospital to make statements in private to a trustee, and whenever a trustee deems it proper he must call to his aid two other trustees who after further examination of the inmate and statements made by him are in duty bound to discharge him if, in their judgment, further detention is unnecessary.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

An insane person committed to the hospital, who has no means of support, no relatives of sufficient ability who are chargeable with his support, and no settlement in any town in the state, and whose condition is such that his discharge from the hospital would be unsafe, must be supported by the county from which he was committed. An insane person chargeable with an offense under penalty of death or confinement in the state prison, and who is committed to the hospital by order of the supreme court, must be supported at the expense of the state during his confinement. Any other insane person committed to the hospital by the supreme court, judge, or sheriff, and any insane person committed by a judge of probate must be supported by the county from which he was committed.

The county or town paying the expenses for the support of an inmate is entitled to recover the amount paid of the inmate himself if of sufficient ability to pay; otherwise of the town, county or person by law liable for his support.

An insane person who has been an inmate of the state hospital for twenty years, and been supported in whole or in part during that time by others from the town or county chargeable therewith, and who has no means of support, and no relatives chargeable for it, and who can not properly be discharged from the hospital, must be supported there at the expense of the state.

Indigent insane persons at the state hospital for treatment may be maintained by the state upon orders issued to that effect by the state board of commissioners of lunacy. When a patient, or relatives chargeable with his support, is able to pay only a part of the expenses for maintaining the patient at the state hospital, the state board upon satisfactory evidence of the facts, may direct that the part of the expense of maintenance which can not be met by the patient or relatives, shall be paid by the state.

justice of the court before whom he is tried may, on the plea of insanity, put such person into the care and custody of the superintendent of the state hospital, to be detained and observed by him until further order of the court. The person so committed must be supported there at his own expense if of sufficient means, otherwise at the expense of the state.

Whenever the grand jury omits to find indictment against a person because of insanity or a person prosecuted for an offense is acquitted by the petit jury, the jury must certify the fact to the court; when any person prosecuted for an offense pleads that he is not guilty by reason of insanity, the court may commit him to a prison or to the state hospital to remain until discharged by due course of law if, in the opinion of the court, it would be dangerous to allow him at large.

The governor and council, the supreme court, may discharge any such person from prison, or may transfer any prisoner who is insane to the state hospital to be kept there at the expense of the state, whenever they are satisfied that such discharge or transfer is necessary. Any prisoner may be temporarily transferred to the state hospital, for the purpose of observation, by the board of trustees of state institutions.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

Commissioner of charities and corrections.
C. S.
P. 453.

2.

a. General. A salaried commissioner of charities and corrections, appointed by the governor for a term of three years, has the duty of inspecting all charitable and correctional institutions receiving funds from the state. He has power to see all state wards, must see all such who are in private institutions, and may require reports from the institutions under his inspection, together with other information in the form he may prescribe. The commissioner must report annually to the governor.

Laws of 1916.
197, 3.

The commissioner or some officer representing the department of charities and corrections must visit the hospitals twice a year or oftener and inquire into their facilities, equipment, sanitary conditions, accommodations and manner of management.

107.

110.

All private institutions for the care of the insane must be licensed by the commissioner of charities and corrections upon plans approved by him after careful inquiry. All licensed private institutions for the insane must be inspected at least twice a year by the department of charities and corrections and reported upon to the governor. A private institution for the insane must have at least one properly qualified resident physician.

Board of managers.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 7.

b. Institutional. Each state hospital for the insane is under the general control of a board of managers consisting of ten persons, two of whom must be women. Not more than four of the male members may belong to the same political party. They are appointed by the governor for terms of five years.

ch. 76.
C. S.
P. 3179.

Each board is authorized and directed to establish the necessary by-laws in regard to the appointment of executive officers, assistants, attendants and employees necessary for the management of the hospital and fixes the conditions of admission, support and discharge of patients. Each board appoints a medical director and as many assistants as may be deemed necessary, also a warden of the hospital, as general manager of the buildings, grounds, farms, etc., belonging to the hospital, whose duty it is, among other things, to make estimates of the amounts of money required for the support and maintenance of the hospital for the next ensuing fiscal year and to submit such estimates to the board of managers. At least one manager must visit the hospital once in every week; two or more managers at least once in each month; a majority of the board at least once in three months; and the whole board at least once a year. The board must make an annual report to the governor detailing the past year's operations and the actual state of the hospital. Each board is authorized to appoint a secretary.

67.

The county hospitals are under the control of the boards of chosen freeholders, who are authorized to appoint superintendents and other officers necessary, subject to removal by a vote of two-thirds of the members, to fix the compensation of officers, to establish rules for the management of the hospitals, and terms of admission, support and discharge of patients.

The New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains, Greystone Park; established 1874; 1,750 beds.

b. In local institutions. There are nine county institutions, most of them designed as hospitals, which receive committed insane patients and derive support from the state at the rate of $2 a week, a patient. The Newark city hospital has a psychopathic ward.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. The indigent insane without a legal settlement in any county are committed to the state hospitals. Indigent insane having a legal settlement in some county are committed to county institutions of the county of which they are legal residents or may be maintained by their counties at state hospitals. Idiots, imbeciles, and feeble-minded are not considered insane unless charged with commission of crime.

33.

Pay patients may be received at the state hospitals when there are vacancies.

C. S.
P. 3179.
31.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. No one may be committed to or confined in any institution for the care and treatment of the insane in the state except upon filing with the medical director of the institution an application in writing by the person interested in his admission. The application must be made on an approved form.

Commitment to state hospitals or county hospitals.
125.

If the patient should be placed under immediate restraint a statement of his condition must appear in the certificate of the physician. The person making the application must obtain an order of temporary commitment from a judge of any court of record in the county in which the person resides. Justices of the peace are not considered judges of courts of record in places where a district court exists. If it is impossible to obtain an order of temporary commitment a statement to that effect in the application and certificates will warrant the patient's detention.

Temporary commitment.
Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.
9, 10.

Orders of temporary commitment must contain proof of the patient's mental condition, and must be filed with the medical director of the institution to which commitment is made. The orders are valid for twenty days. The medical director must mail certified copies of the temporary commitment papers to the commissioner in lunacy of the county from which commitment is requested. The commissioner must apply to the court to fix a day for the final hearing, which must not be more than 20 days from the date of the temporary order of commitment. The judge must serve notice upon the patient and others interested; may make inquiry and take proofs of insanity of the person so confined and in his discretion call a jury. The inquiry must be concluded within three months after the presentation of the application.

Laws of 1917
ch. 174.

Commissioner of lunacy,
Laws of 1916,
ch. 94,
as amended by Laws of 1917,
ch. 174.

In all counties where the county counsel, county solicitor, county clerk, county physician, or county probation officer or any of their assistants is now in charge and supervision of the preparation of papers relating to the commitment of insane, such person shall be known as the commissioner in lunacy;—in all other counties the judge of the court of common pleas, with the consent of the board of chosen freeholders, shall designate some county official as commissioner in lunacy. The commissioner shall have charge and supervision of the preparation of papers relating to the commitment of the insane. The board of chosen freeholders must notify the various institutions of the name and address of such commissioner.

Certification,
Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.

If the justice or judge finds the person insane, he must so certify, and order him confined in one of the institutions for the care and treatment of the insane in the state until he has recovered, or is removed or discharged. The order is filed with the clerk of the county, who must forward a certified copy to the medical director of the institution in which the person is confined. If the justice or judge determines that the person is sane, he must order his discharge from the institution in which he is confined, and file the papers in the case as provided above.

129.

A physician certifying to the insanity of any person for the purpose of securing his commitment as insane must be of reputable character, licensed to practice medicine, a permanent resident of the state, who has been in the actual practice of his profession for at least five years. No certificate of insanity may be made except after a personal examination of the person alleged to be insane held not more than ten days prior to his confinement, and according to forms approved by the commissioner of charities and corrections.

The medical certificates must contain a thorough description and identification of the person sought to be confined, and all required information on the approved forms. A non-resident of the state may, however, be confined on the certificates of two physicians having the qualifications required by the laws of the state from which the non-resident is sent, who are residents of the state from which the non-resident is sent; but a non-resident may not be held in confinement for more than fifteen days, except upon the certificates of two physicians resident in the state of New Jersey.

No physician may certify to the insanity of any person for the purpose of securing his confinement in any institution with which he is connected or interested in, or who is a near relative, by blood or marriage, or guardian or trustee of the person sought to be confined. 130.

Application may be made by a person interested by reason of relationship or marriage, by the person having charge or care of the patient, or by a sheriff, overseer of the poor, chief of police or police captain, warden or other officer of any correctional or charitable institution in which the patient may be. Application. Laws of 1916, ch. 94, § 1.

Every medical director of an institution for the insane must, within three days after the reception of a patient, have a descriptive entry recorded of his case, and from time to time other entries in regard to the mental state, bodily condition and medical treatment of the patient, together with the forms of restraint employed. In the event of the discharge or death of the patient the medical director must record the circumstances. Entry. C. S. P. 131.

In case of temporary commitment, the director sends copies of the papers to the county commissioner in lunacy, who presents them to the judicial officer of the county.

If a person residing in the state is insane and indigent, it must be set forth in the application. The justice or judge to whom application is made must determine the question of his indigence as well as of his insanity. Indigent patients. 132.

If he finds that the person is insane, but not indigent, he must so certify, and order him confined in one of the institutions for the care and treatment of the insane, if proper arrangements have been made for his maintenance; and the judge must ascertain, if possible, the legal settlement of the person. 133.

If the judge finds the person to be insane and indigent and to have a legal settlement in the county in which he resides, he must order him confined in the institution for the care and treatment of the insane owned by the county in which he has a legal settlement, otherwise in a state institution for the insane. 134.

If the chief medical officer of any hospital for the insane has a doubt of the insanity of a patient admitted by him, he must certify it to the county commissioner in lunacy. 3205-120.

The proceedings in committing insane patients to private institutions are the same as those required for commitment to public institutions. Commitments to private institutions. 3202, 111.

Application.
143.

c. Voluntary admission. Any resident of the state, believing himself about to become insane and desiring to submit himself to treatment, may be admitted to any state hospital for the insane upon application to the medical director. The application must give all the facts in the case, including a declaration as to the financial condition of the applicant. The county commissioner in lunacy is notified and determines the patient's financial condition. He is supported on the same terms as one committed.

144. A voluntary patient may be discharged upon the certificate of the medical director, because he is cured or because treatment in the institution is unnecessary or undesirable. A voluntary patient may leave the institution upon three days' notice to the medical director.

135. d. Appeal from commitment. The patient or any friend or relative in his behalf may obtain a writ of habeas corpus.

Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.

e. Cost of commitment is borne by the applicant or the county.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.
35.

When a female patient is to be taken to any institution she shall be accompanied by husband, brother, father, son or family physician or suitable female attendant.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.
20.

The judicial officer of the county has authority to order a transfer, the cost of which is borne by the institution from which the patient is transferred.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

By the director.
Laws of 1916,
ch. 167.

Any patient except one transferred from a penal or correctional institution may be paroled or discharged on the certificate of the medical director under regulations prescribed by the board of managers of the state hospital or freeholders of the county. Patients discharged must be furnished with suitable clothing and necessary traveling expenses, not exceeding $10.

By the managers.
C. S.
P. 58.

The board of managers may discharge an indigent non-resident patient to relatives living in another state or foreign country when it can be done without danger to him; or any non-indigent patient if those liable for his board are six months in arrears of payment. (See 3. d. Appeal from commitment; habeas corpus.)

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Payments by the state and county.

The state pays $2.50 per week toward the cost of the support of indigent patients in the state hospital; and the county from which they were sent pays $2 per week and furnishes clothing.

C. S.
P. 122.

Indigent patients without a legal settlement in any county are supported by the state.

Every insane person in an institution for the insane is personally liable for his maintenance. The trustee, guardian or relative bound by law to provide for him if he had not been sent to the institution is liable for the expenses of his clothing and maintenance. The parents, grandparents, the children and grandchildren, husband or wife, if of sufficient ability, of every insane person in an institution for the insane whose estate is not sufficient for his support, are liable for his maintenance.

Parties liable.

139.

If, after commitment as indigent, a person is able to pay for his maintenance, or some other person is able to pay for it, or some other person is legally bound for his support, the county from which he was committed must collect the sums due for his maintenance. When it is found after the commitment of any person as a non-indigent patient that his estate is unable to pay for his maintenance, he becomes on judicial order an indigent patient, and his board and maintenance are a charge upon the county in which he has a legal settlement.

141.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

When a person has escaped indictment, or been acquitted of a criminal charge upon trial, on the ground of insanity, the court, if his insanity in any degree continues, must order him to be sent to the house of detention for criminal insane at the Trenton State Hospital or to a county asylum. In case he had legal residence in a county, that county bears its proportion of the expense of maintenance, otherwise the state bears it.

Persons excused from crime.
Laws of 1916,
ch. 94.
26.

The proceedings in committing the criminal insane are the same as in other commitments. If the judge finds the person in question insane he must so certify, and order him discharged from imprisonment and confined in one of the state institutions for the insane, or in a county institution for the insane, until he is restored to reason or removed or discharged. If the person is restored to reason during the pendency of the proceedings, he must be remanded to the place in which he was confined, but not unless the medical director of the institution in which he is confined, presents to the judge a certificate that he has been restored to reason.

Commitment.
C. S.
P. 3206.
137.

In case a person confined in state prison appears insane, the same procedure is followed as in other cases of insanity. If the prisoner is found insane, the judge orders his commitment to the state hospital for the district in which he was convicted. If upon recovery his sentence has not expired, he must be returned to serve out the remainder of it.

ch. 94.

NEW MEXICO

Authority:

New Mexico Statutes, 1915

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state is without a board having general supervision and control of the insane.

b. Institutional. The state hospital is under the management of a board of five unsalaried directors, appointed by the governor.

The directors are responsible for the buildings and property of the hospital, have the care and custody of all patients, and the disbursement of all moneys. The president of the board is the chief executive officer. He has general direction of the affairs of the hospital, nominates and with the advice and consent of the board of directors, employs all physicians, nurses, guards and other necessary employees, and fixes their salaries. The board enacts laws and regulations for the government of the hospital, its employees and inmates, and has power to remove any officer or employee of the asylum. The board has discretionary power in case of absolute necessity to remove patients to the nearest possible safe and appropriate place; to regulate the accounts; to examine and audit the expenditure for employees and all other expenses; to make regulations and fix the terms upon which insane patients who are not indigent or who are not residents of the territory may be admitted.

The medical superintendent must be a graduate in medicine and have practiced his profession five years after the date of his diploma.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane residents of the state are entitled to admission to the state hospital. No case of idiocy, simple feeble-mindedness, delirium tremens or mania from drinking may be received, and no person with a contagious or infectious disease. Non-resident indigent insane may not be admitted unless they became insane while within the state. Resident indigent insane have preference in admission.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Whenever it appears, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of a judge of the peace of any county, that a person within the county is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger his health, person or property, he must issue a warrant directing the person to be taken before any judge of the district court within the proper district for examination. The judge of the district court must subpoena two or more witnesses, best acquainted with said person, to appear and testify before him at the examination. A subpoena must also issue for at least one graduate of medicine, requiring him to attend the examination. If the physician certifies that the person is insane and that it would be dangerous for him to be at large in the community, and the court is satisfied of the same, he must order the person to be committed to the state hospital. If the person is indigent, the judge must so certify to the board of directors of the hospital.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person restrained of his liberty may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to obtain relief from the restraint, if it proves to be unlawful. Application for such writ must be made by petition to any judge of the supreme court, signed and verified either by the party for whose relief it is intended, or by some person in his behalf.

NEW YORK

Authorities:

Consolidated Laws of New York, 1910

Criminal Code of New York, 1909

Laws of New York, 1911, 1912, 1914, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state hospital commission consists of three members. One of the commissioners must be a reputable physician of at least ten years' experience in actual practice and five years' experience in the care and treatment of the insane in an institution for this class; one must be a reputable attorney of not less than ten years' standing and the third a reputable citizen. The commission chooses one of its members as chairman. All three commissioners are salaried officials, the medical commissioner receiving $7,500 per annum and the other two $5,000 each. They are appointed by the governor, the medical commissioner to hold office during good behavior, and the other two commissioners for a term of six years. Any commissioner may be removed by the governor for cause. Attached to the office of the commission is a medical inspector who is charged with the inspection of the state hospitals and especially with the examination of the patients confined in the different hospitals, and who must have at least five years' actual experience in an institution for the treatment of the insane.

The commission is, in general, charged with the execution of the laws relating to the custody, care and treatment of the insane, but not laws relating to feeble-minded persons, epileptics and idiots. It is required to examine all institutions, public and private, authorized to receive and care for the insane, and the methods of government and management of the inmates. The commission has the general oversight and the control of all the property of state hospitals for the insane, and accepts and holds any grant or bequest of money or property for the maintenance of any insane person in a state hospital or for other legitimate purpose. The commission must visit every state hospital and every private institution at least twice a year and make necessary recommendations. The matters that the commission must examine and inquire into are specified in detail. The commission is required to meet the board of managers of each hospital at least once a year for the consideration of the management and improvement of the institution. Any member of the commission or the medical inspector may visit any institution where any sick or infirm persons are received or treated for the purpose of ascertaining whether insane persons are confined there without authority. Persons in charge of such institutions must afford the commission free access and all needed information. The commission makes regulations in regard to correspondence of the insane in custody, and must approve books of record or blank forms for the official use of the hospitals. The commission is required to submit an annual report to the legislature, including financial estimates for the hospitals.

The hospital commission divides the state into as many hospital districts as there are state hospitals, and has power to change their limits. The hospital districts must be so defined that the number of patients in each is in proportion, as nearly as practicable, to the hospital accommodations provided within it.

Physicians having obtained certificates as medical examiners in lunacy must file the certificate with the clerk of their county and send a certified copy to the hospital commission within ten days. The commission must keep a record of all medical examiners, and the latter are not qualified until they have received from the commission an acknowledgment of the receipt and filing of their certificates.

The form of the record of patients to be kept by the commission is prescribed in detail by the law, and all institutions are required to furnish the information called for by the record within a specified time, as well as information in regard to other necessary matters.

The commission is especially charged to provide for the prospective wants of the poor and indigent insane and for the prevention of over-crowding. It must furnish the legislature each year an estimate of the probable number of patients becoming inmates of the respective state hospitals during the ensuing year, and the cost of additional buildings and equipment when such are necessary. No expenditures may be made for additional buildings or extraordinary equipment except upon plans and specifications approved by the commission and the governor.

The commission must establish a bureau of deportation for the examination of insane, idiotic, imbecile and epileptic immigrants and alien and non-resident insane, consisting of a medical examiner and such medical or lay deputies as may be necessary, the appointments being made by the commission. The medical examiner of the bureau must be a reputable physician of at least ten years' active experience in his profession and of at least five years' experience in the care and treatment of insane in the hospitals of the state or elsewhere. He receives a salary of $5,000 a year, holds office during good behavior and is removable by the commission for cause. The commission must endeavor to arrange for the continued official recognition of the bureau by the proper authorities of the United States or other states in carrying out its purposes. The bureau must maintain a careful inspection of the methods and facilities for examining the immigrants with mental diseases at the port of New York and is required to report to the commission from time to time in regard to methods employed, the prevalence of insanity among the immigrants and the foreign born population and to make recommendations in regard to the means by which insane, idiots, imbeciles and epileptics may be deported. It must examine alien and non-resident insane persons in the state hospitals, in other public institutions and elsewhere in order to determine whether they are suitable cases for deportation under the immigration law or are removable to other places or states. The superintendents of hospitals and institutions must notify the bureau of all such cases coming under their jurisdiction and furnish the necessary information. The bureau must notify the authorities in charge of the enforcement of the immigration laws at the port of the entrance of immigrants found to be insane, idiotic, imbecile or epileptic and insane aliens who are or become public charges and arrange for their deportation. The bureau must further notify the commission of the location of non-residents, and the commission must give the bureau the necessary authority for their investigation and removal. Upon the request of any indigent insane persons or on the written consent of their relatives, legal representatives or qualified friends, the bureau may remove such patients to any country, state or place to which they belong. In making transfers and removals, the bureau is required as far as practicable to employ nurses and must employ female nurses or attendants to accompany female patients unless it is certified by the medical superintendent that they are in condition to travel alone in safety.

Licenses for
institutions.
59.

Institutions for the care and treatment of the insane for compensation must be licensed by the hospital commission. Application for license must be accompanied by a plan of the premises proposed to be occupied, with such other information, and in such form, as the commission may require. The commission may at any time investigate how far a licensed institution is conducted in compliance with the license, and may, if the interests of the inmates of an institution require it, amend or revoke any license granted.

Investigations into the care of the insane.

When the commission has reason to believe that any person adjudged insane is wrongfully deprived of his liberty, or is cruelly or improperly treated, or inadequate provision is made for his care and safe-keeping, it may order an investigation of the facts, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, and exercise the powers of a referee in the supreme court. If the order made by the commission for remedial treatment is just and reasonable, and approved by a justice of the supreme court, it is binding upon any and all institutions to whom it is directed, and any wilful disobedience of it is a crime. When the commission undertakes an investigation into the general management of an institution for the insane, it may give notice to the attorney general, who must appear personally or by deputy and examine the witnesses. The commission may at any time visit and examine inmates of any county or city almshouses to ascertain if insane persons are kept therein.

The authorities of each institution for the insane must place on file in the office of the institution the recommendations made by the commissioners as a result of their visits, for the purpose of consultation by such authorities and for reference by the commissioners upon their visits.

Recommendations to be kept on file. 60.

Justices of the supreme court are authorized to appoint visitors to state hospitals, upon nomination of the State Charities' Aid Association.

Appointment of visitors. 61.

The hospital development commission consists of the state engineer, the chairman of the state hospital commission, the state architect, the chairman of the senate finance committee, the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee, two members appointed by the governor and one member of the legislature who is appointed by the minority leaders of the senate and the assembly from one of the financial committees of the legislature.

Hospital development commission. Laws of 1917, ch. 238.

The commission has charge of the construction of the state hospitals, must adopt a general plan of hospital development, provide for the proper accommodation of surplus patients and make recommendations to the legislature.

Powers and duties.

b. Institutional. Each state hospital is under the control of a board of managers, subject to the powers of the commission, consisting of seven members, of whom two must be women, appointed by the governor for terms of seven years. If any manager fails to attend for six months the regular meeting of his board without due excuse, his place may be declared vacant.

42.

The managers, who do not receive any compensation for their services, have control of all the property and the general direction of the internal affairs of the institution to which they are appointed, subject to the powers of the commission. The rules and regulations must be uniform for all the state hospitals. The superintendent of each hospital is required personally to submit at each monthly meeting of the board a report showing the changes in population, health of patients, officers and employees, accidents, suicides, unusual sickness, etc.

Duties of boards of managers. 43.

The further duties of each board in regard to the general interests of the hospital, maintaining proper inspection, keeping records, holding regular meetings, making reports of the condition of the patients and the institution to the hospital commission and investigating all charges made against officers or employees of hospitals, etc., are prescribed in detail by law.

Appointment
of superintendents.
44.

The hospital commission has the sole power of appointing the superintendents of the hospitals, but subject to the approval of the board of managers of each hospital. The superintendents must be well educated physicians, graduates of incorporated medical colleges and have at least five years' experience in a hospital for the insane. The commission also has authority to transfer superintendents from one hospital to the other. A superintendent may be removed by a vote of the majority of the board of managers for proper cause, if approved by the commission. Charges of misconduct or incompetency against any superintendent may be made to the board of managers of the hospital by the commission.

Powers and duties of superintendents.
45 (1).

The superintendents must have an examination made of each patient within five days after his admission. The superintendent of each hospital has the power to appoint resident officers, including a woman physician and other employees, to remove them for cause, and to prescribe their duties. The commission determines the number of resident officers and employees and may, with the approval of the governor, abolish the office of any of them.

45 (12).

The general duties of the superintendents are prescribed in detail. A committee consisting of three superintendents, appointed by the commission, establishes by-laws, rules and regulations governing the appointment and duties of officers and employees of all the state hospitals, and for their internal government, discipline and management. The by-laws and regulations which must be uniform for all the hospitals are subject to the approval of the commission and the quarterly conference of superintendents and managers with the commission.

48.

The several superintendents of the hospitals must hold joint meetings at least once in three months to consult with the commission on matters pertaining to institution management and particularly with reference to the care and treatment of patients.

49-56.

The law specifies minutely regulations in regard to allowances, salaries, and wages; estimates of expenditures; the powers and duties of the treasurer and steward.

The hospitals for the criminal insane are under the control of the state superintendent of prisons who appoints the superintendents and subject to the approval of the hospital commission makes rules and regulations for the government of these institutions.

- Utica State Hospital, Utica; established 1836; 1,671 beds.
- Matteawan State Hospital, Beacon; established 1855; 887 beds (for criminal insane).
- Willard State Hospital, Willard; established 1865; 2,397 beds.
- Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie; established 1867; 3,409 beds.
- Middletown State Homeopathic Hospital, Middletown; established 1870; 2,235 beds.
- Buffalo State Hospital, Buffalo; established 1870; 2,171 beds.
- Binghamton State Hospital, Binghamton; established 1879; 2,746 beds.
- St. Lawrence State Hospital, Ogdensburg; established 1886; 2,252 beds.
- Central Islip State Hospital, Central Islip; established 1889; 5,000 beds.
- Rochester State Hospital, Rochester; established 1891; 1,627 beds.
- Kings Park State Hospital, Kings Park; established 1895; 4,373 beds.
- Brooklyn State Hospital, Brooklyn; established 1895; 864 beds.
- Gowanda State Homeopathic Hospital, Collins; established 1896; 1,287 beds.
- Manhattan State Hospital, Ward's Island, New York City; established 1896; 5,004 beds.
- Dannemora State Hospital, Dannemora; established 1899; 550 beds (for insane convicts).

The state syehiatric pinstitute is located on Ward's Island, New York City.

b. In local institutions. There are no local public institutions for the insane, although there are maintained in several cities, e. g. Albany, Brooklyn, New York, and Syracuse, psychopathic hospitals or psychopathic wards in connection with general hospitals where the insane are received for observation and treatment. If the cases appear to be chronic or of long duration, they are committed from these psychopathic wards or hospitals to the district state hospital. A psychopathic hospital has also been established at the state reformatory for women. Insane persons may not be committed to an almshouse. ^{Poor law.}_{6.}

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, not idiots, who are residents of the state and citizens are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for the insane. Epileptics and feeble-minded persons becoming insane may be committed to a state hospital. ^{80.}

The commission may authorize the superintendent of a state hospital to admit under special agreement insane persons who are ^{89.}

residents of the state, other than poor and indigent, when there is room for them. No such patient is permitted to occupy more than one room in any state hospital. The payment of the cost of maintenance must be secured by a surety company bond. The commission has power to demand the removal of such patients to duly licensed private institutions.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. A person alleged to be insane, who is not confined upon a criminal charge, may be committed to an institution for the insane by an order made by a judge of a court of record of the city or county, or a justice of the supreme court of the judicial district, in which he resides, upon a certificate by two qualified medical examiners in lunacy, accompanied by a verified petition, or upon such certificate and petition after a hearing to determine the question. The hospital commission furnishes blanks for such certificates and petitions. An insane person may be committed only to a state hospital, a duly licensed institution for the insane or the hospitals for the criminal insane, or to the care and custody of relatives or a committee.

Certificates of physicians.
81.

The certificate of lunacy must be made out by two reputable physicians graduates of an incorporated medical college, who have been in actual practice at least three years, and have filed with the commission a copy of the certificate of a judge of a court of record, showing such qualifications in accordance with the forms prescribed by the commission. The physicians must jointly make a final examination within ten days before the order is granted. The certificate must contain the facts and circumstances upon which the judgment of the physicians is based and state that the condition of the person requires care and treatment in an institution for the insane. Neither of the physicians may be a relative of the person or have any interest in the institution to which it is proposed to commit him.

Who may apply for commitment of the insane.
82.

Any person with whom an alleged insane person lives, or his near relatives, or the next of kin available, or the committee of his person, or an officer of any well-recognized charitable institution, and any overseer or superintendent of the poor, may apply for an order of commitment by presenting a verified petition containing a statement of the facts in the case, accompanied by the prescribed certificate of lunacy of the medical examiners. Notice of the application must be served personally upon the person alleged to be insane at least one day before it is made; and if made by an overseer or superintendent of the poor, notice must also be served upon the relatives of the alleged insane person or if relatives are not known, then upon the person with whom he resides.

If no demand is made for a hearing on behalf of the alleged insane person, the judge may proceed to determine the question of insanity, and if satisfied that he is insane, may immediately issue an order for his commitment. But if it appears that he is harmless and that relatives or a committee are willing and able to care for him at some other place, the judge may order him placed in the care of the relatives or committee. The judge may require other proofs in addition to the petition and medical certificate.

Judge to determine question of insanity. 82.

Upon demand, or upon his own motion, the judge may direct a hearing to be held on application within five days, at which he must hear the testimony and examine the alleged insane person if deemed advisable, in or out of court. If the person is found insane, the judge must forthwith order him committed to an institution for the insane or make other provision. If the judge can not hear the application himself, he may name some referee to hear the testimony and report to him. The order of commitment to a state hospital must be accompanied by a written statement of the judge in regard to the financial condition of the insane person and persons liable for his support. The superintendent of the hospital must be notified of the commitment and at once make provision for the transfer of the insane person to the hospital.

Hearing on application. 82.

The petition of the applicant, the certificate of the medical examiners, the order directing a hearing, if one be issued, and the decision of the judge or referee, and the order of commitment must be presented at the time of the commitment to the superintendent of the institution and copies forwarded by him to the state hospital commission. The same obligations in regard to the papers in the case rest upon relatives or committee to whose care an insane person is committed.

Documents to be sent hospital superintendent. 82.

The superintendent of any institution for the insane may refuse to receive a person committed if the papers do not comply with the above provisions, or if, in his judgment, the person is not insane within the meaning of the statute, or if received, he may be discharged by the commission. No person may be admitted to any such institution after the expiration of ten days from the date of the order of commitment.

Refusal of patients. 82.

If an insane person needs immediate care and treatment, or is dangerously insane, he must at once be received by a state or licensed institution authorized by law to care for the insane on a certificate of lunacy executed by two medical examiners in lunacy after examination upon the presentation of a proper petition, but may not be retained for a period exceeding ten days. Prior to the expiration of this time, an order for his commitment must be obtained as provided by law. The superintendent of any institution may refuse to receive an insane person upon such certificate and petition if, in his judgment, the reasons alleged are not sufficient, or if the condition of the patient is not of such a character as to make it necessary that he should receive immediate treatment.

Emergency commitment. 82.

County superintendents and overseers of the poor, health officers and others having to do with the poor must see that indigent insane persons are timely granted the necessary relief. They must notify the proper health officer of the presence of the insane person, who must see that proceedings are taken for his examination and commitment to a state hospital. When directed by the health officer, it is the duty of the poor officer to make application for the person's commitment. Pending the examination, commitment and delivery to the hospital, the health officer must see to it that the insane person is properly cared for. In the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, the duties prescribed in this paragraph devolve upon the trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, and in the other boroughs of New York City and in the county of Albany upon the commissioner of public charities.

The trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, or the commissioner of public charities of New York City or of Albany county, must see that proceedings are taken to determine the mental condition of any person from their locality who is reported insane and when necessary that his commitment to an institution for the insane is secured; provided that the report is made by one with whom the alleged person lives, or a near relative or a licensed physician or a peace officer or by a representative of an incorporated charitable society. When it is reported to the above authorities that an apparently insane person resides within their respective boroughs, they must send a nurse or a medical examiner in lunacy, attached to the psychopathic ward of their institution to see the alleged insane person. If, in the judgment of the chief resident alienist of the respective psychopathic wards or of the medical examiners, the person needs immediate care and treatment or should be placed under observation, he must be removed to the psychopathic ward, for not over ten days, due notice being given his relatives.

When a person has been ordered committed, the local officials must have him transferred without unnecessary delay to a proper state hospital. In no case may an insane person be confined in any other place than a state hospital or licensed private institution for the insane for more than ten days, nor be committed as a disorderly person to a prison for criminals. The local authorities may provide a plan for the temporary care of alleged insane persons, subject to the approval of the commission.

• An apparently insane person may be arrested if disorderly by any peace officer who must notify the proper authorities at once. In

New York City a magistrate may, upon proper information, issue a warrant for the apprehension of an apparently insane person. If the person appears upon arraignment to be insane the magistrate must commit him to the custody of the trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals or to the commissioner of public charities, as the case may be, who shall take measures for the determination of his mental condition.

When an insane person has sufficient property to maintain himself or those liable for his support are able to do so, and he is dangerously insane, the committee of his person and estate or his relatives must provide a suitable place for his confinement, subject to the approval of the local health officer. The local health officers, or in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx (New York City), the board of trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, and in the boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond (New York City), and the county of Albany, the commissioner of public charities are required to see that the above provision is complied with in the most humane and speedy manner. If the committee of his person or relatives refuse or neglect to care for the insane person, application must be made by the officials, named to a judge of a court of record of the city or county, or a justice of the supreme court of the judicial district in which such insane person may reside, for his apprehension and confinement. Unless an order of commitment has been previously granted, application must be made by the officers named for his commitment to the proper institution and they must take the necessary legal steps to have him sent to such institution. Pending transfer the officers in question must have the insane person cared for in a suitable place and provided with proper medical care and nursing.

dangerous
88.

Any person needing immediate care and treatment because of mental derangement other than delirium tremens or drunkenness may be admitted to a state hospital on the written request of a health officer on an approved form. Unless the patient signs a request to remain as a voluntary patient he must be examined and committed in the usual way within ten days. The superintendent may refuse to receive a patient who is deemed by him not suitable for such care.

Commitment by health officers.
82, sec. 2.

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of any state hospital or licensed private institution for the insane, except the Matteawan and Dannemora State Hospitals may, subject to the regulations of the state hospital commission, receive and retain as a patient any suitable person who voluntarily makes written application for admission, and whose mental condition is such as to render him competent to make it; but he may not be detained for more than ten days after having given notice of his intention or desire to leave the hospital.

Superintendents may admit.
99.

Within three days after the admission of a voluntary patient the superintendent of a state hospital must send a record of the patient to the state hospital commission. The superintendent in charge of a licensed private institution for the insane must furnish the medical commissioner or medical inspector a complete list of all voluntary cases since his last visit. The commissioner or inspector must examine such cases and determine whether they belong to the voluntary class. His decision as to their commitment or discharge must at once be complied with. Failure to conform with these requirements is sufficient cause for the revocation of the license of a private institution.

d. Appeal from commitment. If a person ordered to be committed, or any one representing him, is dissatisfied with the order of the judge, he may within thirty days after the order is made, obtain a rehearing and review of the proceedings upon petition to a justice of the supreme court other than the justice making the order of commitment. The justice must summon a jury and try the question of the insanity of the person committed. If the petitioner is other than the person committed, or his near relative, or the one with whom he resided, security must be furnished for payment of the costs of the proceedings. If the person is found to be sane, he must forthwith be discharged, but if insane, the justice must certify the fact and order recommitment as upon the original hearing. If a judge or justice refuses to grant an application for an order of commitment of an insane person proved to be dangerous to himself or others, he must state his reasons for refusal in writing, and any person aggrieved thereby may obtain a rehearing and review, and a determination of the question of insanity by a jury.

Any one held as insane is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus, on application made by him or by a friend. At the hearing, the medical history of the patient must be given in evidence, and the superintendent or medical officer in charge must testify under oath.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of determining the insanity of an indigent person and in securing his admission to a state hospital, including the expense of proper clothing, medical care and nursing, is a charge upon the town, city or county securing the commitment. If the person is not indigent, the cost paid by a town, city or county may be collected from his estate or from the persons liable for his maintenance.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The hospital to which a patient is committed must send a trained attendant to bring him to it. Each female patient must be accompanied by a female attendant, unless accompanied by her father, brother, husband or son. The commission may prohibit the employment of an attendant it deems unfit.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

In case of over-crowding or for other reasons, the state hospital commission may order the transfer of patients from one state hospital to another, at the expense of the state.

By the hospital commission.
91.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent of a state hospital may grant a parole to a patient not exceeding one year, under the general conditions prescribed by the commission, during which time the hospital is not liable for his expenses, which are then a charge upon the committee or person to whom he is paroled.

Parole of patients,
Laws of 1917,
ch. 335.

The superintendent of a state hospital, on filing his written certificate with the commission, may discharge any patient, except one held upon an order of the court having criminal jurisdiction in an action or proceeding arising out of a criminal offense, as follows: (1) a patient who has recovered; (2) a patient who is a dotard, not insane; (3) any patient who has not recovered, but whose discharge will not be detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to himself; provided that the superintendent is satisfied that friends or relatives of the patient are willing and able properly to care for him after discharge.

Discharge of
patients.

When the superintendent is unwilling to certify to the discharge of an unrecovered patient, any judge of the court of record in the district in which the hospital is situated may inquire into the case and, upon proofs, having accorded the superintendent a hearing, direct the discharge of this patient, upon such security as he may require.

When court may order
discharge.

The commission may discharge any patient who, in its judgment, is improperly detained in any institution. Poor and indigent persons discharged by the superintendent as idiots, dotards, or as epileptics, not insane, or because not proper cases for treatment, must be received and cared for by the superintendent of the poor or other authority having similar power in the county from which he was committed. A patient held upon an order of a criminal court in an action arising from a criminal offense may be discharged upon the superintendent's certificate of recovery, approved by the court.

Discharge of patients by commission.

No patient may be discharge or paroled from a state hospital without suitable clothing and money. If they can not be otherwise obtained, the steward must, upon the order of the superintendent furnish the clothing and money, not exceeding twenty-five dollars, to defray his expenses until he can reach his relatives or friends or find employment.

Clothing and money.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 320.

Parole and discharge from licensed institution. Laws of 1917, ch. 335.

The superintendent of a licensed private institution may parole a patient for not more than one year, under conditions prescribed by the commission. He may discharge, on filing his certificate with the commission, a recovered patient or one who has not recovered if it is not detrimental to public welfare or injurious to the patient. The superintendent, subject to the approval of the commission, may apply for the transfer of a patient to a state hospital whom he refuses to discharge and for whom relatives or friends refuse to provide care and treatment.

Return of indigent non-resident insane. Insanity Law. 95.

Poor and indigent persons committed to a state hospital who have not a legal settlement in the state of New York may be returned by the hospital commission, either before or after their admission to a state hospital, to the country or state to which they belong upon an order issued by any judge.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Laws of 1917, ch. 355.

All poor and indigent insane persons, not in confinement under criminal proceedings, committed to state hospitals, are wholly supported by the state. The cost of transfer of patients to state hospitals is a charge upon the state. The hospital commission must secure from the patient's estate and from relatives or friends liable or willing to assume the costs of support, reimbursement at the rate fixed by the commission, in whole or in part. The commission may waive the whole or a portion of the claim of the state against the estate of a patient, when the court by which the committee was appointed has directed the committee to apply any part of the patient's estate for the maintenance of his family. The commission may appoint agents to secure from relatives and friends who are liable or willing to assume the cost of support reimbursement, in whole or in part. The commission may fix the rate to be paid for the support of an inmate of a state hospital by the committee of the patient or by relatives liable for his support or by persons willing to assume the cost. The maintenance of any inmate of a state hospital, committed upon a court order arising out of any criminal action, must be paid by the county from which the inmate was committed.

86.

The father, mother, husband, wife or children of an insane person if of sufficient ability and his guardian, if the estate is sufficient, must maintain him.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If the defense of insanity is made in a criminal case, and the jury acquit the defendant on that ground, the court may order him committed to a state hospital until he becomes sane.

Criminal Code 1909. 454.

If the court believes a defendant to be insane the question of his insanity must be tried; and if he is found insane, he must be committed to a state hospital. 481.

When a defendant pleads insanity, the court may appoint a commission of not more than three disinterested persons to examine him and report as to his sanity. The same procedure may be taken in case the defendant is in confinement under indictment and appears to be insane. In either case, the commission must at once make examination, to be attended by the district attorney, and the counsel of the defendant may take part in the proceedings. 658.

If the commission finds the defendant insane, and the court deems his discharge dangerous, the judge must order him committed by the sheriff to a state hospital, and to be delivered by the superintendent to the sheriff upon his recovery, in which case the superintendent must notify the judge of the circuit court of the district in which the hospital is situated, whereupon the defendant must be brought back to trial, judgment, execution, or be legally discharged. 659. 661.

The expenses in such cases are chargeable upon the county from which he was sent, which may, however, recover from the estate of the defendant or from a relative, town, city or county, bound to provide for him. 662.

Whenever the physician of the state prison for women, of any county penitentiary or workhouse, of any reformatory for women, or of the state reformatory or of any other penal institution, reports that a person undergoing a sentence of one year or less or convicted of a misdemeanor, or any female convict, is insane, the warden may apply to a judge of a court of record for an examination of the person by two legally qualified examiners in lunacy, other than the physician connected with the penal institution where the alleged insane person is in confinement. If the examiners in lunacy are satisfied that the convict is insane, the warden must apply to a judge of a court of record for an order transferring the person to the Matteawan State Hospital. This hospital is established for the purpose of caring for insane persons committed by the criminal courts or transferred to it by the state hospital commission and for convicted persons who are declared insane while undergoing sentence for a year or less or for a misdemeanor and for all female convicts. 110.

When a convict in the Matteawan State Hospital is found insane at the expiration of the term for which he was sentenced, he may be retained until he has recovered or is otherwise legally discharged. The medical superintendent of the hospital may discharge and deliver any patient whose sentence has expired and who is still insane but for whom it is safe to be at large, to his relatives or friends who are able and willing to maintain him without further public charge. Discharge from the Matteawan hospital. 119.

When a convict recovers who has been retained in a hospital as insane beyond the expiration of his sentence, the superintendent may discharge him, and the convict is then entitled to the sum of ten dollars, suitable clothing and a railroad ticket to his county. Any convict whose term of imprisonment has expired and who has not recovered may be transferred to a state hospital on the order of the commission.

Transfer of criminal insane from state hospitals.
122.

The state hospital commission may order any insane inmate of a state hospital to be transferred to the Matteawan State Hospital, who has been committed upon the order of a court of criminal jurisdiction; it may also order such transfer of any person who has previously been sentenced to a term of imprisonment in any penal institution and who still manifests criminal tendencies, or any patient who has previously been an inmate of the Matteawan State Hospital.

Dannemora hospital.
140.

The Dannemora State Hospital is for male prisoners only who have been confined in state prisons, reformatories or penitentiaries for a felony.

Transfers of prisoners to the Dannemora hospital.
148.

When the physician of any one of the above mentioned penal institutions certifies to the warden that a male prisoner is insane, the warden must have him transferred to the Dannemora State Hospital, to be retained there until legally discharged.

Retention of insane convicts
after the expiration of their terms.
149.

When a convict in the Dannemora State Hospital, whose term has expired, continues insane, the medical superintendent must apply to the judge of a court of record for the examination of the convict by two physicians qualified as medical examiners in lunacy, other than the physician of the hospital. If the examiners appointed by the court are satisfied that the convict is insane, they must certify to the fact in the manner prescribed for the commitment of insane to state hospitals. The judge, if satisfied that the convict continues insane, must order the superintendent to retain him until discharged as provided by law.

Discharge of insane convicts
after expiration of terms.
150.

A convict whose sentence has expired and who is still insane, but who is reasonably safe to be at large may be discharged to relatives or friends able and willing comfortably to maintain him without further public expense; and such convict may be given the whole or a portion of the allowances granted to recovered convicts.

When a convict recovers who has been retained beyond the expiration of his sentence because of insanity, he may be discharged and is then entitled to ten dollars, suitable clothing and transportation to the county of his conviction or other place he may designate at no greater distance.

Any unrecovered convict in the hospital whose term of imprisonment has expired may be transferred to any institution for the insane upon an order of the state hospital commission.

Strict rules are established to prevent unauthorized communication with or by convict patients, but letters written by the latter to the county judge or district attorney of the county from which they were sentenced must be forwarded after examination by the medical superintendent.

Communication

Session Laws, 1915, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of public charities is composed of five members, recommended by the governor and elected by the concurrent vote of the general assembly for terms of six years. The board must investigate and supervise the whole system of charitable and penal institutions of the state and report biennially to the general assembly. When the board believes that any curable insane person is not properly cared for in an almshouse or other place, whether he is a public charge or not, it must have him removed to a state hospital for the insane. The board may at any time request reports from the superintendents or other officers of charitable institutions and any desired statistics. Private hospitals for the care of the insane must be licensed by the board and are subject to its inspection and supervision.

The board of internal improvements consists of the governor and two others appointed by him. They have the duty of investigation of public institutions.

The state hospitals for the insane are under the management of a general board of directors consisting of nine members, no two of whom may be residents of the same county, appointed by the governor for terms of six years. They receive four dollars a day and expenses while engaged in official duties. The board directs and manages the affairs of the three hospitals, appoints the superintendents and fixes the salaries of all officers and employees. A meeting must be held at each institution at least once each year and at such other times as necessary. Biennial reports must be made to the legislature.

A co-operative purchasing committee, called "the committee," consisting of the superintendents of six of the larger state institutions and including the three state hospitals for the insane, meets at least four times a year, three members constituting a quorum, to make such rules and regulations as it deems necessary for the economical purchase of supplies for the state institutions represented. Other state institutions not represented on the committee must report to it regarding all supplies purchased by them, and may request the committee to purchase their supplies. The committee reports quarterly to the governor and publishes an annual report.

The members from each district constitute the executive committee for the hospital of the district, and the three members appointed from the state at large are the executive committee for the hospital for the insane at Goldsboro. The superintendent must be a skilled physician of good moral character, and holds office for six years, subject to removal by the board for cause. The superintendent has exclusive control of the subordinate officers and employees he appoints and may remove them for cause.

State Hospital for the Insane, Morganton; established 1880; 1,360 beds.

State Hospital at Goldsboro, Goldsboro; established 1880; 860 beds (for negro patients).

State Hospital for Dangerous Insane, Raleigh; established 1898; 70 beds.

b. In local institutions. Any county, city or town may establish a hospital for the care of insane persons who can not be admitted to a state hospital. Otherwise such insane, when chargeable upon the county, may be provided for in the county homes which are under the control of the board of commissioners of each county.

4601.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, except idiots, who are citizens and residents of the state are entitle to admission to the state hospitals; but admission may be refused persons who recently have been exposed to contagious or infectious disease.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Some respectable citizen, residing in the county of the alleged insane persons must file an affidavit with a clerk of the superior court of the county that the person in question is a fit subject for admission to a state hospital. The clerk may then have the alleged insane person brought before him or go to his residence, and examine into the condition of his mind, with the assistance of the county physician and the advice of other reputable physicians. He must take the testimony of at least one recognized physician, resident of the state, and if possible, of a member of his family or friend. If the clerk decides that such person is insane, and some friend will not give bond guaranteeing his good behavior and to keep and support him until the cause for confinement ceases, the clerk must order his removal to the proper hospital, and submit to the board of directors the examination of the witnesses. In an emergency, the examination may be made by a justice of the peace, who is required to report to the clerk of the superior court. But the order for commitment must be issued by the clerk. In cases of great emergency, a justice may admit a patient to a hospital, but must procure an order from the clerk to the superintendent within thirty days. Whenever any citizen or resident of the state becomes suddenly or violently insane in some county other than that of his settlement, the proper authorities of any county in which he is have authority to examine him, and to commit him to the hospital to which he would be sent had he been committed from the county of his own settlement. Transcripts of the proceedings in such cases must be sent to the clerk of the county in which he is settled, in order that all the costs of examination and commitment may be borne by the proper county.

insane, how dealt with.
4584.

If a citizen or resident of another state is found to be insane, the clerk of the superior court must notify the governor of the state in which the insane person is a citizen; and, for a reasonable length of time, the insane person must be kept in restraint, but must not be committed to any state hospital. If no provision is made by his own state for removal within a reasonable time, the county commissioners of the county in which he was found insane must send him to the state in which he is a citizen, and deliver him to the proper authorities. No person who has moved into the state while insane may be deemed a resident. Knowingly to commit a non-resident to a hospital for the insane is a misdemeanor.

Alien insane how dealt with.
4585.

When an alien is ascertained to be insane, the clerk of the superior court must immediately notify the governor of his state of all the facts and transmit a copy of the examination taken. This information and examination must thereupon be transmitted to the federal authorities with a request for the deportation of the insane person.

Indigent patients to have priority.
4573.

In the admission of patients to any state hospital, priority must be given to the indigent insane, with due regard to the curability of patients, and the exigencies of particular cases. It is permissible, however, to admit other than indigent patients if there be sufficient room.

Committed
inebriates found insane.
4607.

Inebriates of both sexes may be admitted to hospitals for the insane, but not without pay; and not more than twelve of each sex. Inebriates are committed in the same manner as the insane, except that the admission of every inebriate is for a specified time, not exceeding twelve months and not less than three months. If any inebriate while under treatment at a hospital is found to be insane, he must be detained and treated as any other insane person under order of the board of directors, due report having been made to the clerk of the proper county.

c. Voluntary admission. Provision is made for the voluntary admission of patients. An application for voluntary admission must be accompanied by the certificate of a licensed physician stating that the applicant is a fit subject for admission. No certificate of the clerk of the superior court is necessary. A voluntary patient is not entitled to a discharge until he has given the superintendent ten days' notice of his desire to be discharged. 4593.

d. Appeal from commitment. Every person restrained of his liberty is entitled to an inquiry as to its lawfulness and to have the same removed if unlawful. Habeas corpus. 1819.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of committing a patient to a hospital or removing him must be paid by himself if the board of county commissioners are satisfied that he has sufficient property, or by any person liable for his support or maintenance, or by the county in which he has a legal settlement. If any person is found to possess sufficient property to support those who may be legally dependent upon his estate, he may be placed in any hospital without the state or in a private hospital, instead of in a state hospital; it is lawful to place him in the house he has chosen. 4555.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The superintendent of the hospital to which a patient has been committed provides an attendant to convey him and renders a bill for cost of transportation to the board of commissioners of the county. Laws of 1915. 204.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Each superintendent may, for the space of thirty days or until the next meeting of the board of directors, discharge any patient upon probation if, in his opinion, it will not be dangerous to do so. A report of any such probation must be made to the board of discharge. By the superintendent. P. R. 4597.

It is the duty of the board of county commissioners, by proper order, to discharge any ascertained insane person in their county, not admitted to the appropriate hospital, and not committed for crime, when it appears upon the certificate of two respectable physicians that such insane person ought to be discharged if in a hospital. If the superintendent of the hospital doubt the propriety of the admission of patients, he may place the matter before a board consisting of any three directors of the hospital. If such board so By the county commissioners. 4595. 4596.

decide, the person in question shall be received into the hospital, but a like board may at any time thereafter discharge him to any friend who will become surety for his conduct, and proper care. Any three of the board of directors of a hospital may, upon the certification of the superintendent, discharge from the hospital any person admitted as insane, when he is found to be sane, or has recovered, or is an incurable who can safely be allowed at liberty, or the board may release such a person to the county of his settlement on probation. The board may discharge or remove an insane person upon other sufficient causes.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Parties liable. Indigent insane patients are supported in hospitals at the expense of the state. An insane person, who is able to pay expenses, is not entitled to free admission, and the superintendent has no power to bind the state to support him.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Treated as dangerous insane.
4617.

All persons committing crime while insane, who therefore can not be tried for their offense, are to be treated as dangerous insane. When a person confined as dangerous insane and against whom indictment for crime is pending has recovered, it is the duty of the superintendent of the hospital to notify the clerk of the county, who shall take the case to the superior court of his county for trial, and the person must not be discharged without an order from the court.

4618. Persons accused of capital crimes and certain other grave offenses, who escape indictment or who are acquitted on the ground of insanity must be committed to the hospital for the dangerous insane. In the event of their recovery, it is the duty of the sheriff of the county from which they came to take them before the judge of the superior court of the district to be dealt with according to law.

Discharge.
4620.

No person acquitted of capital felony on the ground of insanity and committed to the hospital for the dangerous insane may be discharged except by authorization of the general assembly. A person acquitted of crime of a lower degree than a capital felony must not be discharged except upon an order from the governor. In other cases the consent to the discharge of the judge of the district is necessary.

Laws of 1911,
ch. 169.

When a person who has been confined in the state's prison for felonious murder, and who has been discharged at the expiration of his sentence, or as the result of executive clemency, thereafter so acts as to justify the belief that he is possessed of a homicidal mania, and is duly adjudged insane, the clerk of the superior court or other officer having jurisdiction of the proceedings may, in his discretion, commit him to the state hospital for the dangerous insane, or to one of the other state hospitals for the insane.

A convict in the state prison becoming insane must be admitted to the hospital for dangerous insane. If still insane at the expiration of his sentence, he must be held until he becomes sane or is considered harmless and incurable.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

Board of control.
Laws of 1915,
ch. 230.

a. General. The board of control of state institutions consists of three members appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate for terms of six years. The chairman of the board is designated by the governor for each biennial period. The members receive a salary of $3,000 per annum and expenses, and are subject to removal by the governor.

The board is charged with the management of the charitable and correctional institutions of the state, and with the investigation of the methods of caring for the insane, delinquent, and criminal classes.

Compiled Laws.
243.

The board of control manages and controls the state hospital for the insane, and makes all by-laws and regulations necessary for its government.

Commissioners of insanity.
2549.

The commissioners of insanity (see 3b.) in each organized county are responsible for the safe-keeping of the insane in their respective counties.

Superintendent.
1757.

b. Institutional. The superintendent of the hospital is appointed by the board of control. He must be a physician of acknowledged skill and ability, a graduate of a reputable medical college; and must give a bond to the state for $10,000, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, to be approved by the board. In addition to having the entire control of the medical, moral and dietetic treatment of the patients, he appoints all employees and assistants necessary for the institution except the steward and matron, who are appointed by the board of control, and may discharge any of these employees at will and suspend any resident officer of the hospital, except the steward, being responsible to the board for the proper exercise of this power.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

North Dakota State Hospital for the Insane, Jamestown; established, 1883; beds, 750.

b. In local institutions. The county commissioners, who are the overseers of the poor, must provide for the indigent insane of their respective counties who can not be received at the state hospital, and may care for them in the county asylum when one has been established.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All resident insane of the state who are not idiots are entitled to receive care and treatment at the state hospital. Residents of other states may be admitted to the hospital upon payment of the cost of board and treatment, but not to exclusion of resident insane. 1751.
1761.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. In each organized county there is a board, consisting of three persons, known as "commissioners of insanity." The county judge is a member of the board and its chairman. The other two members are appointed by the board of county commissioners, one of whom must be a reputable practicing physician and the other a reputable practicing attorney, the term of appointment being for two years. In case of the temporary absence of the commissioners or their inability to act, the county judge calls to his aid a reputable practicing physician or attorney. The commissioners have cognizance of all applications for admission to the hospital. They have power to issue subpoenas and to administer oaths. Commissioners of insanity.
2549.

Applications for admission to the hospital must be made in writing, verified by affidavit, alleging that the person in whose behalf the application is made is believed to be insane and needs custody and treatment in the hospital for the insane. The commissioners must at once investigate the grounds for the application and may require the person for whom admission is sought to be brought before them for examination. Any citizen of the county or any relative of the person alleged to be insane may appear and resist the application, and the parties may appear by counsel. The commissioners, whether they decide to dispense with the presence of the person alleged to be insane or not, must appoint some regular practicing physician of the county, who may be of their own number, to make a personal examination of him. The physician appointed must certify that he has made a careful personal examination, and that he finds the person insane or not insane. In connection with the examination, the physician must endeavor to obtain from the relatives of the person, or from others, correct answers to the interrogatories required by the law. If the commissioners find the person insane and a proper subject for treatment at the hospital, they must authorize the superintendent to receive him. Application 2560.

If it becomes necessary, for want of room or other cause, to discriminate in the reception of patients into the hospital, a selection must be made as follows: (1) cases of less than one year's duration; (2) chronic cases of more than one year's duration presenting the most favorable prospects for recovery; (3) those for whom applica- Preference in tion has been longest on file; (4) when cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent are to be preferred.

When accommodations of hospital are insufficient.

When persons found to be insane can not at once be admitted to the hospital nor safely be allowed at liberty, the commissioners must require them to be suitably provided for otherwise until admission can be had, or until the occasion therefor no longer exists. If such a person is to be cared for without public charge, the commissioners must appoint a special custodian for him. In the case of public patients, the commissioners must require that they be cared for by the overseers of the poor. If there is no poorhouse for their reception, or no more suitable place can be found, they may be confined in the county jail; or the commissioners, in their discretion, may require them to be taken to a hospital of any state that may be designated by the governor, who is authorized to make the best terms he can for the admission of such patients.

Insane persons cared for by county.

On application to the commissioners on behalf of persons alleged to be insane and whose admission to the hospital is not sought, asking that provision be made for their care as insane, either as public or private charges, within the county, the commissioners, on proof of their insanity, may provide for them as in other cases.

2559.

Insane persons who have been under care, outside of the hospital, may on application be transferred to the state hospital whenever they can be admitted thereto, on the warrant of the commissioners. Such admission may be had within six months without another inquest, unless the commissioners deem a further inquest advisable.

Insane not to be restrained of liberty except by proper authorities.
2557.

No person supposed to be insane may be restrained of his liberty by any other person except by authority obtained as herein required, save to such extent and for such brief period as may be necessary for the safety of persons until proper authority can be had.

Non-resident insane.

Any person found by the commissioners of insanity to be insane who has no legal residence within this state must be sent, at the expense of the state, to the place where he belongs when it can be ascertained.

c. Voluntary admission.

Proceedings for release.
2562.

d. Appeal from commitment. On a statement in writing, verified by affidavit to the county judge of the county in which the hospital is situated or of the county in which any person confined in the hospital has his residence, alleging that a person is not insane and is unjustly deprived of his liberty, the judge must appoint a commission of not more than three persons to inquire into the merits of the case, one of whom must be a physician; and if two or more are appointed, one must be an attorney. Their report to the county judge must be signed by the superintendent. Before finding the person sane, the judge must notify the nearest relative or friend and all who testified at the hearing at which the person was found insane, to appear before him within five days and give testimony. If, on their report, the county judge finds the person sane, he must order his discharge; if not, he must authorize his continued detention. The commission so provided for may not be repeated oftener than once in six months for the same person, and no commission may be appointed in the case of any patient within six months of the time of his admission. 2563.

All persons confined as insane are entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus. If the judge decides that a person is insane, this is no bar to the issuance of the writ a second time whenever it is alleged that he has been restored to reason. Habeas corpus. 2564.

e. Cost of commitment. The expense of committing an insane person to the hospital, including the fees to the commissioners of insanity, the judge and the examining physician, is paid out of the county treasury; but the fee and expenses of the sheriff for conveying a patient to the hospital, or to the authorities of another state, are paid out of the state treasury. Paid by the state. 2565.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

A state transportation agent or his deputy has the duty of conveying insane persons to the hospital. A female taken to the hospital must be attended by some other female or some relative. The superintendent, in his acknowledgment of delivery, must state whether there was any such person in attendance. If any relative or intimate friend of the patient, who is a suitable person, requests it, he has the privilege of executing the commissioners' warrant in preference to the sheriff or any other person. Transportation agent. Laws of 1915, ch. 245.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

No patient who is under charge or conviction of homicide may be discharged without order of the board of control.

Any patient who is cured must immediately be discharged by the superintendent and be furnished with suitable clothing and a sum of money not exceeding $20, which shall be charged to the expenses of the patient in the hospital. The relatives of any patient not susceptible of cure and not dangerous to be at large have the right to remove him with the consent of the board of control. On application of the relatives or immediate friends of any patient in the hospital who is not cured and who can not safely be allowed to go at liberty, the commissioners of insanity of the county where such patient belongs may authorize his discharge and provide for his care within the county. When a patient is discharged from the Discharge. 1766. Discharge to county. 1767. 1768.

hospital, without application, notice must at once be sent to the commissioners of insanity of the county where he belongs, who must have him removed and cared for in the county, as in other cases, unless the patient is discharged as cured. And if the commissioners of insanity of such county neglect to remove such patient within thirty days from the date of the order of discharge, the county is liable to the state for the sum of $2 per day for the care and keeping of the patient at the hospital. The superintendent of the hospital must report annually all such delinquencies and the time of any patient kept beyond the period of thirty days to the governor. The amount thus reported is charged to each county named and made a part of the tax levied against the county.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The expense for the care, board, and treatment of all patients in the state hospital is a charge upon each county sending them.

The superintendent must furnish the county auditor of each county having patients in the state hospital a quarterly statement giving the number of patients belonging to the county, the name of each patient, and the cost of his maintenance.

When notified that a patient sent from one county has a legal residence in another, the superintendent must hold and keep him at the expense of the latter county, including expense already incurred and unadjusted.

Expense incurred by one county on account of insane persons whose legal residence is in another county must be refunded by the county of residence.

When the county commissioners of a county make claim that a patient is not a proper charge against their county, and so notify the state auditor, stating that he is a charge against some other county, or against the state at large, the state auditor must notify the county auditors of each of the counties in question to file proofs within thirty days, and after investigation of the residence of the patient determines the matter. The superintendent of the hospital must thereafter treat the patient as from the county determined by the state auditor, and if he finds that the patient is not a proper charge against any county in the state, he must be regarded as a charge against the state at large. Any county may appeal from the determination of the state auditor to the district court of the county.

The expense incurred by any county for the maintenance of a patient at the state hospital is a charge against his estate; provided, that he has no heirs within the United States dependent on the estate for support; and provided, that no real property may be sold during the life of the insane person nor any personal property under

Laws of 1918.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If a jury finds that the defendant in a criminal case is insane, the trial or judgment must be suspended until he becomes sane, and the court must, in the meantime, order him committed to the state hospital for the insane by the sheriff and re-delivered to the sheriff upon becoming sane, to stand trial or judgment or be discharged.

Persons under trial.
Compiled laws.
11068.

When a jury returns a verdict acquitting a defendant upon the grounds of insanity, the court may, if the defendant is in custody and it deems his discharge dangerous to the public safety, order him to be committed to the state hospital for the insane or to the care of such person or persons as the court may direct, until he becomes sane.

Persons acquitted of crime.
9210.

When any person becomes insane during confinement, in the penitentiary or reform school, the governor must make inquiry, and if he determines that the person is insane, he must order him confined and treated in the state hospital for the insane, and upon his recovery, if before the expiration of the term for which he is committed, returned to the penal institution from which he was taken.

Insane
prisoners.
11296.

The superintendent of the hospital must notify the warden or superintendent of the recovery of a person transferred as provided, and the warden or superintendent must, if the term of sentence of the person has not expired, return him to the proper custody. If the term of imprisonment has expired at the time of recovery, the warden or superintendent may direct that he be released from further custody by the superintendent of the hospital.

 Laws of Ohio, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of state charities is composed of seven members, six of whom are appointed by the governor for terms of three years. The governor is ex-officio a member of the board. No more than three of the appointed members may belong to the same political party. The board must investigate the condition and management of all public benevolent and correctional institutions, both state and local. Officers in charge of such institutions must furnish the board the information it requires. The board may prescribe forms of reports and of registration. All plans for new state, county and city institutions must be submitted to the board for its approval. The governor may order the board to investigate the management of any institution. The board has an agent whose duty it is to investigate the financial condition of the inmates of the institutions and of the relatives liable for their support and is given special powers to that end. The board has authority to take depositions, administer oaths and punish for contempt. The board must make a biennial report to the governor.

The governor appoints annually a committee consisting of six women to visit the benevolent and correctional institutions of the state. The committee must visit the institutions at least twice a year and make a complete report of their observations and conclusions to the board of state charities.

All the state charitable, correctional and penal institutions (including the state hospitals for the insane) are managed and governed by the board of administration. The board is composed of four members, not more than two of whom may belong to the same political party, appointed by the governor for terms of four years, and subject to removal by him for cause. Failure on the part of a member to attend three consecutive meetings of the board unless excused by formal vote may be treated by the governor as his resignation.

The members must be selected with regard to their knowledge or experience concerning methods of care and treatment at the institutions and of business management. Each member receives a salary of $4,000 per annum and must devote all his time to the duties of his position. The board appoints a fiscal supervisor-secretary, who receives a salary of $3,600 a year, and such other employees as may be necessary, and fixes their compensation. The board has all power and authority necessary for the exercise of the executive, administrative and fiscal supervision of all state institutions and succeeds in all respects the former boards of trustees and boards of managers; it regulates the admission and discharge of inmates, as provided by law, including nonresident patients; it divides the state into hospital districts for the purpose of regulating the admission of insane patients and fixes the quota to which each county is entitled.

The board acts as a commission of lunacy with power to examine into, with or without expert assistance, the question of the sanity or condition of any person committed to or confined in any public or private hospital, or restrained of his liberty by reason of alleged insanity at any place within the state, to order and compel the discharge of any such person who shall not be insane, and to direct what disposition shall be made of him.

1841-5.

The board keeps in its offices a complete set of books and accounts with each institution, showing the nature and amount of every expenditure and an account of all appropriations. Superintendents make requisition on the board for all supplies, which are purchased by competitive bidding. A record is also kept of each patient committed to the institutions. A member of the board must visit each hospital at least once a month and report to the next meeting of the board. In making necessary investigations, the board is given the powers of a justice of the peace to administer oaths, etc. The board is required to make an annual report in detail to the governor.

b. Institutional. Each state institution is under the executive control of a superintendent, appointed by the board of administration, subject to the rules and regulations of the state civil service commission. The superintendent, with the approval of the board, selects the employees. The board fixes all salaries.

Superintendent.

The board must make rules and regulations to insure a strictly non-partisan management and any member of the board, officer or employee of any institution, may be removed for exercising political influence and for seeking the employment or promotion of any person at any institution.

The Longview Hospital (a county institution, although under state supervision and receiving a state appropriation for maintenance) is under a board of five directors all of whom must be residents of Hamilton county. Two are appointed by the governor, one by the judges of the court of common pleas, one by the judge of the probate court, and one by the commissioners of Hamilton county. Each of the directors holds office for five years. The powers and duties of the board are similar to those of the state board of administration so far as the general government of this institution is concerned.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Columbus State Hospital, Columbus; established 1835; 1,820 beds.
 Cleveland State Hospital, Cleveland; established 1855; 1,775 beds.
 Dayton State Hospital, Dayton; established 1855; 1,279 beds.
 Athens State Hospital, Athens; established 1864; 1,400 beds.
 Toledo State Hospital, Toledo; established 1883; 1,810 beds.
 Massillon State Hospital, Massillon; established 1892; 1,763 beds.
 Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, Lima; established 1906; 1,200 beds.

2004. b. In local institutions. The Longview Hospital, Cincinnati, (established 1821; 1,521 beds) is maintained by the state for the exclusive benefit of residents of Hamilton county; the buildings and grounds are owned by the county. Very few insane are maintained at the almshouses or infirmaries. The Cincinnati general hospital has a psychopathic department.

Detention
hospitals.
3154.

On the request of the probate judge the county commissioners of the county may establish a detention hospital for alleged insane persons in proximity to the probate court, under charge of a registered physician as superintendent, to be appointed by the probate judge. Other necessary assistants are appointed by the superintendent. In counties where a municipality owns a hospital, the county commissioners may contract with it for the temporary care of alleged insane persons.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, not feeble-minded or epileptics, who are residents of the state may be admitted to the state hospitals provided their insanity occurred during their residence in the state. Non-residents may be received when authorized by the board of administration, if the legal residence of the person can not be ascertained or other peculiar circumstances afford a sufficient reason.

Residents and non-residents.
1950.

1817.

1819.

If it is found that the person whose commitment is requested has not a legal residence or the residence is in doubt, and the judge of probate believes that the person should be committed to a hospital, he must notify the board of administration to investigate the matter.

Quota of patients.
1951.

The medical superintendent of each state hospital must inform the probate judge of the different counties of the hospital district of the quota of patients to which the county is entitled and the number in the hospital therefrom. The probate judge may at any time commit an acute case if the quota is not full.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. A resident citizen of the proper county must file with the probate judge of the county an affidavit in prescribed form alleging the insanity of the person and that he is dangerous to the community if allowed at large and stating his legal settlement. Within five days after the affidavit is filed, the probate judge must issue a warrant for the apprehension of the alleged insane person, fix a day for the hearing, and summon witnesses, two of whom must be reputable physicians of at least five years' practice.

Affidavit.

1954.

If any person resists the affidavit, the judge must subpoena the persons demanded on behalf of the person alleged to be insane. The probate judge may examine the person out of court if it is deemed inadvisable to bring him into the court, and the proceedings required may then be held in his absence. After hearing all the testimony and being satisfied that the person is insane, the judge must cause a certificate to be made by two medical witnesses of the person's insanity. The medical witnesses must have at least five years' experience in the practice of medicine and not be related by blood or marriage to the person alleged to be insane or to the person making the application. The medical certificate must be in the form prescribed by the state board of administration with the advice of the superintendents of the several hospitals. Upon receiving the medical certificate, the probate judge must at once apply to the superintendent of the hospital situated in the district in which the patient resides, transmitting at the same time all the papers in the case together with a certificate that the person is free from infectious disease. The superintendent must immediately state whether the patient can be admitted. The proceedings for commitment to the Longview hospital of Hamilton county are of the same character.

Examination.

1956.

Medical
certificate.1958.
As amended by
laws of 1917.

The relatives of a person charged with insanity, or found to be insane, may, with the court's approval, take charge of him if they desire to do so. In such a case, the probate judge before whom the inquest has been held must deliver the insane person to them.

1961.

When a person is discharged from a hospital as cured and again becomes insane, the same proceedings must be had as in the case of the original application before he can be again admitted to a hospital for the insane.

1975.

c. Voluntary admission. A person in an incipient state of mental derangement may apply for admission to the state hospital in the district in which he resides. The superintendent of the hospital may receive the applicant for not more than sixty days if, upon his own examination and the statement of a reputable physician familiar with his condition, he is satisfied that the applicant is in

No hospital may care for more than five voluntary patients at one time, nor may voluntary patients be admitted when the quota for the county is full.

Habeas corpus.
1976. d. Appeal from commitment. All persons confined as insane are entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and the question of insanity must be decided at the hearing. If the judge finds the person insane, the decision is no bar to the issuing of the writ a second time if it is alleged that the person has been restored to reason.

Paid by the county.
1981. e. Cost of commitment. All expenses connected with inquests of insanity, making records, conveying patients, etc., are a charge upon the county from which the patient was committed.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Sheriff conveys.
1959. It is the duty of the sheriff to convey patients to the hospitals upon the order of the probate judge. If the insane person is a female, a suitable female assistant must be appointed to accompany the sheriff and the insane person to the hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

By the board of administration.
1952. If a hospital can not accommodate the patients of the district to which it is attached, or if the interests of a patient make a transfer advisable, the board of administration may, with the consent of the superintendents interested, order the transfer of patients to the hospital of either of the other districts which at the time has room for such patients. Transfers made at the request of relatives or friends are at their expense, but all other transfers are at the expense of the hospital from which made.

Requests. Upon the request of the probate judge of any county, the board of administration may authorize the commitment of an insane person to a hospital located in another hospital district, if the reasons set forth in the application warrant such action.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Paroles.
1968. When the superintendent deems it for the best interest of a patient who has no homicidal or suicidal propensities, he may permit him to leave the institution on a trial visit for not more than 90 days. The patient may be returned at any time within this period without further legal proceedings.

Discharges.
1964. With the consent and advice of the board of administration, the superintendent may discharge any patient from the state hospital when he deems it proper and necessary, except patients of homicidal or suicidal tendencies. If the condition of the patient justifies it, he may be permitted to leave the institution unattended.

In case the patient requires an escort, the superintendent must notify the probate court of the county of which the patient is an inhabitant, who must issue a warrant to a suitable person, giving the friends of patients the preference, for the removal of the patient to his home. Escorts. 1966.

When a patient is discharged as cured, the superintendent must furnish him with suitable clothing and a sufficient sum of money, not exceeding $20 for traveling expenses. Money and clothing. 1971.

If the friends of a patient ask his discharge, the hospital superintendent may require a bond, conditioned for the safe-keeping of the patient. No patient charged with or convicted of homicide may be discharged without the consent of the superintendent and board of administration. When bond is required. 1979.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The probate judge committing any person to a hospital for the insane must certify to the superintendent the name and address of the guardian if any is appointed and of relatives who are liable for the person's support. The maximum rate for the support of inmates is $3.50 a week. Parties liable. Laws of 1911. 1815-1, 2.

A husband is liable for the support of a wife, a wife for a husband, parents for their children and children for their parents. 1815-9.

Superintendents of hospitals must submit to the board of state charities the information they may obtain in regard to the financial condition of any inmate or of relatives liable for his support. Information. 1815-6.

If the estate of any inmate is sufficient for his support without hardship to any dependents, and no guardian has been appointed, the agent of the board of state charities must petition the probate court to appoint a guardian. Guardians. 1815-7.

In cases of failure of relatives or guardian to pay for the support of patients, the institution may pay such expenses and certify the account for collection to the auditor of the county from which the patient came. Collections from counties. 1816.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

To the hospital for the dangerous and criminal insane are committed: persons who became insane while in the state reformatory or the penitentiary; dangerous insane persons in other state hospitals; persons accused of crime but not indicted because of insanity; persons indicted but found to be insane; persons acquitted because of insanity; persons adjudged to be insane who were previously convicted of crime. Persons committed as. 1985.

2003. When in an inquest of lunacy a probate judge finds a person insane who has previously been convicted of arson, assault, rape, robbery, burglary, homicide or attempt to commit such acts, he must commit him to the Lima state hospital (for the dangerous and criminal insane).

Transfer.

When the physician of the penitentiary or reformatory reports in writing to the warden that a convict is insane, the warden must apply to the probate court of the county in which the institution is located for an examination of the convict by two physicians of at least three years' practice in the state who are not connected with the penitentiary or reformatory. If satisfied that the convict is insane, the physicians must certify this in the form and manner provided for the commitment of insane persons to state hospitals. Convicts thus adjudged insane must be transferred to the Lima state hospital. An insane convict under indeterminate sentence, who is transferred to the Lima state hospital, must be detained for the maximum term of sentence provided by law for the offense for which he is convicted, unless sooner restored to reason. When restored to reason, and the superintendent of the hospital so certifies, a convict whose term of sentence has not expired must be transferred to the penitentiary or reformatory from which he came.

2217.

2221.

Procedure upon expiration of sentence.
1995.

If the insanity of a convict in a hospital continues at the expiration of his sentence, the superintendent must apply to the probate judge of the county within five days after the expiration of the sentence for an order to retain the convict until he is restored to reason and notify friends or relatives of the application. The probate judge must notify the alleged insane person and call two physicians not related by blood or marriage to him, who have been in actual practice of their profession for at least three years. If the judge finds satisfactory proof of insanity has been adduced, he must order the retention of the convict until restored to soundness of mind. The form of commitment is substantially that required for the commitment of inmates to other hospitals.

The superintendent may discharge patients not under sentence for crime who are recovered, or who are not recovered but whose condition is so far improved that their discharge will not be detrimental to the public welfare or to themselves.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. A commissioner of charities and corrections is elected in the same manner and for the same term as the governor. This officer may be of either sex, must be at least 25 years of age, and in all other respects have the qualifications required of the governor. His salary is $2,500. He must investigate the condition and management of all charitable and correctional institutions supported wholly or in part by the state or by any county or municipality. The officers of such institutions are obliged to furnish all information demanded by the commissioner. The commissioner reports annually to the governor and the legislature.

A state lunacy commission, consisting of the state commissioner of health, the chairman of the state board of public affairs, and the superintendents of the three state hospitals, is charged with the general supervision of the policy to be pursued by each hospital and with the formulation and adoption of a permanent plan and system for proper care and treatment of the insane.

Lunacy commission.
 Supplement of 1915.
 7040b.

The state hospitals for the insane are under the management of the state board of public affairs, consisting of three members, not more than two of whom may belong to the same political party, appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate for a period coterminous with his term of office.

Board of public affairs.
 8079.

The board has the general direction of the affairs of the hospitals, appoints the medical superintendents, assistants and physicians, and establishes by-laws, rules and regulations for the institutions.

Laws of 1917,
 ch. 174.

The board must meet at the different hospitals at least twice each year, and at such other times as are prescribed by the by-laws. The superintendents and the state commissioner of health must meet with the board. A committee must visit and inspect each institution once every three months and the entire board must visit and inspect the institutions at least once a year. Biennial reports of the results of the inspections must be made to the governor. They must be accompanied by the reports of the superintendents.

The county commissioners have supervision of the insane who are committed or admitted to the county poorhouses and jails.

b. Institutional. The superintendent is the chief executive officer of each institution. He must be a legally registered physician, experienced in the care of the insane. He appoints his assistants and attendants, with the approval of the board of public affairs, and may suspend officers until the next meeting of the board. He must personally examine each patient after admission, and visit all wards.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Central Oklahoma Hospital for the Insane, Norman; established, 1895; beds, 1,000.

Western Oklahoma State Hospital for the Insane, Supply; established, 1902; beds, 700.

Eastern Oklahoma Hospital for the Insane, Vinita; established, 1913; beds, 650.

b. In local institutions. Insane persons who can not be received at the state hospitals or who for other reasons are not sent there, may be cared for in county poorhouses or jails, under the supervision of the county commissioners.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Patients are divided into three classes, public, private, and voluntary. No person who is a resident of the state may be held as a patient in any hospital except upon a certificate of insanity and an order of admission. Nonresidents may be admitted at private patients. The board of public affairs, the medical superintendents, and the state commissioner of health may divide the state into districts. Patients may be sent to the hospital of the district in which they reside.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Patients are not admitted except upon certificates of insanity and orders of admission. The certificates must be made by two reputable, registered, graduate physicians.

Application for an order of admission may be made to the county court or the judge by the father, mother, husband, wife, brother, sister, or child of the person alleged to be insane, or by the sheriff, superintendent of the poor, supervisor of any township or any peace officer.

The court must fix a day for the hearing and appoint two reputable physicians to examine the person. Notice must be served personally upon the person and the relatives or persons with whom he resides at least twenty-four hours before the hearing. Personal service may be dispensed with upon the order of the court, in which case a guardian ad litem is appointed by the court. If a jury is not demanded, the court may determine the sanity or insanity of the person. If demanded or if deemed necessary, a jury of six freeholders must be summoned by the court. Jury.

If found to be insane, the court must issue an order for admission as a public or a private patient. No person may be admitted under any order after the expiration of thirty days from its date. Notice of the order of admission of a public patient must be given by the judge to the prosecuting attorney. Commitment.

If two qualified physicians certify that it is necessary, patients may be temporarily detained in the hospital, pending commitment, for not over thirty days, unless the time is extended by the court. Temporary detention.

When patients can not at once be admitted to a state hospital and can not with safety be allowed to go at liberty, the county commissioners must require them to be suitably provided for otherwise until admission can be had, or until the occasion therefor no longer exists. Such patients are considered as private patients when relatives or friends obligate themselves to take care and provide for them without public charge. In this case the commissioners must appoint some suitable person a special custodian, with authority and the duty to restrain, protect and care for the patient. In the case of public patients, the commissioners must require them to be restrained, protected and cared for by the commissioners of the county or overseers of the poor, at the expense of the county. If there is no poorhouse for their reception, or if no more suitable place can be found, they may be confined in the county jail in charge of the sheriff. Or the commissioners may require that such patients be taken to a hospital in any state designated by the governor, who is authorized and empowered to make the best terms he can with the authorities of any state for the admission of such patients. Disposition when hospital accommodations are insufficient. Revised Laws. 4566.

On application to the county commissioners, on behalf of persons alleged to be insane and whose admission to a state hospital is not sought, asking that provision be made for their care as insane, either public or private, within the county and on proof of their insanity and need of care, the commissioners may provide for them as in the case of other applications. On information that an insane person in the county is suffering for want of proper care, the commissioners must at once inquire into the matter and make all needful provision for his care. County care. 4567.

c. Voluntary admission. After providing ample accommodations for all public and private patients entitled to admission, the superintendent may receive and detain as a boarder and patient any resident of the state who applies for admission, if his mental con- Laws of 1917, ch. 174. 13.

A voluntary patient may not be detained for more than three days after having given notice in writing of his intention or desire to leave. Persons afflicted with serious nervous disorders who are not insane may be admitted in a similar manner, if in addition a certificate of two reputable physicians is presented.

Revised Laws.

d. Appeal from commitment. On a statement verified by affidavit addressed to the county judge of the county in which the hospital is situated, or of the county in which a person confined in the hospital has his legal settlement, alleging that he is not insane, the judge must appoint a commission of not more than three persons to inquire into the case, one of whom must be a physician, and if two or more are appointed, one must be an attorney. They must have an interview with the person alleged not to be insane and report to the county judge. Their report must be accompanied by a statement of the case and be signed by the superintendent. If the county judge finds the person not insane, he must order his discharge; if not, he must authorize his continued detention. The commission may not be repeated oftener than once in six months for the same patient, nor may a commission be appointed in the case of any patient within six months of the time of his admission.

e. Cost of commitment. The expenses attending the commitment of an insane person, including the compensation to officials, are paid out of the county treasury, but the allowance to the sheriff and his expenses are a charge upon the state treasury.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent may discharge recovered patients. Those who are not recovered may be discharged if a notice is sent to the friends of the patient or to the proper county officer; if the patient is not removed within ten days, he must be returned to his home, friends, relatives or to the county officer. If the superintendent refuses to discharge a patient upon request, the matter is determined by the court. A discharged patient may be readmitted under the original order within six months, but thereafter, he may be readmitted only upon a new adjudication of insanity and a new order of admission. Discharge.

18. Private patients may be declared public patients and public patients may be declared private patients upon the order of the court.

Rate of charge. 33. The rate of charge per week to be paid for the treatment of all patients is fixed annually by the joint boards, and may not exceed the actual cost, including officers' salaries. Extra attendance may be furnished by special contract.

Voluntary patients. 13. 25. The rate of charge for voluntary patients is the same as for public and private patients. Indigent voluntary patients may be supported by the state upon approval by the board of public affairs.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Revised Laws. 6050. 6055. 6058. If doubt arises as to the sanity of the defendant in a criminal procedure, a jury must be summoned to try the question. If found insane, the defendant is committed to the care of the sheriff until he becomes sane. The expense is paid by the county but may be collected from the estate of the defendant or from a relative.

Insane convicts. 7037. Insane convicts must be cared for in the hospital and returned to the penitentiary upon recovery, unless their terms of sentence have expired.

ernor, secretary of state, and state treasurer, has general power of direction and supervision over all state institutions including the hospitals for the insane. It makes by-laws, suspends or discharges executives and subordinates, fixes such salaries as are not fixed by law, prescribes duties for executive heads where they are not prescribed by law and additional duties deemed for the good of the public service.

Meetings of the board are open to the public and their records always open to inspection. The board must visit the state hospital at Salem every three months and the hospital at Pendleton once a year and report biennially to the legislature. The report must be mailed to each member of the incoming assembly at least thirty days before it convenes.

The board appoints a salaried secretary who visits the institutions at stated intervals or when directed by the board and among other duties serves as purchasing agent. 5.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. The board appoints a superintendent for each hospital (salary $3,000 Superintendent and assistants.
14. per annum). He appoints his assistants; he prescribes treatment and discipline subject to the rules of the board. It is provided that the institution at Salem shall have three assistants, the institution at Pendleton two, but the board may authorize the employment of other necessary physicians. The superintendent may also appoint other officers and employees subject to the approval of the board. He may suspend or remove subordinates subject to the approval of the board.

b. In local institutions. The indigent insane who can not be admitted to or kept at the state hospitals are under the supervision of the county courts, which have the exclusive superintendence of the poor in their respective counties, and which may provide for them in almshouses.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, residents of the state, are entitled to admission to a state hospital.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The county judge of any county in the state, upon application of any citizen in writing stating that any person by reason of insanity is suffering from neglect, or is unsafe to be at large, must cause such person to be brought before him for a hearing, summoning at the same time one or more competent physicians to examine the person alleged to be insane. If the physician or physicians, after careful examination, certify under oath that the person is insane, the judge upon approving their findings, must provide for the safe-keeping of the person and cause him to be conveyed to a state hospital. When a person is adjudged insane, the county judge must make a warrant reciting his findings, the name, age, nativity, and present residence of the patient, and a copy of the physicians' certificate. The warrant is recorded in the findings of the court and a copy sent with the patient to the superintendent of the hospital and another to the secretary of state.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. An appeal lies from the county court in insanity cases and in the same manner as provided for appeals from the county court in other cases.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of examination and committal is to be paid by the county in which the examination was made; but the cost of transporting patients to the hospital is borne by the state.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The person committed, together with the warrant of the judge and certificate of the physician, must be delivered to the sheriff of the county, and by him to the agent appointed by the superintendent to convey the insane person to the hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

The board may transfer patients from one hospital to the other in order to improve their condition or lessen their cost of maintenance. Transfers may be made, by the board, from the penal institutions, if upon examination, the inmates are found to be insane.

a. General. The general supervision over all hospitals and institutions for the care and treatment of the insane is entrusted to the board of public charities through its committee on lunacy. This committee consists of five members who are appointed by the governor for terms of five years and one of them must be a member of the bar of at least ten years' standing, and one a practicing physician of at least ten years' standing. The committee on lunacy must examine personally or through its secretary and report annually to the whole board the condition of the insane in the state, and the management of hospitals, public and private almshouses, and all other places where insane are cared for and treated.

The committee, with the consent of the chief justice of the supreme court and the attorney general, has authority to license all places in which insane persons are cared for, except prisons and state hospitals. It is a misdemeanor to conduct an institution for the insane without a license, or when a license has been suspended. The committee makes all regulations for the proper treatment of insane, for the commitment of the insane, and the forms to be observed in regard to the commitment and transfer of custody and discharge of patients other than those committed by the order of a court of record. It furthermore regulates the number of persons that may be detained, the accommodations to be provided, and all other things pertaining to the management and control of institutions for the care or detention of the insane. The board and the committee on lunacy make annual reports.

For each county in which there is a hospital or place where insane persons are kept, a board of visitors, consisting of not less than three persons, must be appointed by the board of public charities.

b. Institutional. The state hospitals are under the direction and control of boards of trustees or managers that vary somewhat in composition, but generally consist of nine members, appointed by the governor for terms of three years. The boards have general control of the affairs of the hospitals and appoint the superintendents, who must be skillful physicians and are subject to removal or re-election not oftener than once in three years, except for breach of trust. The superintendents appoint and control all subordinate officers, subject to the approval of the trustees.

b. In local institutions. Several counties and cities maintain their own institutions for the insane in connection with the county homes or as separate hospitals under the supervision of the directors of the poor of the county or the municipal authorities, as the case may be. The Philadelphia general hospital has a psychopathic ward of 175 beds.

Hospitals maintaining medical and surgical staffs, and in which courses of lectures in mental diseases are open to medical students may, with the consent of the board of public charities, maintain psychopathic wards for the reception and treatment of persons suffering with mental disorders.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons are entitled to admission to the state hospitals for the insane or to county or city asylums where such are maintained. Pay patients may be received, but indigent insane shall have preference.

Investigation. person that a person is insane, and that the welfare of himself or of others requires his restraint, the court must immediately appoint a commission to inquire into the facts of the case. This commission must be composed of three persons, one of whom at least shall be a physician and another a lawyer. They hear evidence and the statements of the party complained of, or of his counsel, and if, in their opinion, it is a suitable case for confinement, the judge must issue his warrant for such disposition of the insane person as will secure the object of the measure.

committee on lunacy.

When a person is found by inquisition to be insane, the committee of the person or of the estate, and also the clerk of the court in which the inquisition has been returned, must send to the committee on lunacy a statement signed by the committee of the lunatic, giving his name, age, sex and residence. The committee on lunacy may visit and examine the lunatic and is authorized to apply to any court, having jurisdiction over the committee, or to a judge of a court of common pleas of the county in which the lunatic is a resident or detained, to make such orders for his maintenance and for the care and disposition of his property as the case may require.

If it is made to appear to any law judge that an insane person is suffering from the want of proper care or treatment, he must order him placed in some hospital for the insane, at the expense of those who are legally bound to maintain him, but not such order may be made without due notice to the persons to be affected thereby, and the hearing had thereon.

Procedure on admission.

No person may be received as a patient in any institution for the insane without a certificate signed by at least two resident physicians who have been in actual practice for at least five years, both of whom must certify that they have examined separately the person alleged to be insane, and that he requires care and treatment in a hospital or other establishment for the insane. The certificate, duly attested under oath, before a judge of the county certifying to the standing and good repute of the signers, must have been made within a week of the examination of the patient, and within two weeks of the time of the admission of the patient. No person alleged to be insane may be received into any house for treatment or detention unless at the time of his reception the person or persons at whose instance commitment is made states in writing that in their belief the detention is necessary and for the benefit of the insane person.

The law prescribes in detail the facts concerning insane persons which must be made known at the time of admission to the superintendent who receives him. Within twenty-four hours after the reception of a person in any hospital, these facts must be entered in a book kept for that purpose. The regular medical attendant must then examine the patient and reduce the results of the examination to writing.

The medical attendants of hospitals are required to report to the committee on lunacy, within seven days from the time of the reception of the patient, the statements given at the time of the reception of the patient, and the results of the examination. At least once in six months, a report must be made on the condition of every patient.

Report on patients on committee on lunacy. 111.

The managers and officers of a hospital for the insane are not liable to the penalties imposed by the law in case of receiving for detention an insane person without complying with the legal requirements, if the judge trying the cause certifies that the officers and managers had good reason to believe that the reception and detention were necessary for the safety of the insane person. But the person must be legally committed or discharged from custody within 48 hours, and the board of public charities must have been notified of the facts connected with the reception and detention.

When hospital authorities not liable. 133.

Purdon's Digest. P. 2367. Pepper-Lewis Digest. P. 4751.

Persons suffering from mental disorders may be committed for not more than thirty days to the psychopathic wards of hospitals for observation and treatment in the same manner as persons are committed to hospitals for the insane. The courts before whom persons charged with offenses are brought for examination or trial may in like manner commit them to psychopathic wards for observation and diagnosis. But persons admitted to these wards who are found insane must be regularly committed and removed to a hospital for the insane within thirty days.

Temporary commitment. Laws of 1911, ch. 855. 2.

Whenever a person has become insane or so mentally defective that he is unable to take care of his property, the immediate relatives, creditors, or in their absence, any other person, may present to the court of common pleas of the county in which the person resides a petition under oath, asking the court to adjudge such person to be unable to take care of his property and to appoint a guardian for the estate of such person. The hearing of the petition must be in the presence of the person against whom it is presented, unless it is unsafe to require his presence. If the court is satisfied that the person is not able, owing to insanity or weakness of mind, to take care of his property, he must enter a decree accordingly, and appoint a guardian to take care of it. Upon written request, a trial of the case may be had by jury. When a decree has been issued, a guardian must be appointed with the same powers as the committee on lunacy.

Appointment of guardian. Digest. Page 4812. 105.

c. Voluntary admission. Persons who are threatened with mental disorders and voluntarily place themselves in institutions for the insane may be received for a period of one month or less by an agreement which must specify the time and be signed by them at the time of their admission. At the end of one month they may renew the agreement, but no agreement is valid unless signed in the presence of some adult person attending as a friend of the applicant, and by the medical attendant.

117.

Habeas corpus.

d. Appeal from commitment. On a sworn statement addressed by some respectable person to any law judge, that a person confined in a hospital for the insane is not insane and unjustly deprived of his liberty, the judge must issue a writ of habeas corpus and hold a public hearing on the question. The onus of proving the person insane rests upon those restraining him of his liberty. From an order by a court regarding the care of an insane person and the disposition of his estate, an appeal may be taken to the supreme court.

126.

e. Cost of commitment. If a person is found to be not suitable for commitment as insane and the proper court or a law judge so affirms, the one petitioning for his commitment is liable for all costs. If he is found suitable for commitment and has sufficient property, the property is liable to all costs. If the person is found insane and suitable for commitment and has not sufficient property, the county liable for his support in the hospital is also liable for all costs.

166.

When an indigent female insane patient is to be removed from one place or institution to another or returned from an institution, the court under whose order she is committed, or the commissioners of the county or the overseers of the poor of the district must provide a female attendant for every female patient in transit, unless the patient is accompanied by a member of her family. Refusal to comply with this provision or neglect to do so is subject to a penalty of $250.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

Laws of 1917,
no. 133.

The committee on lunacy is authorized, when satisfied that any of the state hospitals for the insane are overcrowded, to transfer patients from one state hospital to another and the liability of the municipalities, poor district, or persons, for the support of the patient is continued. The cost is paid from the general appropriation for the insane.

On recovery.
114.

All persons detained as insane other than the criminal insane must be discharged as soon as they are restored to reason and competent to act for themselves. The committee on lunacy must be notified of all discharges within seven days after they have been made and may at any time order the discharge of any person detained as insane other than criminals, but not without due notice to the person in charge of the institution where the patient is kept and to the persons at whose expense the patient is detained. The committee may not sign an order of discharge unless they have personally attended and examined the case of the patient. 115-116.

On statement in writing to any law judge by some friend of a person placed in a hospital that he is losing his bodily health, and that his welfare would be promoted by his discharge, or that his mental disorder has so far changed its character as to render further confinement unnecessary, the judge must make suitable inquisition and may or may not order the discharge of the person. Because of ill health or improvement. 127

Persons placed in any hospital for the insane may be removed by those who have become responsible for the payment of their expenses, provided, that such obligation was the result of their own free act, and that its terms require the removal of the patient in order to avoid further responsibility. By guarantor. 128.

Whenever any indigent insane inmate of a hospital is discharged, the authorities of the hospital must pay the traveling expenses of the inmate to his home. Traveling expenses. Laws of 1917, no. 131.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The expense of the care and treatment of the indigent insane in the state hospitals for the insane is fixed at two dollars and fifty cents per week for each person. The amount includes the cost of clothing. It is charged to the counties or to the poor districts from which the person was committed. The excess, which may not exceed two dollars and fifty cents per week, is paid by the state. The cost of maintaining persons in the hospital for the chronic insane may not exceed four dollars per week. Two dollars of the amount must be paid by the counties or by the poor districts and the remainder by the state. Indigents in state hospitals. Laws of 1917, no. 39. no. 69.

Persons liable. The husband, wife, father, mother, or child of a patient in any asylum or hospital maintained in whole or part by the state, if able to pay, is liable for the maintenance of the patient. The value of a patient's estate must be reported to the attorney general yearly in order that proper charges may be made against it.

The person may, however, be released from custody on parole by the court in which he was acquitted. The court directing the release on parole on the grounds of insanity may prescribe such terms and conditions of release as to it may seem proper.

Discharge. If, after a confinement of three months' duration, any law judge is satisfied by the evidence presented to him that the prisoner has recovered, and that the paroxysm of insanity in which the criminal act was committed was the first and only one he had ever experienced, he may order his unconditional discharge. If it appears that the paroxysm of insanity was preceded by at least one other, the court may appoint a guardian of his person under bond for any damage his ward may commit. In case of homicide or attempted homicide, the prisoner may not be discharged, unless in the opinion of the superintendent and three-fourths of the managers of the hospital and the court before which he was tried he has recovered and is safe to be at large.

Commitment of insane convicts.

Insane convicts may not be received at any hospital except when delivered by the sheriff on order of the court of the county in which they were arrested or committed, nor may such convicts be discharged from a hospital except upon an order to the sheriff or his deputy by the court. If any person detained in any prison is insane or in such condition as to require treatment in a hospital for insane, any law court under whose order the person is detained must upon application make an inquiry into the circumstances, either by a commission or otherwise, with notice to the committee on lunacy, and if the judge is satisfied that the person requires hospital treatment, he must direct his removal to a state hospital, the cost to be borne by the county liable for his maintenance in prison.

Discharge of insane convicts.
113.

The discharge of an insane convict confined in any hospital by order of any court or of a person who has been acquitted on trial because of insanity and likewise confined, is prohibited except by order of a court of competent jurisdiction; and in such a case, the insane person, whether a convict or acquitted, is not to be set at large, but to be removed to a place of custody other than a hospital.

The order for removal may not be made without notice to the committee on lunacy, and time must be given them to investigate the case and act on the application.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The penal and charitable commission consists of nine persons. Three of the members are appointed from the county of Providence, one from each of the other counties and two from the state at large. They are appointed for terms of six years and serve without compensation, but receive their traveling expenses. The governor may remove or suspend any member.

The commission has full management and control of the state penal and charitable institutions, including the hospital for mental diseases. Meetings must be held at least once every month and at such other times as may be determined. Annual reports must be made to the assembly. The commission appoints the officers for the institutions and determines their salaries.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

State Hospital for Mental Diseases, Howard; established 1869; 1,400 beds.

The state also contributes to the support of patients in the Butler hospital, Providence, which is an incorporated institution under private management.

b. In local institutions. Insane persons may be provided for in town asylums, but not unless, in the opinion of the secretary of the penal and charitable commission, they are properly cared for.

e. In families. The penal and charitable commission may place any chronic, quiet patient in board with any suitable family at a cost not exceeding maintenance in the state hospital.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons who are residents of the state are entitled to be cared for at the state hospital or may be supported in part at the Butler hospital by the state.

Parents, guardians, relatives or friends may place insane persons in a hospital for the insane provided they present to the superintendent a certificate of insanity from two physicians of good standing. The state is not liable for the support of such patients.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Upon the written application of the parent, guardian, relative or friend of an insane person, accompanied by the certificates of two practicing physicians registered in the state, that such person is insane, the penal and charitable commission is authorized to receive him for care and treatment upon such terms as it may fix.

Upon sworn complaint to any justice or clerk of a district court that a person within the county is so insane as to be dangerous to the peace and safety of the public, the justice or clerk must issue a warrant for the person and have him brought before the district court for examination. When the complaint is accompanied by a certificate signed by two practicing physicians in the state declaring that the alleged insane person can not without serious consequences be examined in open court, district courts are empowered to hold examinations at times and places most conducive to the health and comfort of the person examined. When an examination is made at any other place than in open court, the justice may not commit the person to a hospital without having the testimony of two practicing physicians of good standing that the person is insane and in need of restraint. If the court holds the complaint to be true it must, unless some other provision for the adequate restraint and treatment of the person satisfactory to the court is made, commit him to the Butler hospital or to the state hospital for mental diseases.

On a sworn petition setting forth that any person is insane, and should be placed in the hospital for mental diseases, any justice of the supreme court may call in not less than three commissioners to make inquiry and report whether the person in question is insane or not; and if insane, he must be placed in a hospital, either for cure or for restraint. The commissioners must give notice to the person complained of as insane of the time and place of hearing, so that by his own statements or by counsel he may defend himself. The commissioners may issue summons and compel the attendance of witnesses. When the person alleged to be insane is unable to obtain counsel and summon witnesses, the court or commission must appoint a competent counsel and summon all necessary witnesses. The justice may issue a warrant for the apprehension of the person complained of and order him detained by the officer to whom the warrant is directed or to be committed to the Butler hospital or the state hospital for mental diseases, or other public place for detention, pending the inquisition. Upon the report of the commissioners the justice may, without further hearing, order the person complained of to be confined in the Butler hospital or the state hospital, or in some other curative hospital for the insane, or he may dismiss the petition. Insane persons may be placed in the Butler hospital or other curative hospital for the insane, supervised by officers appointed under the authority of the state, by their parents or guard-may admit.

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of any hospital for the insane may receive as a boarder and patient any person who is desirous of submitting himself to treatment, and who makes a written application, but whose mental condition is not such as to render it legal to grant him a certificate of insanity. Such a boarder may not be detained for more than three days after having given notice to the superintendent of the hospital that he desires to leave it.

15.

d. Appeal from commitment. On petition of any person confined in an institution for the insane, or of any person on his behalf, to a justice of the supreme court, stating that he has reason to believe that such person is not insane, the justice must issue a commission for the purpose of inquiring into the condition of the person. The personal examination by the commissioners of the person detained as insane must take place in the institution where he is detained, except by order of the justice issuing the commission. In other respects the commission has the same power, and proceeds in the same manner as provided in case of examination for the commitment of the insane. The right of any person to the writ of habeas corpus is not abridged; and upon application for it, the court must inquire into and determine the sanity or insanity, or the necessity for restraint, of the person confined. If it appears necessary to the court, the case must be submitted to a jury in the superior court.

Habeas corpus.

No commission may be issued until the applicant pays or secures all costs and expenses connected therewith, as well as the expense of any ensuing confinement. No payment or security is required in case the application is for the discharge of the person confined by himself. In such a case, all costs are charged against the estate of the applicant or person committing him to the hospital, or in case of poor and indigent persons, against the state.

4. e. Cost of commitment. The costs of the commitment of an insane person are to be paid by him if he has any estate; otherwise by the state, until the liability of some town for his maintenance has been established. When the person or town chargeable with the cost neglects to pay it, the secretary of the penal and charitable commission must give notice to the attorney general, who must begin action for the recovery of the costs.

The secretary of the penal and charitable commission, together with the chairman of the state board of health, constitute a commission to receive all complaints, and communications from, or relating to, any inmate of any hospital for the insane within the state. Whenever it seems to them advisable, they must make inquiry and petition any justice of the supreme court for an examination into the condition of an insane person, and the justice may in his discretion cause the person to be discharged. The commission must present forthwith to some justice of the supreme court any application of any person confined for the appointment of a commission of examiners. The commission must from time to time visit every institution or place where any insane person is confined and examined into his condition. On the petition of the secretary of the penal and charitable commission, or of the officer having the custody of any person awaiting trial or imprisoned in any county of the state, stating that he is insane, the presiding justice of the superior court, or in his absence any justice of the superior court, may make such an examination of the person as he shall deem proper; and if satisfied that the person is insane or idiotic, he may order his transfer to the prison insane ward or to the state hospital for mental diseases. When restored to reason, the presiding justice of the superior court, may in his discretion remand the person to the place of his original confinement, to await trial for the offense for which he was committed. I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION charities and corrections.

Acts of 1915.
100.

a. General. The board of charities and corrections has visitorial and advisory duties without administrative or executive powers. It consists of five members appointed for the term of five years. The board or its secretary inspects the hospitals for the insane at least once in six months. The board inspects the workings and results of chartered institutions or associations engaged in the care of defective children or adults and makes reports therein. It appoints in each county or city a local committee of three visitors.

The regents establish by-laws and rules for the government of the hospital, fix the salaries of officers and attendants, not otherwise provided for by law, and establish the rates of admission, maintenance and medical attendance for patients other than beneficiaries.

Superintendent.
Acts of 1915.
100.
Acts of 1917,
No. 121.

The superintendent appoints and removes all officers and employees and makes all rules for the institution. The governor appoints a visiting board of one physician, one minister of the Gospel and one layman, who inspect the hospital and report to the governor each month.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

State Hospital for the Insane, Columbia; established 1821; 1,700 beds. There are separate departments for white and colored patients.

b. In local institutions. The indigent insane not admitted to the state hospital because harmless or incurable are maintained in the county poorhouses under the charge of the county commissioners, except in the cities of Charleston and Columbia where the city authorities are the overseers of the poor.

3. COMMITMENT

Code.
3356.

a. Persons committed. The state hospital for the insane is maintained solely for the custody and treatment of insane persons. A person is considered insane or fit to be a patient in the hospital who by reason of mental aberration of a more or less permanent character is dangerous to others or to his own life or person, or to property. Lack or loss of mental ability to properly conduct his usual work or business must be considered along with aberrant conduct in determining the question of a person's insanity. Harmless imbeciles, idiots or epileptics may not be maintained at the hospital except as pay patients.

No non-resident of the state may be admitted to a state hospital. If the resident of some other state is found to be insane the judge of probate informs the governor of the other state and unless its authorities remove the insane person within a reasonable time the county commissioners have him conveyed to the state of his citizenship. In the case of a foreigner the governor transmits the information to the secretary of state of the United States.

Inebriates or persons addicted to the drug habit may not be received in the state hospital for the insane for treatment, unless they are dangerous or violent. The board of county commissioners of the respective counties from which such persons are sent, if beneficiaries, must pay to the state hospital for their maintenance the same sum upon the same terms required for pay patients. Any inebriate or person addicted to the drug habit, who voluntarily makes application for admission to the hospital, may at the discretion of the board of regents be received as a pay patient; but not when the accommodations are inadequate for insane patients.

Inebriates.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Application by a relative, friend or citizen for commitment of an insane person to the hospital must be made to the judge of probate of the county in which the alleged insane person resides. The judge may investigate the case by examining witnesses or not as he sees fit, and if he is reasonably convinced that the application is a just one, he must transmit answers to the list of interrogatories prepared by the regents, and forward them to the superintendent of the hospital with an application for admission. If necessary the superintendent may refer the application to the board of regents before final answer.

Application.

3362.

When informed that the person can be received, on what terms, and under what class, the judge of probate must call two physicians to certify to the insanity of the person. The physicians must be registered according to the law of the state and may not be related to the patient. They must certify that he is not an epileptic, a lunatic incurable at home, and that he is violent and dangerous. If the judge of probate believes that satisfactory evidence has been offered of the person's insanity, he must make certificates as required by the board of regents, and send the insane patient to the hospital.

Examination

probate judge, any person as insane whose case is duly certified by two reputable physicians to be one of violent and dangerous insanity. In addition, an application signed by a magistrate of the county or the mayor or alderman, intendant or warden of the county, city or town in which such insane person resides or is found, must be left with the superintendent. The party committing the person must give a bond in the sum of $100 to the treasurer of the institution, with condition that he will within five days procure an order for his commitment, and failing this that the insane person must be removed or discharged by the superintendent.

3357. When the accommodations of the hospital are crowded, preference must be given to recent curable cases over chronic incurable cases. Preference is last given to idiots, or any who have been imbecile or weak-minded from childhood, to those who are subject to epileptic convulsions, and to those whose temporary insanity is produced by the use of alcoholic drinks or opiates.

3376. The sheriff or other person in charge of any patient ordered to be conveyed to the state hospital for the insane must hold him without expense to the hospital until notified by the superintendent that the patient can be received.

e. Cost of commitment. The expense of committing patients and transporting them to the hospital must be paid out of their estate if they have any, or by the relatives liable for their support. In the case of indigent patients the cost is borne by the state.

The superintendent of the hospital, under the authority of the board of regents, must furlough any convalescent patient at the request of his relatives or friends for a period not exceeding three months. The relatives or friends must pay all the traveling expenses of the patient from and back to the hospital. If at the expiration of three months the patient has not been returned to the hospital, he must be entered as discharged, and re-admission can not be obtained without recommitment as if the person had never been a patient in the hospital.

3378. Whenever a patient has recovered, the regents must discharge him from the hospital.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Indigent patients, residents of the state, are maintained at the expense of the state.

The judge of probate must make a thorough examination of disinterested, reliable witnesses under oath, and of records, as to the financial standing of the patient, the actual value of all property owned by him, and by the husband, wife, father, mother, sons, daughters of such patient, and also a statement of all debts due to and due by the patient and the relatives, and transmit to the superintendent of the hospital a report of his investigation. The superintendent or the board of regents must then decide whether the patient can be received as a beneficiary or as a paying patient, in whole or in part. If the patient is to be a paying patient the judge of probate must require a bond to be given with sufficient sureties.

Financial condition of patient to be investigated. 3365.

If satisfactory evidence is adduced before the judge of probate that a paying patient in the hospital has since admission become indigent, he must at once notify the superintendent of the fact.

The board of charities must investigate the financial condition of all inmates and relatives liable for their support, having due regard for others dependent for support on the patient's estate. All the information in each case with conclusions and recommendations are submitted to the board of regents of the state hospital which then decides what charges shall be made and collects the amounts, if necessary calling on the attorney general for aid. The state board of charities may cancel or modify any such order.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Any judge of the circuit court is authorized to send to the state hospital for the insane every person charged with the commission of any criminal offense, who upon trial proves to be non compos mentis. When the person so sent is not a pauper, he must be supported out of his own estate.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and correction is composed of five persons, no three of whom may be residents of counties in which any state public institutions are located, appointed by the governor for terms of six years. The board has control of all state institutions including the hospitals for the insane, with power to examine all that pertains to the management and condition of these institutions and to demand information. In addition, the board has all the powers formerly possessed by the boards of trustees of the several institutions, including the appointment for the hospitals of the insane of medical superintendents, assistant physicians, stewards and matrons.

C. L.
p. 45b.

The board or a majority of it must visit the institutions once a year (monthly visits by one or more members are required) and report to the legislature at each regular session.

b. Institutional. The superintendent of a hospital for the insane must be a physician of acknowledged skill and ability. He appoints all employees and assistants, except those subject to appointment by the state board of charities and correction upon his recommendation, and may discharge any employee and suspend any resident officer.

ch. 266.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Yankton State Hospital, Yankton; established 1878; 1,060 beds.

Land has been purchased at Watertown for another state hospital for the insane.

b. In local institutions. Insane persons who can not be cared for at a state hospital or for whom admission to it is not sought may legally be provided for in the county poorhouses or asylums, which are under the management of the county commissioners as overseers of the poor; but in practice none are so maintained.

C. L.
p. 735.

c. In federal institutions.

Asylum for Insane Indians, Canton; established 1903; 48 beds.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All residents of the state who become insane are entitled to be received at a hospital for the insane.

p. 733.

The residents of other states may be admitted upon the payment of the first cost of their support; provided, that no resident of another state may be received or retained to the exclusion of any resident. If any inmate be unwilling to accept gratuitous support, the superintendent of the hospital is authorized to receive pay therefor.

Laws of 1917,
ch. 266.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. In each organized county there is a board of commissioners, consisting of three persons, styled commissioners of insanity. The county judge is a member of such board and its chairman; in case of his absence or inability to act, the state's attorney is ex-officio chairman of the board. The other two members are appointed by the board of county commissioners, one of whom must be a reputable physician and the other a practicing attorney. One of these commissioners is appointed for one year and the other for two years. In case of the temporary absence or inability to act of the two commissioners, the county judge must call to his aid a reputable practicing physician or lawyer. The record of the cases must show this fact.

Commissioners of insanity.
C. L.
p. 732e.

The commissioners have cognizance of all applications for admission to the hospital or for the safe-keeping otherwise of insane persons within their respective counties, except in cases otherwise specially provided for. For this purpose, they have power to issue subpoenas and compel obedience thereto, to administer oaths, and do any act of court necessary and proper in the premises.

P. 733.

Application for admission to the hospital must be made in writing to the board of commissioners in the nature of an information verified by affidavit, alleging that the person is believed to be insane and a fit subject for custody and treatment in the hospital; that he is found in the county and has a legal settlement in it, if that is known to be the fact, or where he has a settlement.

Application.
P. 733.

The commissioners must at once investigate the grounds of the information, and may require that the person for whom such admission is sought be brought before them for examination, or they may dispense with his presence. Any citizen of the county, or any relative of the person alleged to be insane, may resist the application, and may appear by counsel if they elect. The commissioners must appoint some regular practicing physician of the county to examine the person alleged to be insane, and to report to the commissioners. The physician may or may not be of their own number. The physician must endeavor to obtain from the relatives of the person in question or from others who know the facts correct answers, so far as may be, to the prescribed interrogatories, which with answers must be attached to his certificate.

Investigation.
P. 733.

On the return of the physician's certificate, the commissioners must find whether the person is insane and a fit subject for treatment and custody in the hospital, and where his legal settlement is. If they find him insane and a fit subject for treatment and custody in the hospital, they must issue their warrant authorizing the superintendent of the hospital to receive him as a patient.

Preference in receiving patients.
p. 145.

If it becomes necessary for want of room or other cause to discriminate in the general reception of patients into the hospital, a selection must be made as follows: (1) recent cases, of less than one year's duration; (2) chronic cases, of more than one year's duration; (3) those for whom application has been longest on file; (4) when cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent are to be preferred.

Disposition of modations of asylum are insufficient.

p. 735.

When it is shown to the satisfaction of the commissioners that persons found insane can not at once be admitted to the hospital, and that they can not with safety be allowed to go at liberty, they must require suitable provision to be made for them until admission can be had, or until the occasion therefor no longer exists. Such patients may be cared for as private patients when relatives or friends obligate themselves to take care of and provide for them without public charge. In such cases, the commissioners must appoint a suitable person a special custodian, to restrain, protect and care for the patient. Or they may be cared for as public patients, in which case the commissioners must place them in charge of the commissioners of the county or overseers of the poor, at the expense of the county. For lack of a poorhouse for the reception of such patients, or if no more suitable place can be found, they may be confined in the county jail. Or the commissioners may require that such patients be taken to the asylum of any state designated by the governor, who is authorized to arrange terms for this purpose.

Insane persons cared for by the county.
p. 735.

Persons alleged to be insane and whose admission to the hospital is not sought, may be provided for as either public or private patients in the county by the commissioners upon proof of their insanity and need of care; provided, however, that if any inmate of the South Dakota Soldiers Home is adjudged insane, he must be cared for at the hospital for the insane at the expense of the state.

Laws of 1915,
ch. 285.

ch. 266.

c. Voluntary admission. Any person may receive treatment at the state hospital by subjecting himself to the custody and control of the superintendent and paying quarterly in advance the sum of sixteen dollars per month.

Proceedings

C. L.
p. 737

d. Appeal from commitment. On a statement in writing, verified by affidavit, to the county judge of the county in which the hospital is situated, or of the county in which any person confined in the hospital has his legal settlement, that he is not insane, the judge must appoint a commission of not more than three persons to inquire into the merits of the case, one of whom must be a physician; and another an attorney, if two or more are appointed. Their report to the judge must be accompanied by a statement of the case and signed by the superintendent. If on such report the county judge finds the person not insane, he must order his discharge; if not, he must authorize his continued detention. The cost of the inquiry is to be paid by the county if the applicant is found to be sane; if not, then by the applicant. The commission provided for may not be repeated oftener than once in six months in regard to the same patient, and may not be appointed within six months of the time of the admission of any patient.

All persons confined as insane are entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and the question of insanity must be decided at the hearing. If the judge decides that the person is insane, the decision is no bar to the issuing of the writ a second time, whenever it shall be alleged that he has been restored to reason.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of committing an insane person is a charge upon the county in which he has a legal residence, but the expense of conveying patients to the hospital is paid out of the state treasury, although advanced by the county.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

When a person is to be sent to the hospital, the superintendent must send an employee, who has had experience in the care of insane persons, to take charge of him while en route to the hospital. The expense is paid by the state.

The county judge may authorize a relative or member of the family of the insane person, or some other person if competent to do so and the superintendent assents, to convey him to the hospital for the insane. Female patients must be accompanied by a female attendant.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

Insane persons who have been under care as public or private patients outside of the hospital by authority of the commissioners of any county, may on application be transferred to the hospital, whenever they can be admitted, without another inquest at any time within six months.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Any patient who is cured must immediately be discharged by the superintendent. The relatives of any patient not susceptible of cure, and not dangerous to be at large, have the right to remove him by consent of the board of charities and correction. On application of the relatives or immediate friends of any patient in the hospital who is not cured, and who can not be safely allowed to go at liberty, the commissioners of insanity of the county in which the patient belongs, having made provision for his care within the county, may authorize his discharge from the hospital; but no patient charged with or convicted of homicide may be discharged without the order of the board. When patients are discharged from the hospital without application therefor, notice must at once be sent to the commissioners of insanity of the county where they belong, who must have them removed, and provide for their care in the county, unless the patients are discharged as cured. If the commissioners fail to remove a patient so discharged within thirty days, the county in which the patient belongs must pay at the rate of two dollars per day for the support of the patient at the hospital.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The expenses for the care, board and keeping of patients in the hospital for the insane is paid by the state. If the inmates are able to do so, they may be required to pay sixteen dollars per month into the county treasury. Non-residents may be received upon payment of cost of maintenance in advance quarterly payments.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If a doubt arises as to the sanity of a defendant to be tried on indictment or brought up for judgment, the court must order a jury to be impaneled. If the jury finds the defendant is insane, the trial or judgment must be suspended until he becomes sane, and the court, if it deems his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety, may order him to be kept in charge of the sheriff until sane.

If the defence is insanity, the jury must state the fact if they acquit him on that ground; and the court may, if it considers the discharge of the defendant dangerous, commit him to the hospital for the insane until he recovers.

Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the governor, by the representations of the warden of the state prison and board of charities and correction, that a convict sentenced by any court in the state has become insane, the governor, if he determines that the convict is insane, must order him transferred to one of the state hospitals for the insane, and that upon recovery, if before the expiration of his sentence, he be returned to the state prison.

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of control consists of three electors, one from each grand division of the state, appointed by the governor, with the advice of the senate. The governor designates the president, and the board elects one member vice-president and the other, fiscal supervisor. The board appoints its secretary and other employees. Members hold office for six years but are removable by the governor. The salary of the president is $4,000; that of the other members, $3,600; actual official traveling expenses are allowed.

Board of control.
Code.
312a 2.

The members devote their entire time to their official duties and have all power and authority necessary for the full and efficient exercise of administrative, executive, and fiscal supervision over all the state institutions. The board determines the number of officers and employees and fixes their salaries. It may discharge any employee. All supplies are purchased by the board. Each institution must be visited at least once a month by a member of the board. The board reports annually to the governor.

312a 68.

Private institutions for the insane may be established under the direct control of a physician in charge, who must be a reputable and licensed physician, a graduate of a recognized medical school, with at least five years' experience in treating insanity. A license must be obtained from the clerk of the county court in which the proposed institution is located. No license may be granted until the applicant delivers to the clerk a sworn statement of the proposed physician in charge, showing that he is properly qualified.

Private institutions.
2677a 3.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. Each state hospital is under the executive management of a superintendent appointed by the board of control, subject to the approval of the governor, for a term of four years, unless removed after a hearing on charges. He appoints the necessary employees but not more than ten per cent of the total number may be from the same county. The superintendents are the treasurers of their respective hospitals and must give a surety bond.

a. In state institutions.

Central Hospital for the Insane, Nashville; established 1852; 700 beds.

Eastern Hospital for the Insane, Bearden; established 1886; 620 beds.

The Western Hospital for the Insane, Bolivar; established 1889; 700 beds.

b. In local institutions. Four counties maintain asylums for the insane or insane departments in connection with the almshouses, under the management of the commissioners of the poor elected by the county. Each of the other counties must maintain its own poor asylum, to which the insane may be admitted who can not be cared for at the state hospitals. The rulings of the county commissioners in regard to admissions are subject to revision by the county court.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons who have legal citizenship and residence in the state may be admitted to the state hospitals.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Insane persons may be placed in a hospital by their legal guardians or by their relatives or friends in case they have no guardians, or by a justice of the peace, upon proper proof of their insanity.

In order of admission, the indigent insane of the state have precedence of paying patients, and recent cases of both classes have precedence over those of long standing.

An insane person may be committed to a private institution in the same manner as provided for the commitment of insane persons to the state or county hospitals for the insane. Or commitment may be made upon a petition to the chancery or county court by the husband, wife, child, parent, brother, or sister, or guardian, or the next of kin of the alleged insane person, or by the person at whose house the alleged insane person resides, and a certificate of lunacy made by two reputable physicians of at least two years' experience in the practice of medicine, and upon the order of a judge of the court. The petition must contain a sworn statement of the degree of relationship of the alleged insane person, his color, sex, age, civil condition, occupation, place of residence, and duration of his insanity, the facts indicating his insanity, and the name of the institution to which it is desired to have him committed. The two physicians must jointly make a final examination of the alleged insane person within ten days next before the granting of the order of commitment.

Neither of the physicians may be a relative of the person applying for the order of commitment, or of the insane person, or be an officer of or be in any way pecuniarily interested in the institution to which commitment is sought. Personal notice of the application for his commitment must be served upon the alleged insane person at least one day before the order is granted; but the judge may dispense with such personal service upon the affidavit of the examining physicians that it would be detrimental to the patient.

When the condition of an alleged insane person renders necessary his immediate confinement in an institution for the insane, a private institution may receive him upon the petition and certificate of lunacy for a period of time not exceeding five days, and before its expiration, an order must be secured for his regular commitment. In such a case, the medical examiners must certify that the person in question should immediately be confined in an institution for the insane.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The clerk of the county has the duty of issuing a warrant to some suitable person for the conveyance of an insane patient to a hospital.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

An insane person may be transferred from the custody of a state or county asylum or hospital to the custody of a private institution, or vice versa, upon a certified copy of the original order of commitment made by the superintendent or physician in charge of the institution from which the patient is transferred.

2677a 15.

the patient has recovered, or his condition does not render him dangerous to himself or others if at liberty, or may discharge him to custody of a person authorized to make the petition.

The physician in charge of a private institution may parole a committed insane person to the custody of a responsible relative or friend for a period not exceeding thirty days. If the patient is returned to the institution before the expiration of that time, he may be re-admitted upon the original order of commitment. Before the expiration of this period of thirty days, he may in like manner be admitted to any state or county hospital or asylum or other licensed private institution for the insane upon a certified copy of the original order of commitment. If not returned to the custody of the institution or admitted to some other institution upon the original order, he must be discharged at the expiration of his period of parole.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The county from which an indigent patient is sent must pay the cost of his maintenance at the hospital and provide the necessary clothing.

When a person committed to the hospitals for the insane has estate, the income of which is insufficient to pay for his support at the hospital, the same may be appropriated toward the payment for his support; provided, that the patient has no family or dependents.

The county court clerks of the various counties are required to report to the superintendents of the several hospitals for the insane the names and amounts in value of the estates belonging to insane persons who have been committed.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

A court if satisfied that a person indicted for a criminal offense has been insane for four successive terms may discharge him upon recognizance of sufficient sureties for his appearance at the next term, and may renew this recognizance from term to term so long as the defendant continues insane.

If in behalf of a person not previously known to be insane who is charged with a criminal offense punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary or death, the plea of insanity is urged, the court must charge the jury that if they believe the defendant to be insane, they shall so find, and he shall be committed to a hospital. The powers of courts to commit to the hospital for the insane do not extend to insane persons arraigned for felonious assaults or misdemeanors only, or to those who may be admissible to the hospitals for the insane under the general laws of commitment.

TEXAS

Authorities:

Vernon's Sayle's Texas Civil Statutes, 1914

Laws of Texas, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. There is no state board having general control or supervision of the insane or of the institutions in which they are kept.

b. Institutional. The general control, management and direction of the affairs of the Texas hospitals for the insane are vested in boards of managers, each hospital having its own board consisting of six members, appointed by the governor for terms of six years. The board of managers has power to make all necessary by-laws and regulations for the institution and its inmates; to elect a superintendent; to make all other appointments on the nomination of the superintendent; to determine salaries and wages, to discharge upon the recommendation of the superintendent any officer or employee or patient, etc.

The superintendent must be a married man, a skillful physician and experienced in treating cases of insanity.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

State Lunatic Asylum, Austin; established 1857; 1,680 beds.

North Texas Hospital for the Insane, Terrell; established 1885; 1,900 beds.

Southwestern Insane Asylum, San Antonio; established 1891; 2,000 beds.

The 1917 session of the legislature provided for the establishment of the Northwest Texas Insane Asylum and for the establishment of an Asylum for the Negro Insane at Rush.

b. In local institutions. In counties having almshouses the insane who can not be admitted to the state hospitals may be cared for in them. The county commissioners have responsibility for such cases and manage the almshouses.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All persons who have been judged insane by a court of competent jurisdiction (public patients) are entitled to admission to the state hospitals. Persons certified to be insane by some reputable physician in accordance with law (private patients) may be admitted. Idiots who can safely be kept in the county in which they belong and persons suffering from an infectious or contagious disease are excluded from the hospitals.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Before any person can be received at a hospital as a patient, the parent or legal guardian of such person or some near relative or other person interested must present a written request to the superintendent, giving such particulars as may be required. The request must be under oath and accompanied by an affidavit of the examining physician showing that he has made a careful examination of the patient, and thoroughly believes him to be insane, and by a certificate from the county judge of the county where the alleged insane person resides. A complete history of the patient must be forwarded to the medical superintendent with the application for admission. Request for admission.
135.

If an affidavit be filed with any county judge or justice of the peace that any person in the county needs to be placed under restraint because of insanity and the judge believes the statement true, the county judge sets a hearing of the case before a commission of six men, as many as possible of whom shall be physicians, and depending upon the population from one to six must be physicians. (This provision requiring that physicians sit on the commissions has been declared unconstitutional by certain county judges but is observed in most parts of the state.) The affiant of the affidavit is represented by the county attorney and the respondent must be represented by counsel secured by himself or appointed by the judge. The various issues to be submitted to the commission are minutely specified, and relate not only to the question of the defendant's sanity or insanity, but to his age, nativity, the character of attacks and their duration, whether insanity is hereditary in his family, whether the defendant is possessed of any estate, and whether there are any persons legally liable for his support. Upon the return of a majority report that the respondent is of unsound mind and should be placed under treatment and restraint, the county judge must pronounce judgment in the presence of the respondent and order him conveyed to one of the lunatic asylums. The judge shall then ascertain if there is a vacancy. Affidavit.

If accommodations can not be provided for all persons for whom application has been made, preference must be given in all instances to public over private patients, and of the former class, to cases of less than one year's duration over chronic cases. Public patients.
137.

All indigent public patients are maintained at the expense of the state. All public patients not indigent must be maintained at the expense of the state in the first instance, but in such cases the state is entitled to proper reimbursement.

The commissioners court has power to provide for the support of idiots and lunatics who can not be admitted into the lunatic asylum, residents of their county, who are unable to support themselves. By the term resident as used herein, is meant a person who has been a bona fide inhabitant of the county not less than six months and of the state not less than one year.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Process of commitment.
165.

The process of commitment is the same as for an insane person not a convict (Section 3, b) except that when the person is confined in the state penitentiary all proceedings and hearings must be held there.

144.

When a convict is discharged from a state penitentiary, and is insane at the time of his discharge, and is so adjudged by a competent court within thirty days, he must be conveyed to one of the hospitals for the insane, at the expense of the state.

UTAH

Authority:

Compiled Laws of Utah, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of insanity, consisting of the governor, state treasurer and auditor, has the supervision and control of all insane persons in the state, whether they reside in the hospital or some other place. Board of insanity.
C. L.
5385.
5390.

The board of insanity has the general control and management of the affairs of the state mental hospital. It is required to hold monthly meetings at the hospital and must make a careful inspection of the institution at least once in three months. 5389.

b. Institutional. There is no local board of trustees. The medical superintendent, who is appointed by the state board of insanity, must be a well-educated, experienced physician who has practiced five years. With the approval of the board, he appoints all attendants and employees, fixes their compensation and has power to remove them. Superintendent.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

State Mental Hospital, Provo; established 1885; 500 beds.

b. In local institutions. The county commissioners, who are the overseers of the poor, are bound to provide for such insane as may not be received at the hospital and may care for them at poor farms or other institutions.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons who are residents of the state are entitled to admission to the hospital, also feeble-minded and noninsane epileptics capable of mental improvement, but other feeble-minded, a purely senile dement, a person in an unconscious condition, an infant, a child under ten years of age, and a person suffering from a contagious or infectious disease are not admitted. 5405.
5384.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Application for admission of patients must be made to the judges of the district courts, except in cases otherwise provided for. In the absence of a district judge, the judge of any other district may act upon the application at the written request of the clerk of the district court of the county wherein the alleged insane person resides, or the chairman of the board of county commissioners may so act. Application to court.
5308.

Form of application.
5400.

The application for admission to the hospital must be in the form of an information, properly verified, alleging the person for whom application is made to be insane, and a proper person for care and treatment, and stating facts in regard to his residence, etc.

Judicial hearing.
5401.

The district judge of the county may examine the informant under oath and require the person for whom admission is sought to be brought before him. If satisfied that there is reasonable cause, a hearing must be had, and the district attorney notified. Any citizen of the county or any relative or a friend of the person for whom application is made may resist the application, and may appear by counsel. The district attorney must represent the state in such examination. The judge must summon two practicing physicians before whom the examination is to be conducted.

5402.

Certificate
of physicians.
5403.

The physicians must certify under oath whether or not the person is insane, whether the case is of recent or curable character, whether the person has a homicidal, suicidal or incendiary mania. They must also obtain from others correct answers to the interrogatories of the certificate as prescribed by law. If the judge upon the conclusion of his investigation finds the person insane, and one who ought to receive care and treatment at the hospital, he must order his commitment.

5405.

When discrimination in reception of patients is necessary, they take precedence in the following order: 1, cases of less than one year's duration; 2, chronic cases of more than one year's duration presenting the most favorable prospects for recovery; 3, those for whom application has been longest on file. When cases are equally meritorious, indigent patients are to be preferred.

5423.

When notified by the board of insanity or the superintendent of the hospital that a person committed to the hospital can not be received for want of room, the board of county commissioners must provide suitably for him until admission can be had, or the occasion for it no longer exists.

Commitment of non-residents.
5412.

Nonresidents of Utah, conveyed to or coming into the state, may, upon the written recommendation of the board of county commissioners, be returned by the board of insanity to their homes or friends, and must not be permitted to be supported in the hospital. But persons stricken with insanity while traveling through or temporarily sojourning in the state may be committed to and cared for temporarily in the hospital.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Upon an affidavit or other evidence that a patient in the hospital is not insane or not a proper person to be cared for at the hospital, the board of insanity must ask inquiry by the district judge of the district in which the patient is held. If the patient is found to be sane, he must be discharged; if not, the judge must order his continued detention, and may order the parties demanding the inquiry to pay its cost.

e. Cost of commitment. The cost of commitment is paid by the county from which the patient was sent unless he has estate sufficient to pay the same. 5411.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The sheriff or other person appointed to execute the warrant of the district judge must convey the patient to the hospital and deliver him, together with the copies of information, physicians' certificates and warrant, to the superintendent of the hospital. No female may be taken to the hospital without the attendance of some other female or relative. If any relative or immediate friend, who is suitable, shall request, he has the privilege of executing the warrant in preference to the sheriff. 5405. Female attendant. 5411.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

By order of the judge of the district court issuing the commitment, a patient may be returned to his relatives or friends. Application must be made to the judge, and satisfactory evidence produced that the patient will be given proper care. The applicants must give bonds to the district court of the county. If subsequently it is brought to the knowledge of the judge that a person thus removed from the hospital is not properly cared for or is not fit to be at liberty, he may order the return of such person to the hospital; but no patient under a criminal charge or conviction may be discharged from the hospital without the order of the court having jurisdiction of the case. If it appear upon sufficient evidence that any patient in the hospital is not insane or is unjustly deprived of his liberty or is not one who should receive care and treatment in the hospital, the board of insanity must request immediate inquiry by the district judge who may order his immediate discharge. 5413. By the court. Bond required. 5414.

When it becomes necessary for want of room or other cause to remove any patient, the superintendent must give notice to that effect to the several clerks of the district courts. Only harmless and incurable patients may be removed by the board of insanity. 5415. By the board. 5416.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

The state pays the cost of maintaining all indigent patients. In case a patient has sufficient means to pay any part of the cost of maintenance at the hospital, the judge must appoint a guardian for him. The immediate relatives of an insane person are liable for his support. 5410. 5408. 5853.

Recovery for support.
5417.

Provision is made for the reimbursement to the state from the estate of persons declared insane and for the recovery of expenses of commitment and support in the case of nonindigent persons, for the appointment of a guardian under bond in the case of nonindigent insane who are committed, and for recovery from persons liable for the support of an insane relative.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons excused from crime.
9328.

When a person charged with crime has escaped indictment or been acquitted on trial by reason of insanity, or when a person during trial or while confined as a criminal in the state prison or a county jail becomes insane, the district judge of the county must act in the case and may submit the matter to a jury.

9329.
Commitment.

If the jury find the defendant insane, he must be committed to the state mental hospital, provided, the court deems his freedom a menace to public quietude. Proceedings against the defendant must be suspended until he becomes sane.

A person thus committed must be detained at the hospital until he becomes sane. If then his sentence has expired, he must be restored to liberty. Otherwise, the superintendent must give notice of his recovery to the sheriff of the county from which he was sent, who must place him in proper custody until he is brought to trial or judgment, or return him to prison to serve out the remainder of his term. The time of his confinement in the state mental hospital must be deducted from his term.

Expense of examination.
9335.

The expenses of the examination and sending of such persons, except convicts in the state prison, to and from the state mental hospital, are chargeable to the county from which they have been sent. But the county may recover from their estates, or from a relative legally bound to care for them, or from the county of which they may be resident. In the case of an indigent insane convict, the costs are borne by the state.

Public Statutes of Vermont, 1906

Laws of Vermont, 1908, 1910, 1912, 1915, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The board of control consists of the governor, state treasurer, auditor of accounts, director of state institutions and a person appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate for a term of two years. The members receive their expenses while engaged in official business, except the member appointed by the governor who receives in addition eight dollars a day for the actual time spent in his official capacity.

Board of control,
Laws of 1917,
No. 32.
1.

The board has power to examine each institution of the state and require monthly reports from them. If the money appropriated for the support of the institution is not being properly expended, further expenditure may be prohibited.

4. 8.

The board must hold monthly meetings at the capitol or elsewhere, and must annually or as often as deemed proper visit each institution under its control, inspect the management and hear complaints of the inmates and direct changes which must be made by the director of state institutions. The board must report biennially to the legislature.

The governor may appoint a woman to accompany the board upon its visits for the purpose of inspecting and investigating the care of female inmates. The woman visitor receives five dollars a day and expenses while visiting institutions.

Woman visitor.

The director of state institutions, who is appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate for a term of two years, has the general care, control and management of all the state institutions, including the hospital for the insane. All the powers, duties and liabilities of the former boards of trustees of the various state institutions are imposed upon him. He receives a salary of $3,000 a year and expenses, and devotes his entire time to the duties of his office. The director makes all needful rules and regulations for the government of the institutions, employs and removes at pleasure all physicians, teachers, clerks and employees, and fixes their compensation. He must visit the institutions as often as once a month and must make a yearly investigation of their accounts and report biennially to the governor.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Vermont State Hospital for the Insane, Waterbury; established 1888; 700 beds.

The state also supports patients in a hospital under private management: Brattleboro Retreat, Brattleboro; established 1834; 400 beds.

b. In local institutions. Insane persons who can not be cared for in the hospitals may be kept at almshouses under the charge of the overseers of the poor of the town.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, residents of the state are entitled to admission to the hospitals for the insane, except idiots and demented persons when they are not dangerous.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Admission to a hospital for the insane as a patient or inmate is upon a certificate of insanity made by two legally qualified physicians, residents of the state. The physicians must not be members of the same firm, officers of a hospital for the insane in this state, nor members of the board of control. The physicians must make oath to the certificate before a magistrate, who must append his jurat, and certify that said physicians are of unquestionable integrity and skill. The certificate must not be made more than ten days before the admission of the insane person to the hospital for the insane, unless a longer time is required to dispose of an appeal taken from the decision of the physicians. The physicians are required to examine the supposed insane person not more than five days previous to making the certificate; and a physician who signs a certificate without making a previous examination shall, if the person is admitted to a hospital for the insane upon the certificate, be imprisoned not more than two years or fined not more than $1,000, or both.

A person may be received into a hospital for the insane pursuant to an order or sentence of the supreme or county court without the physicians' certificate.

c. Voluntary admission. The superintendent of a hospital for the insane may receive as a voluntary patient, a person who seeks treatment and makes written application without a certificate of two physicians. He may not be detained after having given 48 hours' notice in writing that he desires to leave the institution.

d. Appeal from commitment. The next friend or relative of a person whose insanity is so certified may appeal from the decision of the physicians to the state board of control for a review of the

e. Cost of commitment. The costs of the examination and removal of an insane person are chargeable to the town of his residence when the town authorities seek his commitment. 3720.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The board of control may discharge conditionally an incurable insane person from a hospital, subject to revocation. It may discharge any person wrongfully confined or so far sane as to warrant discharge, but not without giving the superintendent opportunity to be heard. By the board and the superintendent. 3746. 3747. 3781.

The superintendent of the state hospital or of the Brattleboro Retreat may grant a furlough of not exceeding thirty days to any patient or inmate under his charge supported in whole or in part by the state, and may extend it in his discretion, not exceeding thirty days in the aggregate.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Insane persons in a town, destitute of means of support, and having no relatives in the state bound by law to support them, are supported by the state while in a hospital for the insane. On application of the overseer of the poor of such town, the selectmen or the county auditor upon his own motion must ascertain whether the insane person is liable to be supported by the state, and may institute a court of inquiry before the judge of probate. The inquiry must be attended by the state's attorney of the county for the protection of the interests of the state. Support of indigent insane. Laws of 1917, ch. 112. P. S. 3716. Laws of 1917, ch. 112. P. S. 3717.

When a person is lawfully discharged from a hospital or the Retreat, the town causing his commitment must take charge of and support him. Support of person discharged. 3721.

No patient may be supported in the state hospital or the Retreat entirely at the expense of the state unless he is removed upon the order of a judge of probate, or from the state prison or house of correction, or upon the order or sentence of the supreme or county court. Support in hospital. 3733.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

A county judge, if satisfied that a plea of insanity will be made in behalf of a person indicted for a criminal offense, may order him to be detained at the state hospital till the truth of the plea can be ascertained. Commitment for observation. 3227.

When an indictment is not found or a person is acquitted of a criminal charge on the ground of insanity, the court may commit the person to the county jail or to the state hospital. He may be discharged only on the order of the county court by which he was committed.

Superintendent must receive.
6061.

The superintendent of the state hospital must receive all insane criminals ordered committed, for whom separate accommodations are provided. A person confined in the state prison or house of correction or a county jail for a specified time, or for life, who becomes insane may be removed to the Vermont State Hospital for the Insane only upon the order of the governor after expert examination as to his insanity, to remain until the expiration of the term for which he was committed. If he becomes sane before its expiration, he must, upon the order of the governor, be returned to the institution to which he was originally committed and confined there for the remainder of such term. A prisoner who, at the expiration of his term of confinement, remains insane, may be removed to the state hospital; or if already there, may remain, at the expense of the state, until his residence is ascertained or some relative is ordered by the proper court to furnish his maintenance.

VIRGINIA

Authorities:

Code of Virginia, 1904

Supplement to Code of Virginia, 1910

Laws of 1911, 1916

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and correction is composed of five members, appointed by the governor for terms of five years, subject to removal by him for cause. Failure to attend at least one meeting during the year, unless excused, may be construed by the governor as a resignation of the non-attending member.

Board of charities and correction. Supplement, p. 797.

The duties of the board are strictly visitorial and advisory, without administration or executive powers. It must visit as a whole, or by a committee or by its secretary, all state, county, municipal and private charitable and correctional institutions at least once a year, but the hospitals for the insane must be visited as often as once in six months and by at least two members of the board.

8.

The board appoints an executive secretary and an assistant, and their salaries are fixed by the legislature.

Laws of 1916.

Every superintendent of a hospital must make a quarterly report to the board in such form as it may prescribe, and also to the auditor of public accounts, regarding financial matters. The board must collect and publish statistics in regard to the defective classes both in and out of institutions and make an annual report to the governor.

Supp. p. 797.

Laws of 1916.

Supp. p. 797.
13.

b. Institutional. Each of the hospitals for the insane has a special board of directors consisting of three members, appointed by the governor for terms of six years. The directors of the special boards constitute a general board of directors for all the hospitals. The ex-officio chairman of the general and special boards of directors is the commissioner of hospitals, appointed by the governor for four years. The members of the boards receive no compensation. The commissioner receives a salary of $2,500 a year and $500 for traveling expenses.

Boards of directors. Code. 1660. 1662.

Laws of 1916.

The commissioner is responsible for the proper disbursement of all moneys appropriated or received for the maintenance of the hospitals. He must be a skilled accountant and is required to establish at all the hospitals a uniform system of keeping records and accounts, and to make annually to the governor a complete record of the business affairs of each hospital, with estimates of moneys needed, and recommendations for the improvement of the hospitals and their management.

Commissioner of state hospitals. Code. 1664.

1662.
1663.Superintendent.

Each special board of directors is required to hold twelve regular meetings at the respective hospitals during the year. The general board of directors during each year holds one regular meeting at each hospital for the insane. The general board of directors, constituted for the control and management of all the state hospitals, appoints for each hospital for a term of four years a superintendent who must be a skilled physician, and who is removable by the board for cause. The special board of each hospital, subject to the approval of the general board, appoints for terms of four years other resident officers. Each special board is required to make an annual report to the governor in regard to the hospital under its management. The superintendent of each hospital appoints all employees and some resident officers, may remove them and fixes their compensation, subject to the approval of his special board.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Eastern State Hospital, Williamsburg; established 1768; 755 beds.

Western State Hospital, Staunton; established 1828; 1,200 beds.

Central State Hospital, Petersburg; established 1869; 1,800 beds (for negro insane).

Southwestern State Hospital, Marion; established 1887; 720 beds.

b. In local institutions. Insane persons who can not be received into the state hospitals may be provided for in the county poor-houses, which are under the management of the boards of county supervisors. The overseers of the poor of each county or the council of a town are charged with the relief of the poor, including the insane. (All insane are now provided for in the state hospitals.)

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All legal residents of the state, who are insane, not idiots, are entitled to admission to the hospitals for the insane.

Admission of pay patients.

The examining board may receive any person for whom application is made for admission to a hospital if the person making it executes an obligation, with sufficient surety for the payment of the cost of maintenance and care of the insane person and other necessary expenses. But no non-resident insane person may be admitted or retained in any hospital under any contract with the board except when there is a vacancy not applied for on behalf of a resident of the state. A non-resident pay patient may at any time be discharged by the board, which must do so if it is necessary in order to make room for a resident of the state.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Any county or corporation judge, or any justice of peace, who suspects any person in his county or corporation to be insane, or upon the written complaint or information of any respectable citizen, must order the presence of such person, and summon two licensed and reputable physicians (one of whom must, when practicable, be the physician of the suspected person, but neither may in any manner be related to him or have an interest in his estate). The judge or justice and the two physicians constitute a commission to inquire whether the person is insane and a suitable subject for treatment in a hospital for the insane, and for that purpose must summon witnesses. The physicians must, in the presence of the judge or justice (if practicable), by personal examination and by inquiry satisfy themselves and the judge or the justice as to the mental condition of the person examined. If the two physicians do not agree a third is to be summoned. The report of the commission must consist of a statement with questions and answers prescribed by the law, and of any further information bearing on the insanity of the person being examined. The record of proceedings together with the warrant of commitment must be made in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the sheriff or sergeant of the county or city, and the other to be filed in the office of the county. If the commission decides that the person be insane and ought to be confined in a hospital, and ascertains that he is a citizen of the state, the judge or justice may order him confined in jail for a period not exceeding six days, pending conveyance to a hospital for the insane, or may commit him to the custody of some responsible person, who must furnish security for his proper safe-keeping without cost to the commonwealth until he is taken to the hospital or discharged from custody.

Complaint.
1669.

Summons.

Examination.

Commitment.
1670.

The sheriff or sergeant to whose custody an insane person has been committed, must on the same day the person is adjudged insane make application for admission to the nearest appropriate hospital, unless instructed otherwise by the commissioner of hospitals transmitting with the application a copy of the record or proceedings before the commission. As soon as the record of proceedings before the commission of insanity is filed in the office of the county clerk or clerk of the county court, the clerk must at once notify the commissioner of state hospitals for the insane, giving the name, age, sex and color of the insane person, the date of the finding of the commission, and the custody to which he was committed. If the insane person has been committed to jail, and remains there after six days from the date of the finding of the commission, the clerk must notify the commissioner of state hospitals. If the superintendent of a hospital fails to send for any insane person confined in jail within 1672.

six days after his commitment thereto, the commissioner of state hospitals for the insane must order the sheriff or sergeant in whose custody the insane person is to convey him to some hospital.

Examination at hospital of persons adjudged
insane.
1674.

A person admitted to a hospital as insane must be detained until the superintendent and his assistant have ample opportunity to observe and examine him. If they are of the opinion that he is not insane, he must, unless he be charged with or convicted of crime, be returned by the hospital authorities to the county or city from which he was committed, with a certificate of discharge.

Disposition of non-resident
insane.
1676.

If a commission in insanity finds the person examined by it insane and a non-resident of the state, the same proceedings are to be had as if he were a resident. A statement of the fact of his non-residence and place of domicile, must accompany any order respecting him; and the superintendent, if the person is sent to a hospital, or the court to whose jail he may have been committed, must have him returned to his friends, if known, or the proper authorities of the state or county from which he came if practicable.

Appointment
of guardian.
1697.

If a person be found to be insane by a judge or justice of the peace, or in a court in which he is charged with crime, the court of the county or corporation in which he is an inhabitant must appoint a committee for him.

Laws of 1911,
ch. 168.
Code.
1698.

If a resident of the state is suspected of being insane, but has not been so found, the court of his county or corporation must upon proper application examine his state of mind and appoint a committee of his person if he is found insane.

1699.

A similar procedure except as to examination is prescribed in the case of a non-resident who is suspected of being insane and who has property in the state.

Laws of 1916.

c. Voluntary admission. A legal resident of the state in the early stages of insanity whose mental condition is such as to render him competent to make application or whose application if he is not of the age of twenty-one years is made by parent or guardian, may be received by the superintendent of a state hospital as a voluntary patient provided that his mental derangement is not the temporary effect of alcohol or any drug and provided that his admission does not deprive any committed patient of treatment in the hospital.

Such a patient may be detained not more than ten days after giving notice of his intention to leave or after notice has been given by another for him.

Every voluntary patient is required to defray his own expenses except that the board of directors of the hospital may exempt him for payments for two months if they consider him financially unable to defray his expenses.

d. Appeal from commitment. Any person held as insane may by means of a writ of habeas corpus have the question of the legality of his detention and of his sanity determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. If he is in custody, he may file his objection in the circuit court of the county or city in which he resides, or in which he was adjudged insane, and after notice to the authorities of the hospital or to the person claiming the right to the custody of such person, the court must determine whether the person is sane or insane. Habeas corpus.
Code.
1675.

e. Cost of commitment. All expenses incurred in committing a patient to any state hospital are to be borne by the county or corporation from which he is sent. 1671.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The superintendent of a hospital must forthwith send an attendant from the hospital to conduct the insane person for whom application for admission has been made. Or the superintendent may appoint some other suitable person for the purpose or may order the sheriff or sergeant of the county or city to convey him to the hospital. The cost of conveying insane persons to the hospital is paid from the funds appropriated for this purpose by the state. The cost of transportation of a voluntary patient is not borne by the hospital. Attendant.
1673.

Laws of 1916.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendent of a hospital must in suitable cases grant furloughs to insane patients for such time as, in his judgment, may benefit them; but all costs of removal for furloughs must be paid by the patients or friends, if able to do so. By the superintendent.
Code.
1688.

When an insane person confined in a hospital or jail is restored to sanity, the superintendent or the court must discharge him and give him a certificate of discharge. 1688.

Except in the case of a person charged with crime or convicted of crime, the superintendent of any hospital or the court of any county or corporation, may deliver an insane person to a friend who will give bond with surety for his maintenance. When an insane person, except as aforesaid, is deemed by the superintendent both harmless and incurable, he may deliver him without bond to any friend who is willing and able to take care of him without cost to the commonwealth. If a friend into whose charge an insane person has been given delivers him to the sheriff of the county or sergeant of the corporation, according to the condition of the bond, the latter must bring the insane person before a judge or justice of his county or corporation for a re-examination. Delivery of friends.

1684.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Paid by the state.
1680.

Recovery.

The expenses of removing and supporting insane persons are paid out of the state treasury upon the order of the commissioner of hospitals. But when the insane persons have sufficient estate and have no husband, wife, child or kin dependent on them, it must be applied to such expenses.

The commission or court ordering an insane person to be confined in a hospital must cause a certificate of his estate, or, if the person be a married woman or infant, who is not an orphan, of the estate of the husband and any separate estate of the wife, or estate of the parent, and also of the probable annual profits of such estate, to be sent to the directors of the hospital, and to the next court or corporation of which the insane person is an inhabitant.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Disposition of insane
criminals.
Laws of 1916.
Code.
1682.

If any person charged with crime is found by the court to be insane and the court orders him committed to the department for the criminal insane at one of the state hospitals he must be kept there until restored to sanity. If prior to the time of trial the court or the attorney for the commonwealth believes that such person requires care and observation in such a hospital the court may appoint one or more experts in insanity or other qualified physicians not exceeding three to examine him and may commit him to the department for criminal insane. A copy of the complaint or indictment and the medical report must be delivered with the patient to the superintendent of the hospital.

Disposition
when restored to sanity.

When the superintendent considers such a patient not insane or restored to sanity he must be returned to jail.

Any person after conviction of crime or while serving sentence in any penal institution or reformatory, if declared insane by jury must be committed to the department for the criminal insane at the proper state hospital and kept there until restored to sanity.

Temporary confinement in penal institution.

In case an order of commitment is made as provided in any of the preceding paragraphs the sheriff must immediately ascertain whether a vacancy exists at the proper hospital in the department for the criminal insane. Until there is a vacancy the insane person shall be kept in the county jail, penitentiary, reformatory or in such custody as the court may order.

WASHINGTON

Authorities:

Remington's Codes and Statutes of Washington, 1916

Laws of 1915, 1917

1. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of control consists of three citizens of the state, no more than two of whom may belong to the dominant political party, appointed by the governor for six years, and removable at his discretion. Each member of the board receives a salary of $3,000 per annum, and necessary expenses. Board of control.
R. C.

The board has power to make all repairs and improvements that, in its judgment, may be necessary for the conduct of the hospitals under their charge. It takes charge of the general interests of the hospitals, supervises the transportation of patients, employs superintendents; and may prescribe the duties of all persons connected in any way with the management of the hospitals. 5944-

The board of control is required to arrange with the United States Bureau of Immigration for deportation of the alien insane. Laws of 1915.
82.

b. Institutional. The superintendent must be a skillful practicing physician, and holds his office for such time as the state board of control may deem wise. He has entire control of the treatment of the patients and of all other internal government and economy of the institution, appoints all subordinate officers and employees and has entire direction of them. Superintendent.
R. C.
5946.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Western State Hospital, Fort Steilacoom; established 1870; 1,466 beds.

Eastern Hospital for the Insane, Medical Lake; established 1889; 1,100 beds (also criminal insane).

Northern State Hospital for the Insane, Sedro Woolley; established 1909; 700 beds.

b. In local institutions. The indigent insane who can not be admitted to the state hospitals must be cared for by their respective boards of county commissioners (except in certain incorporated cities with a special poor department) and may be provided for in the county almshouse.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane persons, having a legal residence in the state, not idiots, imbeciles, harmless chronic demented or cases of acute mania a potu, have the right of admission to the 5959-

5960. state hospitals. Non-residents who come into the state while insane may be committed for temporary care, as in the case of persons becoming insane while traveling in the state, or of sailors becoming insane upon the high seas.

Application.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. The superior court of any county, upon the application of any one under oath alleging that any person by reason of insanity is unsafe to be at large, must have such person before him, and summon witnesses and two reputable physicians before whom the judge must examine the charge, unless the accused or any one in his behalf demands that the question of insanity be decided by a jury. If no jury is demanded, and the physicians certify under oath that the person examined is insane, and the case is of a recent or curable character, or that the insane person is of a homicidal, suicidal or incendiary disposition, or that he would be dangerous to his own life, or the lives and property of the community in which he may live, the judge must commit him to one of the hospitals for the insane if he believe that the proper facts of insanity have been established.

Preference of admission—to whom given.
5964.

If it is necessary for want of room, or other cause, to discriminate in the general reception of patients, a selection may be made in the following order: (1) recent cases, when the disease is of less than one year's duration; (2) chronic cases, of more than one year's duration, presenting the most favorable prospects of recovery; (3) those for whom application has been longest on file, other things being equal. Where cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent must be given the preference.

5969. The relatives or friends of any person charged with insanity in all cases have the right to take charge of and keep him if they desire so to do; but the superior judge may require them to give a bond for his safe-keeping.

Temporary
commitment.
Laws of 1915.
105.

Any person charged with insanity but not insane beyond all reasonable doubt may be committed by any judge of the superior court to the detention ward of a county hospital or other suitable place of detention for a period of thirty days. During this time the patient is under the observation of the county physician who may obtain an extension of the time of observation for not more than another thirty days.

c. Voluntary admission.

Habeas corpus.
R. C.
1064.
1066.

d. Appeal from commitment. Writs of habeas corpus may be granted for the protection of insane persons by the supreme court or superior court or by any judge of either court, and upon application the writ must be granted without delay.

5956. e. Cost of commitment. When a person is found to be insane, the costs of commitment must be paid by the county; but when the insane person is a resident of another county, the county in which proceedings were had may recover all costs and expenses from the county of which the insane person is a resident.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

When ordering an insane person sent to a hospital for the insane, the superior court judge must direct the sheriff to notify the superintendent of the hospital, and transmit a copy of the complaint and commitment and physician's certificate, which must always be in the form as furnished to the courts by the board of control. 5954.

The state board of control has charge and supervision of the transportation of insane persons to the hospitals for the insane and is vested with authority to employ necessary persons for such purpose. Board of control supervises. 8955.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

Upon recommendation of the superintendent the state board of control may transfer a patient to another hospital. A certificate of the fact and the reasons therefor must be transmitted to the clerk of the committing court and the kin or friend of the patient. By the Board. Laws of 1915. 5966.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Any patient so far recovered as to make it safe for him and the public to allow him to be at large may be paroled by the superintendent and any patient becoming sane and probably free from the danger of relapse must be discharged. Indigent patients, when discharged, may be returned to the county from which admitted, at its expense. The superintendent must officially notify the proper superior judge, relatives or friends of the discharge or death of any patient, and give the date and reasons for such discharge or death. Each indigent patient discharged must be furnished with suitable clothing and a sum of money not exceeding $10. By the superintendent. Laws of 1915. 5967.

Upon presentation of evidence that friends or relatives will be able to provide proper care for an insane patient, the superior court judge issuing the commitment may order his removal from the hospital to the custody of such relations or friends. If it is brought to the knowledge of the judge that the patient thus removed is not cared for properly, or is dangerous to persons or property, he may order him returned to the hospital. R. C. 5968. Removal of patients to relatives or friends. 5962.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

All patients in the state hospitals are supported by the state, and payment therefore is exacted from no one. Nor may donations be accepted by the hospitals with the understanding that they are in payment for the keep of any patient, although gifts may be received for the general support of the hospitals.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Commitment
by the court.

The superior courts of the state have power to commit to the hospital for the insane any person who upon being arraigned for an indictable offense is found by the jury to be insane.

Trial by jury.

The prosecuting attorney of any county wherein a person may have been acquitted of a crime because of insanity may have him brought before the superior court of that county for trial by jury as to the question of his sanity. If the jury finds that the defendant committed a crime, that he was acquitted because of insanity, and that he is insane and unsafe to be at large, he must be committed to the department for criminal insane. Either party may appeal to the supreme court as in other cases.

Discharge of
insane
criminals.
5975.

When any person committed as criminal insane claims to have recovered, he may apply to the physician in charge of the criminal insane for an examination. If the physician certifies to the warden that there is reasonable cause to believe that such person has become sane since his commitment and is a safe person to be at large, the warden must send him to prison and petition to the court that committed him, to discharge him. The prosecuting attorney of the county must resist the application at a trial by jury. Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the judgment discharging the petitioner or remitting him to custody. If the petitioner subsequently claims to have become a sane person, he may upon a certificate of probable cause by the attending physician again petition for discharge, under the same proceedings. When a criminally insane person who has been discharged again becomes insane, the prosecuting attorney of the county from which he was committed may petition for his recommitment and trial by jury in regard to his mental condition.

Any person committed to the department for criminal insane must not be discharged from the custody of the warden except upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction made after a trial and judgment of discharge.

Laws of 1915

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of control is composed of three members chosen from the two largest political parties, not more than two of whom may belong to the dominant party, and appointed by the governor for terms of six years. Each member of the board receives a salary of $5,000 a year and is obliged to give his entire time to the public institutions under its control. Board of control. Laws of 1915, ch. 31. 1.

The board has full power to manage, direct, control and govern the hospitals for the insane, but the appointment of superintendents is vested in the governor. The board has the power to recommend to the governor the removal of any superintendent and fixes the number of all subordinates and their compensation. The governor and state board each have authority to cause an expert inspection or investigation. The board reports biennially to the governor. 8. Code. 595.

The state board must take steps to cause the deportation of any alien in the state hospitals and the return of a non-resident to his own state.

Biennially a joint committee of the legislature must investigate the condition of the hospitals for the insane and report upon it. 3371.

The state board has authority to issue permits for the establishment of private hospitals for the insane, to investigate and inspect them, and revoke the permits after reasonable notice. Private institutions. 28.

b. Institutional. There are no local boards of trustees. The superintendent and his medical assistants must be physicians and graduates from reputable medical colleges. 3331.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Weston State Hospital, Weston; established 1858; 1,050 beds.

Spencer State Hospital, Spencer; established 1893; 600 beds.

Huntington State Hospital, Huntington; established 1897; 650 beds.

b. In local institutions. An overseer of the poor is appointed by the county court for each magisterial district and is responsible for the care of indigent persons who are not provided for in public institutions. Every county court may establish a county infirmary to which homeless indigent insane are admitted on the order of the overseer of the poor or the county court. The sheriff is permitted 3337.

to hold in the county jail a violent insane person provided that admission to a state hospital is refused.

3. COMMITMENT

3334. a. Persons committed. All persons who are residents of the state and have a legal settlement in any county are entitled to care and treatment in one of the state hospitals for the insane. Non-residents may, however, be admitted under contract with the board of control if there is a vacancy in any hospital. A non-resident so admitted may be discharged at any time to make room.

Complaint.
3382. b. Legal procedure in commitment. Any resident of a county may complain to the clerk of the county court of any person suspected of being insane. The clerk must then issue a warrant on which the person is brought before the county commission of lunacy, composed of the president and clerk of the county court and the prosecuting attorney. They meet at the county seat unless it appears advisable to meet at or near the residence of the insane person.

Guardian. The commission appoints a guardian ad litem to manage the case of the suspected person. Among the witnesses must be two physicians who must separately make a physical and mental examination of the patient and make out a verified certificate of their findings. If the commission decides that the person is insane, and ought to be confined in a hospital and ascertains that he is a citizen of the state, then, unless some person (to whom the commission in its discretion may deliver him) will give bond with sufficient surety to restrain and take proper care of him until he recovers, or he is delivered to the sheriff of the county, to be proceeded with according Hearing. to law, the commission must order him to be removed to the nearest hospital. The interrogatories to the witnesses and the answers must be in writing, and, together with a written statement by the commission to the fact of insanity, must be transmitted with the order of commitment. Pending a vacancy at one of the hospitals, and until the superintendent removes him, the patient is delivered to the custody of the sheriff or some relative or friend and may not be confined in any jail or lockup unless his condition is violent or dangerous. It is the duty of the superintendent of whom inquiry 3383. has been made to cause the removal of the patient to the proper hospital without delay. Soon after the patient arrives at the hospital an examining board (the superintendent and assistant physicians) must be convened, and if they concur in opinion with the commission, must register him as a patient. If the examining board rejects the patient because in their opinion he is not insane the superintendent must return him by an attendant to the sheriff of the county, whereupon the commission of lunacy must promptly reconsider and dispose of the case.

If the commission find that the person suspected is insane but a resident of another county it transmits the evidence to the sheriff who delivers the patient to his county of residence and proceedings are there taken for his commitment.

If some relative or friend will care for the patient the commission may take a bond of $500 with condition that the insane person be restrained and properly cared for till the cause of confinement ceases or the patient is again delivered to the commission. If the person is found to be harmless and incurable he may be delivered to any relative or to a friend without bond.

Relative may care for inmate.
3335.

When any person is confined in any jail as insane, the jailer must certify the fact to the circuit court of the county at the next ensuing term. The court must cause him to be examined by two competent physicians and make such provision for his maintenance and care as his situation may require.

Examination of persons confined in jails as insane.
5696.

The allowance to the jailer shall not exceed one dollar a day except in extraordinary cases and the jailer must apply once in ten days to a state hospital for the admission of a patient if the application is refused for the want of room. If a person residing in this state is suspected to be insane, the circuit court of the county of which he is an inhabitant, must on the application of any person interested and after five days' notice to the person so suspected proceed to examine into his state of mind, and, being satisfied that he is insane, appoint a committee for him. The same procedure is provided for in the case of a person residing out of the state, but having property therein, who is suspected of being insane.

3356.

Guardianship.
3359.

c. Voluntary admission. Any resident of the state in the early stages of insanity or believing himself about to become insane or believing that treatment in one of the state hospitals would be beneficial to him shall be received as a voluntary patient on a verified written application to the state board which may require the certificate of one or more physicians or other evidence. A voluntary patient may leave the hospital on five days' notice if in the judgment of the superintendent he is in fit condition and may be discharged upon the certificate of the superintendent because cured or because further treatment is unnecessary.

3382.

d. Appeal from commitment. The writ of habeas corpus must be granted by the circuit court to a person who by himself or by some one in his behalf applies by petition, showing evidence that he is detained without lawful authority, or is wrongfully denied a certificate of restoration. The superintendent shall have five days' notice of the trial and shall be represented by the attorney general. In case the court finds the patient sane he shall receive a certified copy of the order made by the court.

Habeas corpus.

3370.

e. Cost of commitment. All expenses are paid out of the county treasury.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

Hospital
attendant.
3335.

The superintendent must be notified immediately by the clerk of the county court of any commitment and if he considers the patient a proper one for admission and has room for him he sends an attendant at the expense of the hospital. If there is no room the superintendent notifies the board of control which may cause the patient to be sent to another state hospital. Any relative or friend of the insane person may be allowed by the county commission of lunacy to deliver him to the hospital without expense to the county or state.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

By the board.
3372.

The board of control has authority to transfer patients from any institution under its management to any other institution of like nature.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

Upon recovery.
3350.

When any patient in the state hospital is restored to sanity the superintendent gives him a certificate of restoration and discharges him. Any patient on parole or otherwise temporarily released may present himself to the superintendent for examination and discharge.

Applications.

Except in the case of a person charged with or convicted of crime or confined in a state hospital or a private licensed hospital the commission of lunacy must make an inquest on application for discharge of any person confined as insane and set him at liberty if they have authority to do so and find him restored to sanity.

The guardian or committee is entitled to the custody of a patient when he is not confined in a state hospital or jail.

The board of control may prescribe regulations regarding parole and discharge of patients.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

3352.

The expense of the maintenance and care of any insane person confined in a hospital must be paid out of the treasury of the hospital; and, if he is kept in jail the expense of maintenance and care must be paid out of the public treasury.

Any payments made from the county treasury may be recovered from the estate of the patient or his guardian, father, mother, husband, wife or child.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

If any person charged with or convicted of crime is found to be insane, the court must order him to be confined in one of the hospitals for the insane as soon as there is a vacancy. When such a person is restored to sanity, the board must give notice thereof to the clerk of the court by whose order he was confined, and deliver him in obedience to the proper precept.

Persons charged with or convicted of crime.
3345-3349-

If a person is found to be insane by the justice before whom he may be examined, or in a court in which he may be charged with crime, the circuit court of the county of which he is an inhabitant, must appoint a committee for him.

If a convict in a penitentiary becomes hopelessly insane, a justice must be notified and if satisfied that the convict is insane and ought to be confined, must order him committed to a hospital for the insane, unless some person will give bond to restrain and take proper care of him until the cause ceases or the patient is delivered to the sheriff of the county. In case of recovery, the board of directors of the hospital must notify the clerk of the court by order of which patient was confined in the hospital.

Laws of Wisconsin, 1917

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of control is composed of five members, one of whom must be a woman, appointed by the governor for terms of five years. The president receives $3,600 per annum, the other members $2,500 each per annum. The board has the entire management of all the state institutions. It is required to inspect each hospital at least once a month. The board acts as a commission in lunacy, with power to examine any person committed to any public or private hospital for the insane or who is restrained of his liberty by reason of alleged insanity at any place, and may order the discharge of any person who is not insane, except one held for trial on a criminal charge or confined by a court in a criminal proceeding. The board must each year file with the secretary of state a statement giving the name of every inmate in either of the state hospitals for whose support in whole or in part any county is legally chargeable, the length of time for which support is charged, and the amount due the hospital for the support of such inmate from a county. The board of control also has the duty of inspecting each county asylum at least once in three months, supervising and controlling the care of their patients, and examining plans and specifications for such asylums.

The governor must annually appoint a visiting committee of three, one from the members of the senate and two from the members of the assembly, to visit the state hospitals and report in writing to the governor.

b. Institutional. The board of control appoints for each hospital a superintendent, a matron and a steward. It fixes the number of subordinate officers and may remove any officer and employee for cause. All staple supplies for the state hospitals are purchased by the board which also passes monthly in advance on all estimates for expenditures, and plans and supervises all improvements.

Each county asylum for the care of the chronic insane is governed by a board of three trustees elected by the county board for terms of three years. The trustees are required to meet at least once in three months and to make an annual report to the county clerk. In any county maintaining both a poorhouse and a county asylum for the insane, the trustees of the latter are ex-officio superintendents of the poor, unless the county board orders otherwise. Northern Hospital for the Insane, Winnebago; established 1873; 650 beds.

Milwaukee County Hospital for Mental Diseases, Wauwatosa; established 1880; 559 beds. (A semi-state institution.)

b. In local institutions. The chronic or incurable insane are provided for in the county asylums, of which there are thirty-five in the state; the largest is the Milwaukee county asylum at Wauwatosa, with a capacity of 835 beds. Any county board may with the consent of the state board of control establish an asylum for the care of the chronic insane. Plans of buildings must be approved by the state board of control. Two or more counties may unite in maintaining an asylum.

A county board may erect a hospital for insane patients who are affected by pulmonary tuberculosis in connection with a county asylum for the chronic insane, with the consent of the board of control.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. All insane residents of the state, not idiots, except those who are incurably insane, are entitled to admission to the state hospitals or if from Milwaukee county to the hospital of that county. Chronic insane are admitted to the county asylums for this class.

Distribution of inmates.
584.

Patients are admitted to the state hospitals from the several counties in the ratio of population, but each county is entitled to the admission of at least two if desired. An insane person whose residence can not be ascertained must be received by the superintendent as a patient from the state at large, and not be charged to the county as one of the number to which it is entitled. But such person must be charged to the proper county when his residence is ascertained.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Application may be made in behalf of a person supposed to be insane by any three respectable citizens to the judge of the county court for a judicial inquiry as to his mental condition and for an order of commitment to some hospital or asylum for the insane. The judge must appoint two competent and disinterested physicians to examine the person. They must be graduates of a legally incorporated medical school or licensed to practice medicine in the state, and must have had at least two years' practice or one year's experience as physicians in an insane hospital, and be registered by the county judge as qualified. Before making an examination, which may be held in the presence of the judge, the physicians must, if it seems expedient, notify the person to be examined that application has been made for an inquiry into his mental condition, but may withhold notice and the names of the applicants if it seems best, in which case they must state their reasons to the judge. The sworn report of the physicians must consist of answers to questions prescribed by law and are to be made in each case, whether the question of insanity is tried before a jury or otherwise, and must be forwarded with the commitment papers to the hospital superintendent. If the notice provided for was not given to the person supposed to be insane, the judge may appoint a time and place for hearing the application, and must serve such notice. If notice is ordered, and no jury trial requested, the judge may proceed at the time and place specified in the notice, or if no notice is ordered then after receiving the report of the physicians, to make such further investigation of the case as may seem to him necessary. If satisfied that the person is insane, he may order his commitment to the hospital or asylum for the insane of the district to which the county belongs. If the judge thinks the interest of the person alleged to be insane requires it, he may appoint a guardian ad litem, the expenses to be paid by the county in which the proceedings were held. If demanded by the person alleged to be insane or by any one acting in his behalf before or after commitment, the judge must summon a jury to try the case in the presence of the person supposed to be insane and his counsel and immediate friends and the medical witnesses. All other persons are excluded.

585b.

Order of admission.
585c.

If the jury or judge find that the person alleged to be insane is a fit subject to be sent to a hospital or asylum, the judge must order him committed to either state hospital. If he is a resident of a county having an asylum for the chronic insane, and the judge is satisfied that the insanity of the person has become chronic, he may commit him to such asylum.

District courts have authority to commit the insane.

A district court in any county, which is a court of record, has the same powers in respect to examination of persons alleged to be insane and their commitment as the county courts.

Confinement of patient prior to commitment.
586.

On receipt of an application for the commitment of a person alleged to be insane or the report of physicians, the judge may require the sheriff to confine him in some specified place until further proceedings can be had. The judge may also order the detention of any person whose sanity is being investigated for proper medical observation. But no person may be confined in a jail or other prison for confinement of criminals or any poorhouse, unless it appears to the judge that such confinement is essential to the safety of the person or that of the public, and the period of confinement must not exceed ten days, unless otherwise ordered by the judge. The county board of any county is authorized to provide suitable buildings for the purpose of temporary detention of the alleged insane.

c. Voluntary admission. A person who may be insane or suffering from mental disorder, may, upon his written application stating his mental condition, supported by the certificate of at least two physicians possessing the qualifications prescribed by law, based upon personal examination of him, be admitted as a voluntary patient to any public hospital for the insane, in the discretion of the superintendent. A person, so admitted to either of the state hospitals, if not indigent, must pay such sum for his maintenance as the state board of control may direct, and no charge for his maintenance may be made against any county; if so admitted to any other public institution for the insane, if not indigent, the trustees thereof fix the compensation to be paid. Voluntary patients have the right to leave the hospital at any time if in the judgment of the superintendent they are in fit condition, on giving five days' notice of their desire to do so.

d. Appeal from commitment. On his own verified petition or that of his guardian or some relative or friend, a person adjudged insane or detained as such, may have a re-trial or re-examination as to his sanity before the judge of the circuit court or county court or any other court of record in the county in which he resides or was adjudged insane. The judge receiving the petition must order two qualified physicians (sec. 585) to examine him and report, fix the time and place of examination and give reasonable notice to the guardian of the person to be examined, and to the superintendent of the hospital or asylum in which he may be detained, all of whom may appear and offer testimony at the examination. If the physicians report the person insane, and the judge is satisfied with the correctness of it, and no demand for a jury trial is made, a judgment to that effect must be entered. If the case is tried by jury and the jury disagree, it must be discharged and another jury may be impanelled. If the jury find the person sane, the judge must order his discharge, or, if insane, order him returned to the hospital or the asylum where he may be detained. Or if the person is on parole or leave of absence, he must be allowed to remain at large unless the judge is satisfied that it will be unsafe, in which case he may order his commitment to a hospital. In case no jury is demanded, the state board of control, acting as a commission in lunacy, may determine the sanity or insanity of a person committed to either of the state hospitals for the insane, whether he is an actual inmate thereof or at large on parole, or committed to any other hospital or asylum. Its determination has the same force as one made by a judge; or the board may, if it has reason to doubt the insanity of the person named, request the proper judge to make due inquiry. The foregoing provisions do not apply to any person awaiting trial on a charge of crime who is committed to any asylum or sentenced to confinement in the state prison or state reformatory, who has been lawfully adjudged insane and been transferred to either of those institutions or to any asylum, until the expiration of the term for which he was sentenced to imprisonment.

Habeas corpus.
595.

All persons confined in either state hospital, except those charged with or convicted of crime, are entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and the question of insanity must be determined by the court or judge issuing it. The decision that the person is insane is no bar to the issuance of a writ a second time if it is claimed that the person has been restored to reason.

585d.

e. Cost of commitment. All expense of the proceedings, from the presentation of the application to the actual commitment or discharge of an insane person, whether he is a resident or non-resident of the county in which the proceedings are had, are paid by the county from which he is committed. If any county is chargeable with some portion of the expense of maintaining the person committed, the county must pay the expense of the commitment.

If the insane person is a resident of any other county in the state than the one from which he was committed, the county in which he resides must reimburse the county from which he was committed all expenses of the examination and commitment.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The warrant of the court to take a person to a hospital may be executed by a relative or friend of the patient if competent, otherwise by the sheriff. Every female over ten years of age must be accompanied by a competent female attendant.

Attendants.
601.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

604b.

All inmates of the state institutions for the insane belonging to the county and held as chronic or incurable may be transferred to county asylums, as well as all other persons belonging to or residing in the county, who have been adjudged insane, and may be properly confined in such an asylum. Whenever any insane person committed to any asylum is found to be acutely insane, and to require permanent or special treatment, he may be transferred to one of the state hospitals, and committed to it.

The board of control may transfer patients from one hospital or asylum to another; and, if to the benefit of the patients in either of the state hospitals, may remove therefrom any chronic insane person not chargeable to any county to some county asylum. By the board.
599.

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

The superintendents of the state hospitals and of the Milwaukee county hospital may permit any inmate to go at large on parole, when in their opinion it is safe and proper to do so. If within two years it becomes unsafe to allow such person to remain at large any longer, the superintendent must require his return to the hospital, unless he has been adjudged sane by competent authority. At the expiration of two years, the presumption of insanity against such person ceases, and until a new adjudication to the contrary, it must be regarded as though his sanity had been established by a judicial examination. By the superintendent.
587.

The superintendent of any county asylum may, upon the written recommendation of the visiting physician, permit any of its inmates leave of absence for such time and under such conditions as he may direct.

Incurable and harmless patients must be discharged whenever it is necessary to make room for recent or more hopeful cases, as may be ordered by the state board of control. Discharge of incurables.
596.

If the relatives or friends of any patient ask his discharge, except the criminal insane, before such person has recovered from insanity, the state board of control may require a bond, conditioned for his safe-keeping. Bond required.
596.

7. COST OF MAINTENANCE

All insane persons residents of the state admitted to state hospitals are maintained at the expense of the state; but the county in which the patient resided before being brought to the hospital must pay for all necessary clothing and a fixed sum per week for the patient's support. Relatives, friends or guardians of a patient may pay for his maintenance and provide him with special care or special attendants upon payment in advance of the expenses. When neither the state nor the county is properly accountable for the support of a patient in either hospital, the state board of control must ascertain the residence of the patient and secure his removal to it, if practicable; provided, it can be done at a cost not exceeding $100. Paid by the state.

594.

Reimbursement by state.
604d.

604e.

Each county caring for its own chronic insane in an asylum is entitled to receive a stated sum per week for each person cared for. But no county is entitled to any compensation for the care of any person who has not been adjudged insane and properly committed, nor for the care of any insane person whose support is not properly a public charge.

585.

In no case may payment be made by the state toward the maintenance of a patient in a county asylum until the expiration of five days after the state board of control has received copies of the commitment papers together with a certificate of the judge stating the reasons for sending such persons to the county asylum instead of to the hospital.

The property and estate of any insane patient in a state hospital or county asylum, or kept by any county at its charge, and of a deceased patient of a hospital or asylum, are liable for his continuing and past support and maintenance; and upon failure of the person having custody of such property or estate to pay for the support of the patient, the state board of control, the board of trustees of the asylum or the board of the county furnishing the patient's support may apply to the proper county judge to compel payment.

584a.

When a person is brought before the county judge for examination for whose support, in whole or in part, any county may be chargeable, he must give due notice of the hearing to the district attorney of the county supposed to be chargeable and must take testimony showing the actual and legal residence of such person, his general financial ability, and in case the testimony does not disclose property sufficient to save the county from the expense of his support, then the general financial ability and residence of any person chargeable with his support.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons charged with crime.
596.

The courts of record in the state may commit for safe-keeping or treatment to the hospitals for the insane any person charged with or convicted of any crime punishable by confinement in the state prison, and awaiting hearing, trial, conviction or sentence on account of the alleged insanity at the time of the commission of such crime or at any time afterwards and prior to sentence.

Jury trial.
Laws of 1917,
ch. 620.

When any person is indicted or informed against for any offense and it is claimed before trial that he at the time of the commission of the offense was insane and not responsible for his acts, the court must order the question tried and determined by the jury. If the jury finds that the person was insane or that there was reasonable doubt of his sanity at the time of the commission of the alleged offense, they must return a verdict of not guilty because insane.

The court must thereupon commit him to one of the state hospitals for the insane, to be detained and treated until he can be discharged according to law. A re-examination of his sanity may be had as in the case of other patients, but no person thus committed may be discharged unless the magistrate or the jury passing upon his sanity, in addition to finding him sane, also find that he is not likely to have such a recurrence of insanity as would result in acts which, but for insanity, would constitute crimes.

The board of control, acting as a commission in lunacy, may adjudge any prisoner in the state prison, in any county jail or in the Milwaukee house of correction to be insane and may, with the approval of the governor remove him to the state hospital for the criminal insane. If a prisoner thus removed recovers his reason before the expiration of his sentence, he must, by order of the board, be returned to the prison from whence he was taken.

Authority:

Compiled Statutes of Wyoming, 1910

I. ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

a. General. The state board of charities and reform is composed of the governor, the secretary of state, the state treasurer, the state auditor and the state superintendent of public instruction. The board has general supervision and control of all state charitable, reformatory and penal institutions. One or more of the members must personally inspect all state institution buildings at least once every year.

The board directs the general management of the state institutions, is responsible for the proper disbursement of all funds appropriated for their maintenance, appoints all the officers and prescribes their duties and compensation.

The secretary of the board makes a biennial report to the governor.

b. Institutional. There is no local board of trustees. The superintendent of the hospital for the insane, appointed by the state board and subject to removal by it, must be a graduate in medicine, and must keep a full account of all his doings, and of the operations of the institution, submitting a monthly report to the state board. He employs all necessary help needed at the hospital, subject to the approval of the state board.

2. CARE

a. In state institutions.

Wyoming State Hospital for the Insane, Evanston; established 1889; 225 beds.

3. COMMITMENT

a. Persons committed. Residents of the state who become insane are entitled to admission to the state hospital. Insane persons who have not acquired a legal residence must be returned by the state board of charities and reform, with the consent of the governor, either before or after admission to the state hospital, to the place of their residence, at the expense of the county from which they were committed.

Patients, whose friends will pay for them, or who have property to pay their expenses, are admitted to the state hospital on terms prescribed by the state board.

b. Legal procedure in commitment. Upon verified petition in prescribed form of any relative or friend or other person to the district court or a judge thereof, that a person is insane, or incompetent to manage his property, the court must notify the supposed insane or incompetent person of the time and place of hearing the case and require his presence.

The determination of the insanity or incompetency of any person is by a jury of six men and is conducted as a civil action. Jury trial.
453.

If the jury returns a verdict that the person tried is insane, the county physician, or some reputable physician appointed by the court must furnish a lunacy statement in prescribed form, containing answers to the questions prescribed and must return it to the clerk of the district court, within three days after the finding of the jury in such proceedings. 457.

The jury, in addition to finding upon the question of the sanity of a person, must find the value of his estate, if any, or whether he is a pauper. If he has estate, the judge, commissioner or clerk presiding over the proceedings must appoint a guardian to take charge of his estate in the manner provided in relation to guardianship. 454.

The committing judge must in addition to the order of commitment and the statement in lunacy, issue a certificate showing the name, age, sex, nativity, and occupation of the person committed and his place of residence. The clerk of the court must send a certified copy of the verdict and the physician's lunacy statement, together with the commitment warrant to the superintendent of the hospital at the time of commitment. 460.
461.

If the insane person sent to the hospital is a pauper, the clerk of the court must provide him with the necessary clothing at the county's expense. 462.

c. Voluntary admission.

d. Appeal from commitment. Persons restrained of their liberty are entitled to the writ of habeas corpus, upon sworn petition to the supreme or district court, or by any judge of either of those courts. Habeas corpus.
6326.
6328.

e. Cost of commitment. The expense of the proceedings to determine the question of a person's insanity is a charge against his estate. If he has none, the expense is borne by the county in which the proceeding is had. If the jury declares the person to be sane, then the one making the complaint, except a county officer, must pay the expense of the proceeding. Paid by the county of parties not able.
473.

The state pays all expenses of returning recovered patients, and of patients found not to be insane, to their respective homes or the county from which they were committed. 472.

4. CONVEYING PATIENTS TO THE HOSPITAL

The superintendent of the hospital for the insane when notified by the county clerk, must, under rules provided by the state board, Hospital attendant.
464.

have the insane person conducted to the hospital at the expense of the state.

5. TRANSFER OF PATIENTS

6. PAROLE AND DISCHARGE OF PATIENTS

27. COST OF MAINTENANCE

Paid by the state.
475.

Insane poor persons are supported at the hospital by the state. The guardian of an insane person admitted to the hospital must pay for his support out of the estate of such ward.

476.

Appropriations out of the county treasury for the care of any insane person may be recovered from any person who is bound to provide for an insane person, if he has sufficient ability to pay.

8. CRIMINAL INSANE

Persons accused or convicted of crime.
467.

The state board of charities and reform must provide for the care and custody of all persons declared insane after legal inquiry has been made who are accused of, or convicted of crime, at the state hospital, or at a private institution within or without the state.

Hearing.

When a person accused of or convicted of crime, who is confined in any penitentiary, county jail or other place of confinement, awaiting trial, or on sentence, is of unsound mind, the officer having him in charge must and any citizen of the state may, make complaint, and the question of the sanity of the person must be tried and determined as provided by law in the case of other persons of unsound mind.

470.

If found insane, such person must at once be taken to the place of treatment prescribed by the state board.

471.

When a criminal insane person recovers his reason, he must be returned to the penitentiary, the county jail or other place of imprisonment where he was previously confined, to serve out the remaining term of imprisonment if any.

MENTAL HYGIENE aims to bring dependable information to everyone whose interest or whose work brings him into contact with mental problems. Authoritative original communications and reviews of important books, noteworthy articles in periodicals out of convenient reach of the general public, reports of surveys, special investigations, and new methods of prevention or treatment in the broad field of mental hygiene and psychopathology are presented and discussed in as non-technical a way as possible. Physicians, lawyers, educators, clergymen, public officials, students of social problems—in fact, all thoughtful readers—will find the magazine of especial interest.

During the war, special articles dealing with the nervous and mental disorders of soldiers are being published in MENTAL HYGIENE by medical officers of the American, Canadian, and English Armies. Furthermore, the current publications of the countries at war are being searched, and all articles of value and authority bearing on this subject are either abstracted or republished in full.

Subscription: Two dollars a year; fifty cents a single copy. Correspondence should be addressed and checks made payable to "Mental Hygiene," or to The National Committee for Mental Hygiene, Inc., 50 Union Square, New York City.
